Farm Relief And Currency Inflation Bill Is Passed

CONGRESS IN FINAL MOVE LATE TODAY

Awaits Only Requisite Signatures to Become Law; Mortgages Are Reduced

PRICE FIXING IS OUT

Roosevelt Will Resort to Inflation Only If He Finds It Is Necessary

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(UP)—The administration's unprecedented currency inflation, farm relief and mortgage reduction bill received the final approval of congress today and awaits only the requisite signatures to become law.

President Roosevelt assured the nation in an address last Sunday evening he would resort to inflation "when, as and if necessary."

The bill is in three sections. Its currency inflation and farm relief provisions are discretionary with the president but the third section providing for scaling down of the farm mortgage debt must become effective.

Final approval came today after the senate receded from the so-called Simpson price fixing amendment which would have authorized the secretary of agriculture to guarantee fixed prices to farmers for that portion of their product consumed in the domestic market.

Mr. Roosevelt objected to that authority and at his bidding the house yesterday refused to accept the senate price fixing amendment.

Accepts Amendment

The Thomas currency inflation amendment was accepted by the house without change. Senator Thomas, Dem., Okla., predicted when inflation was approved the farm relief features of the bill never would be utilized because inflation would remedy the ills of agriculture.

The currency inflation section of the completed measure gives the president authority to bring about credit expansion up to $3,000,000,000, issue new money to the same amount, alter the gold content of the dollar, order free coinage of silver, and accept $200,000,000 in silver in foreign debt payments.

MORRIS LAVINE IS FREED FROM JAIL

LOS ANGELES, May 10.—(UP)—Morris Lavine, former Los Angeles newspaperman, who was convicted of attempting to extort $75,000 from the late Charles Crawford under threat of exposure of his purported connection with illegal Julian petroleum transactions, was released from the county jail early today.

Lavine was sentenced to serve one year on the conviction, but with time off for good behavior, plus eight days more granted him in a court decision, he served less than ten months.

Miss Leontine Johnson, convicted with Lavine, finished her county jail sentence several weeks ago.

Crawford, well known politician, later was shot and killed by David H. Clark, young attorney, who successfully pleaded self defense.

35 KILLED IN TORNADO TODAY IN TENNESSEE

Southern Kentucky Also is Struck; More Than 150 Persons Injured

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 10.—(UP)—A tornado that struck in Southern Kentucky and North Central Tennessee last night and today killed at least 35 persons and injured 150 more, reports to Red Cross headquarters here stated.

Reports here listed casualties as follows: Beaty Swamp, Tenn., 25 dead and 75 injured; Tompkinsville, Ky., eight dead and 30 injured, and Lebanon, Tenn., two dead and ten injured.

Reports which could not be confirmed said others were killed at Byrdstown, Jamestown, Eastport and Jacksboro, Tenn.

Reports here stated the small town of Beaty Swamp, six miles southwest of Livingston, was "wiped out". Every building in the town was demolished by the tornado that struck shortly after midnight.

The dead at Beaty Swamp were listed as: Euna Cole, wife and seven children; Shirley White, his wife and child; Mrs. G. W. Reecer, Edgar Hopkins, Ray Regan, Hughey Hopkins, Hershall Phillips and Mill Allred.

Ed James, negro, and his wife were killed at Lebanon. Tompkinsville listed the dead there as Mr. and Mrs. Roy Redford, Mrs. Travis Tyree and her three children, Clara Hamilton, negro, and William Bailey, negro.

Unconfirmed reports from many other towns in the storm area said many others were killed and injured. Bethsaida, Tenn., was reported hard hit and an entirely unconfirmed report from Byfdstown said 50 were killed there.

NEW SUSPECT HELD IN KIDNAPING CASE

HARWICH, Mass., May 10. —(UP)—A new suspect in the Peggy McMath kidnaping was to be questioned today by Police Chief E. E. Hall and there were indications that a third Cape Cod resident might join Kenneth and Cyril Buck as defendants when the case was brought to trial.

Kenneth Buck, in a new statement repudiating previous charges that he was forced by threats to take part in the kidnaping, indicated that a third man in addition to him and his brother had "guilty knowledge" of the crime. He also said he had enlisted the aid of two more men in seeking a place to hide Peggy. He told these two, however, that he wanted storage space for 800 cases of liquor, and police were convinced that they had no reason to suspect that he planned a kidnaping. No action was planned against them.

HARBIN EDITOR IS ORDERED DEPORTED

HARBIN, Manchuria, May 10.—(UP)—E. Lenox Simpson, editor of the Harbin Herald, was ordered deported today for publishing asserted communist propaganda and articles hostile to the Manchoukou government.

The order was issued through British Consul General Garstin who was asked to make Simpson leave the country within a week.

Foreign Commissioner Shih Lu-Pen cited a series of unfriendly articles which have appeared in the Herald recently. He told Garstin that Simpson had persisted in his editorial attacks despite warnings.

At the same time it was revealed that the Harbin correspondent of the Shanghai North China Daily News also had been deported on similar charges.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET UP ONE TO FIVE POINTS TODAY

NEW YORK, May 10.—(UP)—Stocks gained up to 5 points today as the market swept forward to catch up with improvement in America's leading industries.

The dollar was down slightly but traders forgot inflation plans and bought stocks on the basis of more tangible statistics, namely a rise of ½ of 1 per cent over 1932 in electricity output for the week ended May 6, the first gain in 151 weeks; a gain of 2 points in steel operations, car loadings totals indicating the week's aggregate would be near 1932; a rise of 23,572 tons in U. S. Steel unfilled tonnage for April; step-up in automobile production.

The market was given a boost near the close by final approval of the farm bill with its inflation rider. Wheat closed up 11-4 to 15-8 cents a bushel; corn up 13-8 to 21-8 cents; and rye 1-2 to 11-8 cents. Cotton, rubber, and cocoa advanced. Sugar met profit-taking.

Steel shares were in demand. U. S. Steel approached its 1933 high of 49 7-8. New tops for the year were made by Republic preferred, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, National Steel, Otis Steel issues, and A. M. Byers.

New highs were made by American Hide & Leather issues, Endicott Johnson issues, Florsheim A, Melville Shoe and U. S. Leath-

HITLER SEIZES ALL SOCIALIST PARTY'S FUNDS

Drastic Confiscation Order Destroys Last Vestige of Marxist Opposition

BERLIN, May 10.—(UP)—The Nazi government confiscated funds of the Socialist party and all its affiliated organizations today, a move regarded as one of the most important steps in the second phase of the Hitler "revolution." This phase is the eradication of Marxism in Germany.

The drastic confiscation order destroyed the last vestige of Marxism opposition to the Nazi regime outside the prison camps, where hundreds of Communists and Socialists are held in "protective custody."

It applied to the Socialist party itself, the Reichsbanner, a uniformed "army" of Socialists somewhat similar to the Nazi storm troops, and the Socialist press, number 135 newspapers.

In the March elections the Socialist party polled 7,100,000 votes. The party membership is estimated at 1,000,000 and the membership of the Reichsbanner at 250,000. The funds of the organizations were collected, however, when they were much stronger.

The confiscation followed a long muck raking campaign which was expected to bring the hearty support of the working classes for the government's action. The campaign assured the leaders and officials of the party, its unions, and banks, of squandering the money of the working people. It established motivation for confiscation which was to save the workers' funds from further squandering.

MISSING CRUISER IS SAFE AT AVALON

SAN PEDRO, May 10—(UP)—The cabin cruiser First Adventure, with four persons aboard, has made port safely at Avalon, Catalina Island, the coast guard was advised today.

The craft left San Diego early yesterday, and when heavy seas and gales retarded its progress, it changed its course. Cutters had been sent to locate the craft when the Avalon harbor master reported its safe arrival.

GANDHI REPORTED WEAKENING FAST

POONA, India, May 10.—(UP)—The Mahatma Gandhi was weak and ill today on the third day of his "purification" fast.

The enfeebled leader of the fight for Indian independence had to be carried on a stretcher when moved from inside the private villa, where he is staying, to the terrace.

Doctors were concerned increasingly over his condition and held grave fears he would be unable to survive a fast of three weeks, the goal he has set.

BELATED spring rains drenched Orange county late last night and early today, adding slightly to the season's waterfall, but still leaving last year's totals far ahead of the totals for this year

The rain continued through the morning in most places in Orange county, but there was a break in the clouds at noon indicating that the rain was shortlived

Rains this late in the spring are uncommon, recalling today that late May rains of 1927 which caused floods when the Santa Ana river and the Santiago creek rushed out of their banks Several houses were washed away on Roe Drive at the time

The heaviest rainfall in the past 24 hours was recorded at Irvine, where 51 inches was recorded at the Irvine home ranch up to 8 a. m. today. At San Clemente and at Placentia only traces of rain was found while Santa Ana failed to get as much rainfall as did many other parts of the county. The fall here was .20 inches up to 8 a. m. today.

NATIONAL FARMERS ASKED TO STRIKE

DES MOINES, Ia., May 10.—(UP)—The National Farmers Holiday association appealed today to every planter and cattleman in the country to join the strike it has called for May 13, ignoring reported plans of President Roosevelt to provide emergency relief to avert the embargo.

Milo Reno, militant head of the Holiday association, said he was not prepared to comment immediately on President Roosevelt's announcement that he would appeal for a moratorium on mortgage foreclosures until his agricultural program started functioning.

Previously Reno had said he believed the strike could be averted if congress complied with one of the association's five demands—guarantee of production costs and a reasonable profit for farmers.

Resentment Voiced Over Early Date

Large Numbers Will Be Unable to Register for Beer Election

AROUSED OVER the action of the city council in setting the election on the sale of alcoholic liquor in Santa Ana ahead to June 8, the action of the board was strongly censured at a meeting of the Santa Ana Dry association last night in the Spurgeon Memorial church.

The date for the election was set Monday night by the city council after several weeks of discussion and the date is two or three weeks ahead of any plans the council had made previously. Last week council members had virtually agreed to hold the election on June 22, it was announced by City Attorney Clyde Downing.

This later date would have given dry workers time to contact voters and to urge them to register for the election, it was pointed out last night by the Rev. C. D. Hicks, president of the association.

As the case now stands, a large number of voters will not be able to vote on the question, because the state law requires that a voter must register not less than 40 days before the date of the election. Many local voters, because of removal or other reasons, must re-register to be eligible to vote. They are now within the 40-day limit of the law, since the election is but 28 days ahead. Many people who have registered within the last few days to vote at the election now find themselves disfranchised.

Many Move

Many more people have moved this year than usual, the Rev. Hicks pointed out. "I cannot understand the action of city council," he said. "I am sporting enough to give every voter a chance to express his wish on whether or not they want alcoholic beverages in Santa Ana,

SECONDARY HIGHWAY BILL IS APPROVED

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 10. —(UP)—Senate approval and the governor's signature were all that was needed today to incorporate into the secondary state highway system approximately 6600 miles of county roads in practically every California county.

The measure was approved last night by the senate roads and highways committee. It provides this huge mileage of county roads will be taken from county jurisdiction and maintained by the state, thus relieving the former of a heavy burden of expense.

Inserted into the Hoffman bill were amendments which had already been added to a similar senate bill, introduced by Senator Arthur Breed.

Passage of the measure in the upper house is contingent on approval of another measure permitting the cities an additional quarter of a cent from the gas tax fund.

COLLEGE PROFESSOR TO CONTROL WHEAT

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(UP)—The man who is expected soon to have virtual supervision over the economic destiny of millions of wheat farmers is a college professor who, although he always has been close to the soil, has a heritage of artistic accomplishment.

Dr. Milburn Lincoln Wilson of Montana state college is a tinkerer with ideas as well as with farm machinery.

He is expected to be named temporary wheat administrator under terms of the farm relief act now approaching final enactment. He comes to the position with a broad background of practical experience.

2000 VETERANS ARRIVE TODAY IN WASHINGTON

Pitch Tents and Begin Registration of Advance Bonus Marchers

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(UP)—The 1933 bonus army prepared to pitch its tents near the capitol today as an advance contingent of 2000 World war veterans was reported to have arrived.

This figure was announced by police as its count of demonstrating veterans in the District of Columbia. Hundreds more were reported arriving, causing an upward revision of the estimate of 8500 previously set as the probable size of the convention.

Near the scene of last year's bonus disturbance on Pennsylvania avenue, soldiers were setting up an army tent to register arrivals. Work was under the supervision of Capt. H. H. Chaddick of the veterans' administration. He said the veterans registering at the headquarters would be moved to Fort Hunt, Va., 10 miles down the Potomac, this afternoon.

The registration will be handled by Maurice Miller, Chicago, Ill., who brought a contingent of 200 Chicagoans. He reported 600 more on the way.

At Fort Hunt an infantry company set up 200 new army tents to take care of housing.

Harold Foulkrod, a leader in last year's bonus expedition, was at the head of a band of 100 who trudged into the city at midmorning.

These veterans declared they would have nothing to do with the march sponsored by the veterans' liaison committee and would refuse to go to the camp being prepared by the government at Fort Hunt, Va., 11 miles down the Potomac.

Police were deployed through the city to direct new arrivals to Fort Hunt.

A group of 50 veterans from Baltimore, Md., set up a flag in a vacant lot back of the house office building. John Newlin, leader, said the men planned to camp there.

The Fort Hunt contingent was "communistic" he said.

Most of the men had walked the 50 miles from Baltimore. On arrival they sat down and pulled off their shoes and socks to rub their chafed feet in the damp grass.

DEPUTIES' BADGES SAFE FROM SOLONS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 10.—(UP)—California's thousands of non-salaried deputy sheriffs and assistant fire chiefs can rest easily again. Their beloved badges are safe.

Two measures, by Assemblyman William Hornblower, San Francisco, which would have prohibited issuance and wearing of such badges except by duly constituted and paid authorities, were tabled by the senate municipal corporations committee.

"There are 10,000 deputy sheriffs badges out in Los Angeles county alone, and I can see why Aimee Semple McPherson should be an assistant fire chief," Hornblower said in explaining the bills.

STATE BALLOT WILL BE HELD LATE IN JUNE

Nine Proposals Will Come Before People; Legislature Sets Date

SACRAMENTO, May 10.—(UP)—California's electorate will be called upon to approve or disapprove nine proposals June 27 at one of the most important special elections in the state's history.

The date and content of the ballot was decided late yesterday at free conference of both houses. The following measures will be submitted:

1—Repeal of the 18th amendment.

2—Legalizing pari-mutuel horse race betting (providing the proposed constitutional amendment is passed by the senate).

3—The Riley-Stewart tax revision plan.

4—Providing for reassessment of property in the earthquake area of Los Angeles and Orange counties.

5—A bond issue of $55,000,000 for refinancing outstanding irrigation district bond issues.

6—A $20,000,000 unemployment relief bond issue.

7—Exempting non-profit schools from taxation.

8—Permitting boards of supervisors to fix salaries of county officers.

9—Providing all bills approved by the governor shall become effective 90 days after May 12.

MEXICAN PAINTER OF MURALS QUITS

NEW YORK, May 10.—(UP)—Diego Rivera, foremost Mexican painter of murals, said today he would permit his work at Rockefeller center to be destroyed rather than compromise with "a small group of persons acting for commercial purposes."

The action of Nelson A. Rockefeller, grandson of the oil king, and the Radio City management in calling Rivera down from his scaffold and demanding obliteration of a painting of Lenin and the substitution of an "unknown face" aroused Rivera to what he himself termed a "fighting mood." He rejected their demand.

OGDEN MILLS BUYS INTEREST IN ROAD

CARSON CITY, Nev., May 10.—(UP)—Purchase of controlling interest in the Virginia & Truckee railroad which his grandfather built after the Civil war was announced today in behalf of Ogden L. Mills, late secretary of the treasury.

The road operates from Reno to Virginia City, once known as the "billion dollar town." A rich gold and silver strike was made recently on the railroad property.

Mills inspected the road several weeks ago. Former President Hoover was with him.

NEW CRISIS REACHED

Bombing of Defenseless Towns During Week is Cause for Latest Move

SUNCION, Paraguay, May 10. —(UP)—Paraguay declared war on Bolivia today.

It was the first formal declaration of war since Guatemala declared war on the Central Powers in 1918.

The efforts of the league of nations and the moral force of the Kellogg pact hitherto have kept nations from declaring war, despite the outbreak of hostilities, such as between Japan and China, Colombia and Peru, Greece and Turkey and similar incidents.

The warfare between Paraguay and Bolivia has been in progress for nearly a year, since June 15 last, and has been of a most sanguinary nature, fought with every device of modern war, including airplanes, tanks, artillery and machine guns. Casualties have numbered many thousands, the number never having been accurately estimated, although almost certainly over 20,000.

Nineteen nations of the North American hemisprere warned the two belligerents last August that they would not recognize territorial gains won by force of arms.

Paraguay, which took the formal step of war today, is an adherent of the Kellogg pact, which binds nations not to resort to war as an instrument of national policy.

The president signed the decree declaring war under special powers recently voted by congress.

SALES OF NEW CARS IN STATE INCREASE

LOS ANGELES, May 10.—The first time such a thing has occurred since February, 1930, registrations of new passenger cars in the state of California last month exceeded the total for the corresponding month of the previous year. The April total was 7599, a gain of 22.2 per cent over April, 1932, and the highest total for any month since October, 1931, except June, 1932, when the Ford Eight was introduced.

April continued the uptrend which has been apparent this year by gaining 28.6 per cent over March. This gain was fairly evenly distributed among all price classes.

In the first four months of this year, new truck registrations in the State totaled 2844, a decline of 26.0 per cent as compared with the corresponding period of last year. The principal gain was scored by White, with 97.3 per cent.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(To the Editor of he Register:) The Senate's not in session today so the country got a break. Everybody down here feeling mighty fine since the President's speech. Talked to a lot of what used to be old line Republicans, why they are the most rabid Democrats we got now. You know I don't believe there is a thing that this man Roosevelt wouldn't put over if he was a mind to, he is so strong with the people, and so convincing over the radio, that if he ever got in a fight with Congress, all he would have to do is take it to the people, via the air, and he would lick any of 'em.

Yours,

WILL ROGERS.

MISSING CRUISER IS SAFE AT AVALON

SAN PEDRO, May 10—(UP)—The cabin cruiser First Adventure, with four persons aboard, has made port safely at Avalon, Catalina Island, the coast guard was advised today.

The craft left San Diego early yesterday, and when heavy seas and gales retarded its progress, it changed its course. Cutters had been sent to locate the craft when the Avalon harbor master reported its safe arrival.

GANDHI REPORTED WEAKENING FAST

POONA, India, May 10.—(UP)—The Mahatma Gandhi was weak and ill today on the third day of his "purification" fast.

The enfeebled leader of the fight for Indian independence had to be carried on a stretcher when moved from inside the private villa, where he is staying, to the terrace.

Doctors were concerned increasingly over his condition and held grave fears he would be unable to survive a fast of three weeks, the goal he has set.

BELATED spring rains drenched Orange county late last night and early today, adding slightly to the season's waterfall, but still leaving last year's totals far ahead of the totals for this year

The rain continued through the morning in most places in Orange county, but there was a break in the clouds at noon indicating that the rain was shortlived

Rains this late in the spring are uncommon, recalling today that late May rains of 1927 which caused floods when the Santa Ana river and the Santiago creek rushed out of their banks Several houses were washed away on Roe Drive at the time

The heaviest rainfall in the past 24 hours was recorded at Irvine, where 51 inches was recorded at the Irvine home ranch up to 5 a. m. today. At San Clemente and at Placentia only traces of rain was found while Santa Ana failed to get as much rainfall as did many other parts of the county. The fall here was .20 inches up to 8 a. m. today.

NATIONAL FARMERS ASKED TO STRIKE

DES MOINES, Ia., May 10.—(UP)—The National Farmers Holiday association appealed today to every planter and cattleman in the country to join the strike it has called for May 13, ignoring reported plans of President Roosevelt to provide emergency relief to avert the embargo.

Milo Reno, militant head of the Holiday association, said he was not prepared to comment immediately on President Roosevelt's announcement that he would appeal for a moratorium on mortgage foreclosures until his agricultural program started functioning.

Previously Reno had said he believed the strike could be averted if congress complied with one of the association's five demands—guarantee of production costs and a reasonable profit for farmers.

Resentment Voiced Over Early Date

Large Numbers Will Be Unable to Register for Beer Election

AROUSED OVER the action of the city council in setting the election on the sale of alcoholic liquor in Santa Ana ahead to June 8, the action of the board was strongly censured at a meeting of the Santa Ana Dry association last night in the Spurgeon Memorial church.

The date for the election was set Monday night by the city council after several weeks of discussion and the date is two or three weeks ahead of any plans the council had made previously. Last week council members had virtually agreed to hold the election on June 22, it was announced by City Attorney Clyde Downing.

This later date would have given dry workers time to contact voters and to urge them to register for the election, it was pointed out last night by the Rev. C. D. Hicks, president of the association.

As the case now stands, a large number of voters will not be able to vote on the question, because the state law requires that a voter must register not less than 40 days before the date of the election. Many local voters, because of removal or other reasons, must re-register to be eligible to vote. They are now within the 40-day limit of the law, since the election is but 28 days ahead. Many people who have registered within the last few days to vote at the election now find themselves disfranchised.

Many Move

Many more people have moved this year than usual, the Rev. Hicks pointed out. "I cannot understand the action of city council," he said. "I am sporting enough to give every voter a chance to express his wish on whether or not they want alcoholic beverages in Santa Ana,

SECONDARY HIGHWAY BILL IS APPROVED

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 10. —(UP)—Senate approval and the governor's signature were all that was needed today to incorporate into the secondary state highway system approximately 6600 miles of county roads in practically every California county.

The measure was approved last night by the senate roads and highways committee. It provides this huge mileage of county roads will be taken from county jurisdiction and maintained by the state, thus relieving the former of a heavy burden of expense.

Inserted into the Hoffman bill were amendments which had already been added to a similar senate bill, introduced by Senator Arthur Breed.

Passage of the measure in the upper house is contingent on approval of another measure permitting the cities an additional quarter of a cent from the gas tax fund.

COLLEGE PROFESSOR TO CONTROL WHEAT

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(UP)—The man who is expected soon to have virtual supervision over the economic destiny of millions of wheat farmers is a college professor who, although he always has been close to the soil, has a heritage of artistic accomplishment.

Dr. Milburn Lincoln Wilson of Montana state college is a tinkerer with ideas as well as with farm machinery.

He is expected to be named temporary wheat administrator under terms of the farm relief act now approaching final enactment. He comes to the position with a broad background of practical experience.

2000 VETERANS ARRIVE TODAY IN WASHINGTON

Pitch Tents and Begin Registration of Advance Bonus Marchers

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(UP)—The 1933 bonus army prepared to pitch its tents near the capitol today as an advance contingent of 2000 World war veterans was reported to have arrived.

This figure was announced by police as its count of demonstrating veterans in the District of Columbia. Hundreds more were reported arriving, causing an upward revision of the estimate of 8500 previously set as the probable size of the convention.

Near the scene of last year's bonus disturbance on Pennsylvania avenue, soldiers were setting up an army tent to register arrivals. Work was under the supervision of Capt. H. H. Chaddick of the veterans' administration. He said the veterans registering at the headquarters would be moved to Fort Hunt, Va., 10 miles down the Potomac, this afternoon.

The registration will be handled by Maurice Miller, Chicago, Ill., who brought a contingent of 200 Chicagoans. He reported 600 more on the way.

At Fort Hunt an infantry company set up 200 new army tents to take care of housing.

Harold Foulkrod, a leader in last year's bonus expedition, was at the head of a band of 100 who trudged into the city at midmorning.

These veterans declared they would have nothing to do with the march sponsored by the veterans' liaison committee and would refuse to go to the camp being prepared by the government at Fort Hunt, Va., 11 miles down the Potomac.

Police were deployed through the city to direct new arrivals to Fort Hunt.

A group of 50 veterans from Baltimore, Md., set up a flag in a vacant lot back of the house office building. John Newlin, leader, said the men planned to camp there.

The Fort Hunt contingent was "communistic" he said.

Most of the men had walked the 50 miles from Baltimore. On arrival they sat down and pulled off their shoes and socks to rub their chafed feet in the damp grass.

DEPUTIES' BADGES SAFE FROM SOLONS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 10.—(UP)—California's thousands of non-salaried deputy sheriffs and assistant fire chiefs can rest easily again. Their beloved badges are safe.

Two measures, by Assemblyman William Hornblower, San Francisco, which would have prohibited issuance and wearing of such badges except by duly constituted and paid authorities, were tabled by the senate municipal corporations committee.

"There are 10,000 deputy sheriffs badges out in Los Angeles county alone, and I can see why Aimee Semple McPherson should be an assistant fire chief," Hornblower said in explaining the bills.

STATE BALLOT WILL BE HELD LATE IN JUNE

Nine Proposals Will Come Before People; Legislature Sets Date

SACRAMENTO, May 10.—(UP)—California's electorate will be called upon to approve or disapprove nine proposals June 27 at one of the most important special elections in the state's history.

The date and content of the ballot was decided late yesterday at free conference of both houses. The following measures will be submitted:

1—Repeal of the 18th amendment.

2—Legalizing pari-mutuel horse race betting (providing the proposed constitutional amendment is passed by the senate).

3—The Riley-Stewart tax revision plan.

4—Providing for reassessment of property in the earthquake area of Los Angeles and Orange counties.

5—A bond issue of $55,000,000 for refinancing outstanding irrigation district bond issues.

6—A $20,000,000 unemployment relief bond issue.

7—Exempting non-profit schools from taxation.

8—Permitting boards of supervisors to fix salaries of county officers.

9—Providing all bills approved by the governor shall become effective 90 days after May 12.

MEXICAN PAINTER OF MURALS QUITS

NEW YORK, May 10.—(UP)—Diego Rivera, foremost Mexican painter of murals, said today he would permit his work at Rockefeller center to be destroyed rather than compromise with "a small group of persons acting for commercial purposes."

The action of Nelson A. Rockefeller, grandson of the oil king, and the Radio City management in calling Rivera down from his scaffold and demanding obliteration of a painting of Lenin and the substitution of an "unknown face" aroused Rivera to what he himself termed a "fighting mood." He rejected their demand.

OGDEN MILLS BUYS INTEREST IN ROAD

CARSON CITY, Nev., May 10.—(UP)—Purchase of controlling interest in the Virginia & Truckee railroad which his grandfather built after the Civil war was announced today in behalf of Ogden L. Mills, late secretary of the treasury.

The road operates from Reno to Virginia City, once known as the "billion dollar town." A rich gold and silver strike was made recently on the railroad property.

Mills inspected the road several weeks ago. Former President Hoover was with him.

Argentina and Chile Expected to Declare Neutrality; Cuts Off Arms

Bombing of Defenseless Towns During Week is Cause for Latest Move

ASUNCION, Paraguay, May 10.—(UP)—Paraguay declared war on Bolivia today.

It was the first formal declaration of war since Guatemala declared war on the Central Powers in 1918.

The efforts of the league of nations and the moral force of the Kellogg pact hitherto have kept nations from declaring war, despite the outbreak of hostilities, such as between Japan and China, Colombia and Peru, Greece and Turkey and similar incidents.

The warfare between Paraguay and Bolivia has been in progress for nearly a year, since June 15 last, and has been of a most sanguinary nature, fought with every device of modern war, including airplanes, tanks, artillery and machine guns. Casualties have numbered many thousands, the number never having been accurately estimated, although almost certainly over 20,000.

Nineteen nations of the North American hemisprere warned the two belligerents last August that they would not recognize territorial gains won by force of arms.

Paraguay, which took the formal step of war today, is an adherent of the Kellogg pact, which binds nations not to resort to war as an instrument of national policy.

The president signed the decree declaring war under special powers recently voted by congress.

SALES OF NEW CARS IN STATE INCREASE

LOS ANGELES, May 10.—The first time such a thing has occurred since February, 1930, registrations of new passenger cars in the state of California last month exceeded the total for the corresponding month of the previous year. The April total was 7599, a gain of 22.2 per cent over April, 1932, and the highest total for any month since October, 1931, except June, 1932, when the Ford Eight was introduced.

April continued the uptrend which has been apparent this year by gaining 28.6 per cent over March. This gain was fairly evenly distributed among all price classes.

In the first four months of this year, new truck registrations in the State totaled 2844, a decline of 26.0 per cent as compared with the corresponding period of last year. The principal gain was scored by White, with 97.3 per cent.

WILL ROGERS says:

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(To the Editor of he Register:) The Senate's not in session today so the country got a break. Everybody down here feeling mighty fine since the President's speech. Talked to a lot of what used to be old line Republicans, why they are the most rabid Democrats we got now. You know I don't believe there is a thing that this man Roosevelt wouldn't put over if he was a mind to, he is so strong with the people, and so convincing over the radio, that if he ever got in a fight with Congress, all he would have to do is take it to the people, via the air, and he would lick any of 'em.

Yours,

WILL ROGERS.

VETERANS WILL ELECT OFFICERS HERE TONIGHT

New officers will be elected by the Jack Fisher chapter, Disabled American Veterans of the World War at their regular meeting tonight at the Pythian hall at 7:45 o'clock with Commander Earl B. Hawks in the chair.

Fewer candidates are in the field as is the general rule, prompted by a desire to present a unanimous front in the vital year ahead in combating the dire results of the new regulations and rating schedule as applied on March 20, it is said by chapter officials.

Latest reports on the new bill will be presented by Harry D. Edwards, Orange county veterans welfare officer, who is kept well versed on the latest developments from Washington and Los Angeles. It is known that one-third of the service connected cases are being stricken from the rolls while a 60 per cent cut is being administered to the remaining two-thirds, according to Commander Hawks. The new schedule goes into effect July 1st this year.

Plans for a huge public installation of the new officers on May 24 will be discussed and arrangements made to greet National Commander William Conley, who will be the installing officer, as he has been for years past. Conley will give an address on what took place at Washington during the days preceding March 20th when the bill was signed by President Roosevelt.

Committee reports for the year will be submitted by the various chairmen. These will be of extreme interest to all members. Commander Hawks is arranging to welcome the largest gathering of the year.

CHIROPRACTORS IN PLANS FOR CLINIC

Chiropractors from a number of cities in Southern California met at the office of Dr. James Workman, D. C., at 714 South Main street Sunday and discussed plans for the Gigantic Clinic which will be conducted in Los Angeles this fall, by Dr. B. J. Palmer, with the use of X-Ray and Neurocalometer.

Dr. Palmer, president of the Palmer School of Davenport, Iowa, and developer of Chiropractic, was present and discussed the plans. The territory of the fall clinic is to cover California, Oregon, Washington, Nevada and Mexico.

A number of papers were read and several practical demonstrations of the latest neurocalometer technique was displayed, several cases arriving from Pomona and Los Angeles.

THREE S. A. BOYS FACE ARSON QUIZZ

Arson charges against three young Santa Ana boys were being investigated today by probation officers after one of the youthful trio, a 13-year-old boy, had been arrested.

According to Fire Marshall E. C. Gates, the boys were riding down an alley, throwing lighted matches into trash cans. One of the matches set fire to a garage belonging to Mrs. F. F. Smith, 1501 North Main street. Fire loss was estimated at $20.

Stream of Molten Glass Starts Fire

Fire which started when a torrent of molten glass poured from a broken tank at the Brock Glass company, 120 North Sante Fe street, was extinguished by city firemen today without fire loss.

A general alarm was sounded at 5 o'clock this morning when the fire was noticed. No part of the building had started burning before before the blaze was extinguished.

er. International Shoe equalled its high.

General Motors rose to a new 1933 high. Chrysler also made a new top for the year and substantial gains were noted in Auburn, and Nash. Several low priced issues made new tops.

Railroad gains ranged to more than 3 points with the best in Delaware & Hudson, Atchison, Lackawanna and Union Pacific.

Rubbers were up 1 to more than 3 points with several at new tops for the year. Chemical issues were strong.

Low-priced amusements moved up sharply with Fox Film A, and Warner Brothers Pictures in new high ground for the year. Loew's rose more than 2 points.

Mercantile issues oil and special stocks met demand all day. Utilities were strong and active, gains ranging to more than 2 points.

Sales totaled 3,820,000 shares, against 2,240,000 yesterday. Curb exchange sales were 336,000 shares, against 255,000.

Dow-Jones preliminary averages were: industrial 80.78 up 3.55 and a new 1933 top; railroad 36.03 up 1.79 and a new 1933 high; utility 27.02 up 1.27.

Aggregate market value of 10 leading issues was $6,501,381,325, against $6,244,196,674 yesterday, a gain of $257,184,651.

LEGION PLANS TO HONOR GOLD STAR MOTHERS

Gold star mothers of Santa Ana will be the honor guests of the Santa Ana post, American Legion, tomorrow night, when the post will stage its annual Mothers' Day program.

The meeting will begin with a pot luck dinner to be served at 6:30 p. m. at the Knights of Pythias hall, Fifth and Broadway.

Last year there were several mothers present who gave their sons in the war and this year several more are expected to attend. Aside from these women, the members of the auxiliary also will meet with the post.

Members of the post and the auxiliary are asked to bring their own table service. The post is not meeting in its own quarters and this will be necessary, Art Ecklunk, post adjutant, announced today.

An unusual entertainment program has been arranged for the meeting, with the Gilmore Oil company performers featured. Following the meeting a dance will be staged.

Cody Defends Pet Dog In Damage Suit

LOS ANGELES, May 10.—(UP)—Lew Cody, screen actor, believes his pet fox terrier is not a vicious animal but just an over-anxious mother, according to testimony in a $1500 damage suit filed against him by Anita Goodwin, housemaid, who declared the dog bit her when she walked past Cody's residence.

The actor and his servants claimed Miss Goodwin alarmed the dog by picking up one of her puppies.

THEFT OF SEWING MACHINE REPORTED

Theft of a sewing machine valued at $160 was reported to Santa Ana police today by Mrs. Exa Bell, dressmaker who resides at 306 Cypress street.

The methods used by the persons who took the machine were novel. Several days ago, according to the report filed at the police station, Mrs. Bell discussed the matter of returning the machine to the Singer Sewing Machine company with C. W. Wooden, salesman.

Saturday, the report stated, a man came to the door of her home enquiring about the sewing machine, stating he represented the local company. Mrs. Bell permitted the man, with a companion, to take the machine away after it had been tied to the back of the automobile.

TEAGUE FUNERAL TO BE HELD THURSDAY

Following an illness of some duration, Mrs. Nan A. Teague, of 1423 South Main street, died at her home yesterday. She was 84 years of age.

Funeral services will be conducted at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow at the Harrell and Brown funeral parlors at 116 West Seventeenth street, with the Rev. Harry E. Owings, pastor of the First Baptist church officiating.

Mrs. Teague is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Mollie Tyrrell and Mrs. Nellie Hill, both of Santa Ana, one grandson, Hillard Tyrrell, Santa Ana and two granddaughters, Mrs. Glenna Jean Granger of Harrisburg, Penn., and Mrs. Blanche Bolton of Seattle, Wn.

DRYS AROUSED OVER SETTING ELECTION DATE

which has been a dry city for so many years."

Refuting beliefs that young people of the city are in favor of the sale of alcoholic beverages in this city, representatives of both the Hi Y club and the junior college Y. M. C. A. last night offered the fullest support of their organizations in keeping Santa Ana dry.

The young people offered their services in the campaign in precinct work or in any other manner in which they might be needed. "While we cannot vote," one of the representatives said, "we want the people of Santa Ana to know that we do not want alcoholic beer in Santa Ana." Charles Downie and Jack Pegues represented the high school group and Charles Warmer the college group.

A motion was adopted accepting the services of the young people, and a committee composed of Ralph Smedley, Dr. George A. Warmer, Miss Mabel McFadden and Miss Nancy Elder was appointed to organize the groups for service. The services of the Girls Reserve was proffered also at the meeting.

Oppose Liquor

Young people representing practically every church in the city Monday night went on record as disapproving the return of liquor in any form to Santa Ana.

At the meeting this week, members of the city council expressed themselves in favor of getting the election over with as soon as possible.

The Dry association will continue to urge voters to register an dto claim the right to vote, believing that the city council or any other similar body cannot disfranchise voters by such procedure as setting the election date ahead of the 40 day period, according to a statement issued today.

"We believe the courts of the state will sustain an appeal for the rights of citizenship in this matter," the statement said. "It appears most unfortunate that our city officials, through carelessness or ignorance or other motives, should have permitted such a condition to arise. From the expressions which come to us from disgruntled voters, it would seem advisable that steps be taken without delay either to explain the action or to correct the condition which has arisen."

Statement Issued By Dry Leaders

Declaring that the action of the city council in setting June 8 as the date for the alcoholic liquor election has automatically disfranchised a considerable number of voters, a joint statement was issued today by the Rev. C. D. Hicks, president, and R. C. Smedley, secretary, of the Santa Ana Dry association. The statement follows:

"The action of the city council, in setting June 8 as the date for the liquor election, has automatically disfranchised a considerable number of our citizens, who should be entitled to the right to express their convictions either for or against the proposition.

"The Santa Ana Dry association had been semi-officially advised by members of the city council that the election would be set for June 22, and we have been urging voters in need of registering to get their names on the books before Saturday, as that would be the final date for an election on June 22. The sudden change in the date nullifies all registrations for the city election made during the past few days, under a strict construction of the state law.

"The Tuesday evening Register had hardly come off the press when protests and questions began to come in as to what it meant. We are unable to answer these questions, and pass the problem on to those who should know. We know this, that there are scores of voters in Santa Ana who are feeling extremely sore because of the prospect of being unable to vote on the liquor question. Some of them think that the action of the city council requires explaining.

"So far as we can see, a delay of two weeks would not have had fatal consequences, and it would have allowed time, short though it would have been, for voters who have recently moved, to put their names on the register again as voters. As it is, the purpose of the city council, to secure an expression of opinion from the entire citizenry of Santa Ana, has been completely nullified by this procedure."

MEXICAN DIVORCES DEALT DEATH BLOW

LOS ANGELES, May 10.—(UP)—Quick Mexican divorces were given a blow today in a decision of Superior Judge Dudley Valentine, who granted Mrs. Madeline Sidebottom an injunction to prevent her husband, Robert R. Sidebottom, financier and son of a former Idaho governor, from divorcing her across the border.

Judge Valentine based his decision on Mrs. Sidebottom's contention that her husband did not have the right to obtain a divorce outside of California because this is the state of their matrimonial residence. This is a seldom used provision of California law. A Mexican divorce, Mrs. Sidebottom claimed, thus would be illegal in this state.

ROLPH PLAN TO BALANCE STATE BUDGET LOSES

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 10.—(UP) — Governor Rolph's last-minute attempt to compel emergency legislation before Friday designed to pull the state out of the red has collapsed.

The governor lost his principal lever against the legislature last night when Attorney General U. S. Webb handed down an opinion stating the chief executive could not convoke a special legislative session after the May 12 recess. Webb said the legislature was theoretically still in session after the recess date. Consequently a special session was impossible.

The chief executive told legislative leaders earlier in the day he would call a special session unless steps were taken to remove the current biennium deficit. June 30, he said, the state will be $9,272,591 in the red.

A suggested program of diversion of funds, including transfer of $8,779,750 of gas tax funds to the general fund, was offered by the governor.

Thus the current deficit will not be handled until the midsummer session of the legislature. Meantime, millions are being diverted from special funds to the general fund to meet the crisis. These "loans" will give the state sufficient money on which to operate for several months.

Clamor of departmental heads also impelled the governor to recede from his threat to cut the $247,000,000 budget bill between $2,500,000 and $3,000,000.

There was still a possibility that 111 appropriation bills involving $2,500,000 outlay may be held over until the midsummer session. These bills cannot be passed until the governor signs the budget. He may not affix his signature, he indicated, until after the legislature recesses.

Signature of the governor to the Rawls bill extended the moratorium on sales of property under trust deeds and mortgages until January 1, 1934. The moratorium affects only default of principal and brings relief solely to property with a single family dwelling.

Coincident with moratorium extension was a resolution adopted by the senate. It urged congress to force California institutions receiving financial assistance from the government to "extend reasonable time for payments of debts secured by deeds of trust or mortgages on homes and farm properties."

Senator Bradford Crittenden, author, said many institutions received federal help on the one hand and then refused to be lenient with "the little fellow."

The assembly revenue and taxation committee favorably approved the Duval bill stepping up utilities taxes $3,000,000 annually. The bill carried an "if" clause whereby the $12,000,000 utility tax equalization bill would automatically become effective if the "committee of 14's" budget balancing program, of which the Duval bill is a part, fails of adoption.

The senate unemployment committee approved measures providing a 30-hour week for public works projects.

The "free primary" bill, vortex of one of the legislature's biggest fights, received approval of the senate elections committee. The measure provides voters may change their party preference on primary election days instead of 40 days before.

RESIDENT HERE 30 YEARS DIES TODAY

Mrs. Ella D. Cole, 78, a resident of Santa Ana for the past 30 years, died at her home at 705 East Pine street early this morning after an illness of long duration.

She was the widow of the late M. C. Cole and mother of Homer Cole, who died here in 1930. She is survived by three children, Ernest Cole of Culver City, Chester Cole of Chico, and Mrs. Oscar Blake, the latter of Santa Ana.

No time for the funeral services has been announced. The body is at the Smith and Tuthill funeral parlors.

AGREEMENT REACHED OVER REVALUATIONS

LONDON, May 10.—(UP)—An agreement for international currency revaluation was reached in President Roosevelt's conferences with foreign statesmen in Washington, according to widespread but unconfirmed reports in financial circles today.

The announcement was made shortly after American Ambassador Norman H Davis informed the government that Washington approved revisions in the wording of the proposal upon which Britain conditioned her acceptance.

The committee was expected to meet tomorrow if all the governments represented had authorized their delegates by then to sanction the proposal.

WIFE OF FORMER ANAHEIM MAYOR KILLED THIS NOON IN CRASH OF AUTOMOBILES

MRS. MARIE L. DWYER, wife of John J. Dwyer, former mayor of Anaheim and herself one of the pioneer residents of the county, was almost instantly killed early this afternoon in an automobile crash at Palm avenue and Sycamore streets in Anaheim.

She died at 1:20 p. m. today in the Anaheim Sanitarium shortly after the crash, which overturned her car at the intersection. According to the Anaheim police, Mrs. Dwyer, driver of one of the cars, failed to make a boulevard stop. She was going west on Sycamore street at the time.

Her machine collided with a car driven by A. T. Thibodo, 40, of El Modena, who was traveling [illegible] at the time. He was slightly bruised as were two with him. His machine also overturned.

Mrs. Dwyer suffered head injuries which caused her death, it was reported. She was alone in the car at the time and was pinned under the car when it overturned.

Mrs. Dwyer's mother was one of the early settlers of Orange county and the first valencia orange tree was said to have been planted on her Anaheim property. She had been a resident of Anaheim for a long number of years.

The body was removed to the Backs, Terry and Campbell funeral parlors, where Coroner Earl Abbey took charge of the body. He doubtless will call an inquest for tomorrow or Friday.

Fay Barnett, of the Anaheim police department, is this afternoon making an investigation into the accident.

attack on Pitiantuta on June 15, 1932" and also in view of the failure of all peace efforts.

The conflict was brought to a new crisis in the last week when President Eusebio Ayala of Paraguay, who signed the declaration today, announced that if the Bolivians continued to bomb Paraguayan towns "the defenseless population will sacrifice lives—those of Bolivian prisoners—in retaliation."

Bolivia retorted if Paraguay killed a single Bolivian prisoner, Bolivian military planes would bombard the capital, Asuncion, and other Paraguayan cities.

Bolivian planes last week dropped bombs at Porta Pinasco and Casado on the Paraguay river, killing seven civilians and endangering American and other foreign property.

George Lohman, an American, complained to the foreign office yesterday that Bolivian airplanes had bombed his property in the Gran Chaco for 35 minutes, causing much damage.

The purpose of today's declaration, foreign observers here believed, was mainly to force the hand of Argentina and Chile. It was hoped that making the war formal would force both nations to declare their neutrality, thus cutting off exports of munitions and supplies to Bolivia and bringing her to terms.

Court Suspends 30 Day Sentence

Found guilty by Judge J. G. Mitchell in the Santa Ana police court yesterday afternoon of disturbing the peace charges, Ruth Wright, 29, was given a 30-day suspended sentence.

She appeared in court yesterday morning when she waived trial by jury and pleaded not guilty to the charge. She was arrested on complaint of Blanche Young at the Dean Court Monday night by Santa Ana police officers.

Bands to Wage War At Valencia Hall

Another "band war" is to be featured at the Valencia ball room, on the highway between Santa Ana and Anaheim tomorrow night, it was announced today. The first one, staged last Thursday night proved highly entertaining.

Brick English and his 11 piece orchestra and Gordon Carper and His New Yorkers will furnish the music and the entertainment is to be featured by Joyce Murray, singing and dancing comedian formerly with Ziegfield's Follies.

10 NEW WELLS UNDER WAY IN H. B. OIL FIELD

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 10.—As a result of the bringing in of the new Viceroo well by Rood and McVickers, at least 10 wells are starting work. Leases are being made one day and work started the next. The activity so far is confined to the two first blocks back from the ocean front but extends from Fifteenth street to Twenty-third street.

The Viceroo Oil company well made 2380 barrels in the 24 hours ending at 3 o'clock Tuesday. The gas output is running two million cubic feet of wet gas a day. It is by far the most valuable well ever brought in anywhere in the town lot zone. As soon as its potential is determined the well will be given an allotment under conservation.

The standard is reported to be planning to immediately start drilling 20 wells on the Pacific Electric right of way between Twenty-third street and the west city limits at Forty-fifth street, paralleling the city's strip lease to the Carr Oil company.

There are between 12 and 15 wells now operating in the town lot field near the ocean front and at least a half dozen more will start. About half the idle oil workers in the field have found employment.

INFLATION BILL IS GIVEN LAST ACTION TODAY

Wallace to reduce acreage and production through the cotton option, domestic allotment and land leasing plans; impose processing taxes designed to raise prices on basic farm commodities; make marketing agreements with producers, processors and distributors. In addition he is authorized to license processors and distributors so as to enforce fair marketing.

Relief Extended

Relief would be extended to the mortgage burdened farmers through the credit section of the bill, which provides for a $2,000,000,000 issue of four per cent federal land bank bonds and extends $200,000,000 in Reconstruction Finance Corporation credit to farmers scaling down indebtedness under the federal bankruptcy law.

The federal land banks are authorized to purchase first mortgages or exchange bonds for them, on a basis of unpaid balance or 50 per cent of appraised land value plus 20 per cent of improvement value.

Interest rates on outstanding land bank mortgage loans is reduced to four and a half per cent.

The credit section also provides for gradual liquidation of joint stock land banks, authorizes Reconstruction Corporation loans of $100,000,000 to refinance drainage, irrigation and levee district indebtedness, and treasury subscription of $50,000,000 to facilitate land bank operation of the $2,000,000,000 program for refinancing farm mortgages.

VETERANS WILL ELECT OFFICERS HERE TONIGHT

New officers will be elected by the Jack Fisher chapter, Disabled American Veterans of the World War at their regular meeting tonight at the Pythian hall at 7:45 o'clock with Commander Earl B. Hawks in the chair.

Fewer candidates are in the field as is the general rule, prompted by a desire to present a unanimous front in the vital year ahead in combating the dire results of the new regulations and rating schedule as applied on March 20, it is said by chapter officials.

Latest reports on the new bill will be presented by Harry D. Edwards, Orange county veterans welfare officer, who is kept well versed on the latest developments from Washington and Los Angeles. It is known that one-third of the service connected cases are being stricken from the rolls while a 60 per cent cut is being administered to the remaining two-thirds, according to Commander Hawks. The new schedule goes into effect July 1st this year.

Plans for a huge public installation of the new officers on May 24 will be discussed and arrangements made to greet National Commander William Conley, who will be the installing officer, as he has been for years past. Conley will give an address on what took place at Washington during the days preceding March 20th when the bill was signed by President Roosevelt.

Committee reports for the year will be submitted by the various chairmen. These will be of extreme interest to all members. Commander Hawks is arranging to welcome the largest gathering of the year.

CHIROPRACTORS IN PLANS FOR CLINIC

Chiropractors from a number of cities in Southern California met at the office of Dr. James Workman, D. C., at 714 South Main street Sunday and discussed plans for the Gigantic Clinic which will be conducted in Los Angeles this fall, by Dr. B. J. Palmer, with the use of X-Ray and Neurocalometer.

Dr. Palmer, president of the Palmer School of Davenport, Iowa, and developer of Chiropractic, was present and discussed the plans. The territory of the fall clinic is to cover California, Oregon, Washington, Nevada and Mexico.

A number of papers were read and several practical demonstrations of the latest neurocalometer technique was displayed, several cases arriving from Pomona and Los Angeles.

THREE S. A. BOYS FACE ARSON QUIZZ

Arson charges against three young Santa Ana boys were being investigated today by probation officers after one of the youthful trio, a 13-year-old boy, had been arrested.

According to Fire Marshall E. C. Gates, the boys were riding down an alley, throwing lighted matches into trash cans. One of the matches set fire to a garage belonging to Mrs. F. F. Smith, 1501 North Main street. Fire loss was estimated at $20.

Stream of Molten Glass Starts Fire

Fire which started when a torrent of molten glass poured from a broken tank at the Brock Glass company, 120 North Sante Fe street, was extinguished by city firemen today without fire loss.

A general alarm was sounded at 5 o'clock this morning when the fire was noticed. No part of the building had started burning before before the blaze was extinguished.

LEGION PLANS TO HONOR GOLD STAR MOTHERS

Gold star mothers of Santa Ana will be the honor guests of the Santa Ana post, American Legion, tomorrow night, when the post will stage its annual Mothers' Day program.

The meeting will begin with a pot luck dinner to be served at 6:30 p. m. at the Knights of Pythias hall, Fifth and Broadway.

Last year there were several mothers present who gave their sons in the war and this year several more are expected to attend. Aside from these women, the members of the auxiliary also will meet with the post.

Members of the post and the auxiliary are asked to bring their own table service. The post is not meeting in its own quarters and this will be necessary, Art Ecklunk, post adjutant, announced today.

An unusual entertainment program has been arranged for the meeting, with the Gilmore Oil company performers featured. Following the meeting a dance will be staged.

Cody Defends Pet Dog In Damage Suit

LOS ANGELES, May 10.—(UP)—Lew Cody, screen actor, believes his pet fox terrier is not a vicious animal but just an over-anxious mother, according to testimony in a $1500 damage suit filed against him by Anita Goodwin, housemaid, who declared the dog bit her when she walked past Cody's residence.

The actor and his servants claimed Miss Goodwin alarmed the dog by picking up one of her puppies.

THEFT OF SEWING MACHINE REPORTED

Theft of a sewing machine valued at $160 was reported to Santa Ana police today by Mrs. Exa Bell, dressmaker who resides at 306 Cypress street.

The methods used by the persons who took the machine were novel. Several days ago, according to the report filed at the police station, Mrs. Bell discussed the matter of returning the machine to the Singer Sewing Machine company with C. W. Wooden, salesman.

Saturday, the report stated, a man came to the door of her home enquiring about the sewing machine, stating he represented the local company. Mrs. Bell permitted the man, with a companion, to take the machine away after it had been tied to the back of the automobile.

TEAGUE FUNERAL TO BE HELD THURSDAY

Following an illness of some duration, Mrs. Nan A. Teague, of 1423 South Main street, died at her home yesterday. She was 84 years of age.

Funeral services will be conducted at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow at the Harrell and Brown funeral parlors at 116 West Seventeenth street, with the Rev. Harry E. Owings, pastor of the First Baptist church officiating.

Mrs. Teague is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Mollie Tyrrell and Mrs. Nellie Hill, both of Santa Ana, one grandson, Hillard Tyrrell, Santa Ana and two granddaughters, Mrs. Glenna Jean Granger of Harrisburg, Penn., and Mrs. Blanche Bolton of Seattle, Wn.

DRYS AROUSED OVER SETTING ELECTION DATE

which has been a dry city for so many years."

Refuting beliefs that young people of the city are in favor of the sale of alcoholic beverages in this city, representatives of both the H' Y club and the junior college Y. M. C. A. last night offered the fullest support of their organizations in keeping Santa Ana dry.

The young people offered their services in the campaign in precinct work or in any other manner in which they might be needed. "While we cannot vote," one of the representatives said, "we want the people of Santa Ana to know that we do not want alcoholic beer in Santa Ana." Charles Downie and Jack Pegues represented the high school group and Charles Warmer the college group.

A motion was adopted accepting the services of the young people, and a committee composed of Ralph Smedley, Dr. George A. Warmer, Miss Mabel McFadden and Miss Nancy Elder was appointed to organize the groups for service. The services of the Girls Reserve was proffered also at the meeting.

Oppose Liquor

Young people representing practically every church in the city Monday night went on record as disapproving the return of liquor in any form to Santa Ana.

At the meeting this week, members of the city council expressed themselves in favor of getting the election over with as soon as possible.

The Dry association will continue to urge voters to register an dto claim the right to vote, believing that the city council or any other similar body cannot disfranchise voters by such procedure as setting the election date ahead of the 40 day period, according to a statement issued today.

"We believe the courts of the state will sustain an appeal for the rights of citizenship in this matter," the statement said. "It appears most unfortunate that our city officials, through carelessness or ignorance or other motives, should have permitted such a condition to arise. From the expressions which come to us from disgruntled voters, it would seem advisable that steps be taken without delay either to explain the action or to correct the condition which has arisen."

Statement Issued By Dry Leaders

Declaring that the action of the city council in setting June 8 as the date for the alcoholic liquor election has automatically disfranchised a considerable number of voters, a joint statement was issued today by the Rev. C. D. Hicks, president, and R. C. Smedley, secretary, of the Santa Ana Dry association. The statement follows:

"The action of the city council, in setting June 8 as the date for the liquor election, has automatically disfranchised a considerable number of our citizens, who should be entitled to the right to express their convictions either for or against the proposition.

"The Santa Ana Dry association had been semi-officially advised by members of the city council that the election would be set for June 22, and we have been urging voters in need of registering to get their names on the books before Saturday, as that would be the final date for an election on June 22. The sudden change in the date nullifies all registrations for the city election made during the past few days, under a strict construction of the state law.

"The Tuesday evening Register had hardly come off the press when protests and questions began to come in as to what it meant. We are unable to answer these questions, and pass the problem on to those who should know. We know this, that there are scores of voters in Santa Ana who are feeling extremely sore because of the prospect of being unable to vote on the liquor question. Some of them think that the action of the city council requires explaining.

"So far as we can see, a delay of two weeks would not have had fatal consequences, and it would have allowed time, short though it would have been, for voters who have recently moved, to put their names on the register again as voters. As it is, the purpose of the city council, to secure an expression of opinion from the entire citizenry of Santa Ana, has been completely nullified by this procedure."

MEXICAN DIVORCES DEALT DEATH BLOW

LOS ANGELES, May 10.—(UP)—Quick Mexican divorces were given a blow today in a decision of Superior Judge Dudley Valentine, who granted Mrs. Madeline Sidebottom an injunction to prevent her husband, Robert R. Sidebottom, financier and son of a former Idaho governor, from divorcing her across the border.

Judge Valentine based his decision on Mrs. Sidebottom's contention that her husband did not have the right to obtain a divorce outside of California because this is the state of their matrimonial residence. This is a seldom used provision of California law. A Mexican divorce, Mrs. Sidebottom claimed, thus would be illegal in this state.

ROLPH PLAN TO BALANCE STATE BUDGET LOSES

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 10.—(UP) — Governor Rolph's last-minute attempt to compel emergency legislation before Friday designed to pull the state out of the red has collapsed.

The governor lost his principal lever against the legislature last night when Attorney General U. S. Webb handed down an opinion stating the chief executive could not convoke a special legislative session after the May 12 recess. Webb said the legislature was theoretically still in session after the recess date. Consequently a special session was impossible.

The chief executive told legislative leaders earlier in the day he would call a special session unless steps were taken to remove the current biennium deficit. June 30, he said, the state will be $9,272,591 in the red.

A suggested program of diversion of funds, including transfer of $8,779,750 of gas tax funds to the general fund, was offered by the governor.

Thus the current deficit will not be handled until the midsummer session of the legislature. Meantime, millions are being diverted from special funds to the general fund to meet the crisis. These "loans" will give the state sufficient money on which to operate for several months.

Clamor of departmental heads also impelled the governor to recede from his threat to cut the $247,000,000 budget bill between $2,500,000 and $3,000,000.

There was still a possibility that 111 appropriation bills involving $2,500,000 outlay may be held over until the midsummer session. These bills cannot be passed until the governor signs the budget. He may not affix his signature, he indicated, until after the legislature recesses.

Signature of the governor to the Rawls bill extended the moratorium on sales of property under trust deeds and mortgages until January 1, 1934. The moratorium affects only default of principal and brings relief solely to property with a single family dwelling.

Coincident with moratorium extension was a resolution adopted by the senate. It urged congress to force California institutions receiving financial assistance from the government to "extend reasonable time for payments of debts secured by deeds of trust or mortgages on homes and farm properties."

Senator Bradford Crittenden, author, said many institutions received federal help on the one hand and then refused to be lenient with "the little fellow."

The assembly revenue and taxation committee favorably approved the Duval bill stepping up utilities taxes $3,000,000 annually. The bill carried an "if" clause whereby the $12,000,000 utility tax equalization bill would automatically become effective if the "committee of 14's" budget balancing program, of which the Duval bill is a part, fails of adoption.

The senate unemployment committee approved measures providing a 30-hour week for public works projects.

The "free primary" bill, vortex of one of the legislature's biggest fights, received approval of the senate elections committee. The measure provides voters may change their party preference on primary election days instead of 40 days before.

RESIDENT HERE 30 YEARS DIES TODAY

Mrs. Ella D. Cole, 78, a resident of Santa Ana for the past 30 years, died at her home at 705 East Pine street early this morning after an illness of long duration.

She was the widow of the late M. C. Cole and mother of Homer Cole, who died here in 1930. She is survived by three children, Ernest Cole of Culver City, Chester Cole of Chico, and Mrs. Oscar Blake, the latter of Santa Ana.

No time for the funeral services has been announced. The body is at the Smith and Tuthill funeral parlors.

AGREEMENT REACHED OVER REVALUATIONS

LONDON, May 10.—(UP)—An agreement for international currency revaluation was reached in President Roosevelt's conferences with foreign statesmen in Washington, according to widespread but unconfirmed reports in financial circles today.

The announcement was made shortly after American Ambassador Norman H Davis informed the government that Washington approved revisions in the wording of the proposal upon which Britain conditioned her acceptance.

The committee was expected to meet tomorrow if all the governments represented had authorized their delegates by then to sanction the proposal.

WIFE OF FORMER ANAHEIM MAYOR KILLED THIS NOON IN CRASH OF AUTOMOBILES

Mrs. Marie L. Dwyer, wife of John J. Dwyer, former mayor of Anaheim and herself one of the pioneer residents of the county, was almost instantly killed early this afternoon in an automobile crash at Palm avenue and Sycamore streets in Anaheim.

She died at 1:20 p. m. today in the Anaheim Sanitarium shortly after the crash, which overturned her car at the intersection. According to the Anaheim police, Mrs. Dwyer, driver of one of the cars, failed to make a boulevard stop. She was going west on Sycamore street at the time.

Her machine collided with a car driven by A. T. Thibodo, 40, of El Modena, who was traveling [illegible] the time. He was slightly bruised as were two [illegible] with him. His machine also overturned.

Mrs. Dwyer suffered head injuries which caused her death, it was reported. She was alone in the car at the time and was pinned under the car when it overturned.

Mrs. Dwyer's mother was one of the early settlers of Orange county and the first valencia orange tree was said to have been planted on her Anaheim property. She had been a resident of Anaheim for a long number of years.

The body was removed to the Backs, Terry and Campbell funeral parlors, where Coroner Earl Abbey took charge of the body. He doubtless will call an inquest for tomorrow or Friday.

Fay Barnett, of the Anaheim police department, is this afternoon making an investigation into the accident.

A WORD OF COMFORT

Enduring success and increasing greatness cannot be yours if you are dominated by selfishness and petty ambitions.

Train yourself to think of your hopes, aspirations and endeavors in terms of eternity. Little by little your soul will be fitting relationships which await you in itself to enter into the larger the Life Beyond. In the midst of your grief and heartache, give God the chance to show you how to make your life count for others.

WEEKLY PAPER MAKES OFFER ON TAX LIST

An opportunity for the county to save approximately $4000 on one item was presented to officials yesterday afternoon when a letter from El Heraldo de San Clemente was read to the board of supervisors.

The communication from Robert Hanson, editor of the Spanish village weekly, offered to print the delinquent tax list as required by law for 50 cents per square, as compared with the rate of $1 per square for the job which was recently set by the supervisors. The rate for the job set by the board calls for 50 cents per square for the first publication and 25 cents per square for the two succeeding publications. Hanson offered to print the entire three issues for a total of 50 cents per square.

The offer makes possible a saving of approximately $4000 under the proposed rate this year and $5000 under the rate paid last year.

Time Extended

The list is printed annually in advertising property which is being sold for nonpayment of taxes, and this year the 60 day moratorium on final tax payments has caused delay in awarding the order for legal printing and preparation of the copy until after the final tax payment date, which is June 20.

Tax Collector John Lamb said today he had no comment to make on the offer by the San Clemente paper and that there probably would be other offers submitted by other weekly papers.

No action was taken on the proposition by the supervisors and the letter was filed by Joe Backs, clerk of the board.

In submitting the bid, the San Clemente publication pointed out the fact that saving money on publication of the list is in reality a saving to the people of the county.

In his letter to the board Hanson said:

Text of Offer

"We have been looking over the rates for political advertising, and what has been done in this county and other counties in regard to them, and we submit to you the following proposition. For the legal advertising of large amounts, such as is used for the publication of the delinquent tax list, El Heraldo de San Clemente agrees to publish it according to law for the price of 50 cents per square for the three insertions. This would save $5000 at least over the price paid last year, and possibly $4000 over the price to be paid this year, to the people whose property is being advertised in the delinquent tax list.

"In view of the fact that the same amount is charged up to the delinquent tax representative, in either case, this really means a saving to the people of the county.

"To be sure, our paper is a weekly paper, but the object of printing this list is to fulfill the legal requirements, and this El Heraldo de San Clemente will do. While we understand the placing of this is in the hand of the Tax Collector of the county, the establishing of the rate is in the hands of your body. Last year in Riverside county, the Hemet News submitted a bid of 5c higher than this price, which saved the county of Riverside over what we are paying, of over $100 a page.

"While we feel that it may be that this should be open to bids, yet we believe that our paper, fulfilling all the requirements, should receive consideration from the tax collector as the one entitled to the publication."

Motorist Held To Answer On Charge Of Drunk Driving

Bert Stark, Santa Ana man charged with operating a motor vehicle on the public highway while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, was held to answer to the superior court on the charge when he appeared in Justice of the Peace Kenneth E. Morrison's court this morning.

Stark waived his preliminary examination and he was held in the county jail today to await trial in default of $1000 bail demanded by Judge Morrison.

He was arrested Sunday on the Newport road west of Costa Mesa by J. M. Clever, state highway patrolman.

4TH DISTRICT P.-T. A. DINNER HELD AT BEACH

With two days of the state P.-T. A convention at Long Beach already behind them, with revision of the by-laws scheduled for today and an address by Dr. Gertrude Laws, formerly of this city, calendared as a highlight of tomorrow's session, delegates to the annual conclave are now midway in a conference due to close Friday. Most recent of the convention features were the district banquets held last night, at which Santa Ana and cities of the Fourth District P-T A were well represented.

Attending the banquet from this city were the following P.-T. A. workers, many of whom are remaining in Long Beach through the entire convention: Mesdames J. H. Farren, Guy Belcher, W. R. C. Crawford, Ruth Riggle, R. H. Drown, Byron Walbridge, Roy Beall, John Mills, Mary B. Robertson, Neal Beisel and S. I. Preble. The Santa Ana delegation was part of a gathering of 125 present for the Fourth District dinner.

An impressive phase of the banquet was the presentation to Mrs. R. W. Marvin of Anaheim, district president, of five dozen red roses from members of the district. The roses were presented singly, each by the president of a local P.-T. A. group, while Mrs. Arthur Kemper of Anaheim provided a beautiful musical background for the ceremony with her singing of "Mother," accompanied by Mrs. H. H. Heckman of Anaheim.

A clever entertainment was the skit presented by the Orangethorpe school depicting the P.-T. A. as it functioned 25 years ago and as it may function 25 years hence. The playlet was directed by Mrs. Carson, drama chairman of that school.

Police News

Albert Quintena, 29, Santa Ana truck driver, was arrested last night by Sergeant A. L. Steward of the police department at Fourth and French streets on a drunk charge. He was lodged in the county jail to await trial.

Pedro Quillares appeared before Judge J. G. Mitchell in the police court today, when he was fined $15 on a drunk charge.

Theft of four signs which were on the windows of the Charles Kelly Drug store on Fourth street was reported to police today. The theft occurred yesterday afternoon.

A report that a woman had tried to pass a counterfeit silver dollar at a store at 1303 North Main street yesterday afternoon, was made to police by A. Curstensen. The woman paid for groceries with good money and departed with two men, the report said.

Mrs. D. A. Beeman, 2120 North Ross street, reported to police today that someone maliciously threw a large stone the size of an orange through the front window of her home at 10:30 o'clock last night. No reason was given for the vandalism.

Carl Hayes, 20, of Huntington Beach, was lodged in the county jail yesterday afternoon by Newport Beach officers on a charge of grand theft.

HUNTINGTON BEACH WIFE ASKS DIVORCE

Charging him with having made unjust, serious acusations against her, Mrs. Margaret I. Barker of Huntington Beach has filed suit for divorce from her husband, Fred Lloyd Barker.

In addition to an interlocutory decree of divorce Mrs. Barker is asking for custody of the couple's 17-year-old son and 16-year-old daughter, $50 monthly alimony for herself and $50 monthly for support of the children.

In her bill of complaint Mrs. Barker also accused her husband of having threatened to kill her on one occasion and said that he pressed a gun against her causing her to faint and become extremely ill. She also charges that her husband, in the presence of other people addressed vile and obscene language at her.

The Barkers were married in Los Angeles January 3, 1915, and separated May 1, 1933.

R. F. C. RELIEF WORK PROGRAM TO BE DISCONTINUED MAY 30; EXPECT NEW FUNDS JUNE 1

Orange county's work relief program conducted during April and May with R.F.C. funds will cease to function under administration of the R. F. C. after May 30, according to an announcement received yesterday by county officials.

Discontinuance of the work relief program under R. F. C. administration, however, does not mean that the program will be discontinued, according to Welfare Director B. V. Curry and W. C. Jerome, supervisor for the first district. They point out that plans are being completed for continuation of the relief work program under the recently adopted Wagner bill setting aside $500,000,000 for this purpose. Relief under this appropriation is scheduled to start June 1.

In a letter read to the supervisors yesterday R. C. Branion, administrator of R. F. C. funds in California, informed the county officials that work under the R. F. C. would end May 30 and any unexpended R. F. C. funds after that date probably would revert to the state.

Jerome pointed out that the notice was sent in order to clear the books of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation preparatory to the new Emergency Relief committee taking over the task. Jerome said that it has been indicated that, instead of curtailing the program under which Orange county is at present providing work for 1600 men daily, provisions of the program would be considerably liberalized.

In April Orange county received $50,000 for a work program and with that amount of money provided six days work for the heads of more than 3000 families at a daily wage of $2.50. For May the county was granted approximately $96,000 for continuation of the program and is providing jobs for 1600 men daily. The work this month has been placed on a dependant basis, furnishing eight days work for a man with a wife and additional day for each dependent, up to 16 days per month.

SALES EXPERT TO SPEAK HERE ON THURSDAY

Dr. Paul W. Ivey, nationally-known sales counselor and professor of merchandising at the University of Southern California, will give an address before the business men of Santa Ana in Room 11, at the junior college, Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. Ivey, who has been employed to train the salesmen of some of the largest corporations i nthe country, including: Marshall Field, Chrysler, duPont, Swift and others, will talk on, "The Brand of Salesmanship That Gets Results." This address will embrace some interesting experiences which the speaker has had in the last three years developing sales for corporations under adverse conditions.

Dr. Ivey is said to be a powerful, witty speaker and is in great demand before chambers of commerce and other organizations in the largest cities in the country. He is also the author of several books on merchandising and salesmanship, and writes for numerous trade magazines.

This meeting is open to all who are interested in selling, including bankers and professional men. It is believed that a capacity audience will be present to hear this noted authority, and that this outstanding meeting which is sponsored by the Santa Ana Merchants Association will be a real contribution to the morale of salesmen and sales executives at this particular time.

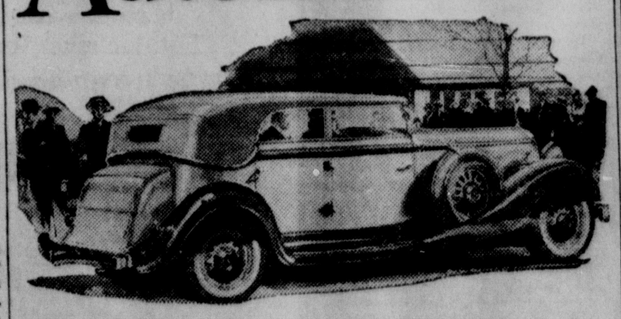

Reservations for this meeting can be made through the Merchants' association, phone 508.

WITMER MAKES STATEMENT ON ELECTION DATE

Explaining why the city council called the election on whether or not Santa Anans want alcoholic liquor sold in this city for June 8, about two weeks earlier than the board had been epected to call the election, Mayor Paul Witmer issued a public statement today.

"The election was called for June 8," Mayor Witmer said, "because members of the city council believed a great deal of the argument and controversy which usually accompanies wet and dry fights would be avoided and that the sooner the matter was settled, one way or the other, the better.

"The council has many things more important to iron out in the near future than the beer question and we believe it will be better for the community to get the matter settled as soon as possible. No other communities have waited as long as Santa Ana for an election.

"Holding the election on June 8 is just as fair for one side as another, I do not believe it would make 20 votes difference to wait.

Under the new election law voters do not have to re-register if they voted last year."

Begin Selection Of Jurors To Try Gun Club at H. B.

Selection of a jury to try the West Shores Gun club on charges of non-beneficial use of water in the Santa Ana river basin was under way today in the court of Justice of the Peace Chris Pann at Huntington Beach.

Over 150 persons, many of them ranchers from various parts of Orange county, were present when the trial opened at 10 o'clock this morning.

Suits have been filed against 13 gun clubs.

2350 JOBLESS MEN WILL GET WORK FRIDAY

Crews employed under the Orange county work relief program financed through R. F. C. funds will be increased to 2350 men beginning Friday. This was necessary, Welfare Director B. V. Curry said this morning, in order to use up the May allotment of more than $96,000 before May 30.

Curry was notified yesterday that the R. F. C. program will close on May 30 and any unexpended funds after that date would probably revert to the state. The R. F. C. program is being discontinued preparatory to launching on June 1 a more liberalized relief program under the Wagner bill setting aside $500,000,000 for unemployment relief.

Yesterday 1500 men were assigned to jobs in the county and this number will be increased to 1800 men tomorrow. On Friday the full quota of 2350 men will be assigned to jobs. With 2350 men working the daily expenditure in wages will be $5875.

Work in the Doheny State Park, on the beach, has been approved and yesterday 50 men were started to work cleaning the park and building roads and trails.

R. F. C. RELIEF WORK PROGRAM TO BE DISCONTINUED MAY 30; EXPECT NEW FUNDS JUNE 1

Orange county's work relief program conducted during April and May with R.F.C. funds will cease to function under administration of the R. F. C. after May 30, according to an announcement received yesterday by county officials.

Discontinuance of the work relief program under R. F. C. administration, however, does not mean that the program will be discontinued, according to Welfare Director B. V. Curry and W. C. Jerome, supervisor for the first district. They point out that plans are being completed for continuation of the relief work program under the recently adopted Wagner bill setting aside $500,000,000 for this purpose. Relief under this appropriation is scheduled to start June 1.

In a letter read to the supervisors yesterday R. C. Branion, administrator of R. F. C. funds in California, informed the county officials that work under the R. F. C. would end May 30 and any unexpended R. F. C. funds after that date probably would revert to the state.

Jerome pointed out that the notice was sent in order to clear the books of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation preparatory to the new Emergency Relief committee taking over the task. Jerome said that it has been indicated that, instead of curtailing the program under which Orange county is at present providing work for 1600 men daily, provisions of the program would be considerably liberalized.

In April Orange county received $50,000 for a work program and with that amount of money provided six days work for the heads of more than 3000 families at a daily wage of $2.50. For May the county was granted approximately $96,000 for continuation of the program and is providing jobs for 1600 men daily. The work this month has been placed on a dependant basis, furnishing eight days work for a man with a wife and additional day for each dependent, up to 16 days per month.

SALES EXPERT TO SPEAK HERE ON THURSDAY

Dr. Paul W. Ivey, nationally-known sales counselor and professor of merchandising at the University of Southern California, will give an address before the business men of Santa Ana in Room 11, at the junior college, Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. Ivey, who has been employed to train the salesmen of some of the largest corporations i nthe country, including: Marshall Field, Chrysler, duPont, Swift and others, will talk on, "The Brand of Salesmanship That Gets Results." This address will embrace some interesting experiences which the speaker has had in the last three years developing sales for corporations under adverse conditions.

Dr. Ivey is said to be a powerful, witty speaker and is in great demand before chambers of commerce and other organizations in the largest cities in the country. He is also the author of several books on merchandising and salesmanship, and writes for numerous trade magazines.

This meeting is open to all who are interested in selling, including bankers and professional men. It is believed that a capacity audience will be present to hear this noted authority, and that this outstanding meeting which is sponsored by the Santa Ana Merchants Association will be a real contribution to the morale of salesmen and sales executives at this particular time.

Reservations for this meeting can be made through the Merchants' association, phone 508.

WITMER MAKES STATEMENT ON ELECTION DATE

Explaining why the city council called the election on whether or not Santa Anans want alcoholic liquor sold in this city for June 8, about two weeks earlier than the board had been epected to call the election, Mayor Paul Witmer issued a public statement today.

"The election was called for June 8," Mayor Witmer said, "because members of the city council believed a great deal of the argument and controversy which usually accompanies wet and dry fights would be avoided and that the sooner the matter was settled, one way or the other, the better.

"The council has many things more important to iron out in the near future than the beer question and we believe it will be better for the community to get the matter settled as soon as possible. No other communities have waited as long as Santa Ana for an election.

"Holding the election on June 8 is just as fair for one side as another, I do not believe it would make 20 votes difference to wait.

Under the new election law voters do not have to re-register if they voted last year."

Begin Selection Of Jurors To Try Gun Club at H. B.

Selection of a jury to try the West Shores Gun club on charges of non-beneficial use of water in the Santa Ana river basin was under way today in the court of Justice of the Peace Chris Pann at Huntington Beach.

Over 150 persons, many of them ranchers from various parts of Orange county, were present when the trial opened at 10 o'clock this morning.

Suits have been filed against 13 gun clubs.

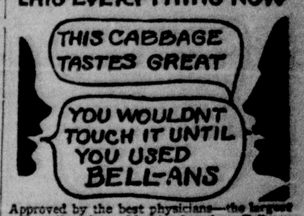

2350 JOBLESS MEN WILL GET WORK FRIDAY

Crews employed under the Orange county work relief program financed through R. F. C. funds will be increased to 2350 men beginning Friday. This was necessary, Welfare Director B. V. Curry said this morning, in order to use up the May allotment of more than $96,000 before May 30.

Curry was notified yesterday that the R. F. C. program will close on May 30 and any unexpended funds after that date would probably revert to the state. The R. F. C. program is being discontinued preparatory to launching on June 1 a more liberalized relief program under the Wagner bill setting aside $500,000,000 for unemployment relief.

Yesterday 1500 men were assigned to jobs in the county and this number will be increased to 1800 men tomorrow. On Friday the full quota of 2350 men will be assigned to jobs. With 2350 men working the daily expenditure in wages will be $5875.

Work in the Doheny State Park on the beach, has been approved and yesterday 50 men were started to work cleaning the park and building roads and trails.

BOARD ELECTS ALL PERMANENT CITY TEACHERS

All teachers in the elementary, high school and junior college districts at present listed as permanent teachers were re-employed last night by the Santa Ana b oard of education.

While the teachers were elected, their salaries will not be fixed until more definite information as to finances can be obtained. Instead of setting the salary rate last night the board adopted a maximum and minimum and will notify each teacher that the salary will be set within those limits.

Dr. Margarete Baker pointed out that under that plan it will be possible for the board to be more generous when salaries are fixed than it could be if forced to set salaries at present.

Discussing possible salaries for the year 1933-34 it was indicated that any salary reductions for the year would probably be in the higher bracket salaries. M. B. Youel said that he favored that plan and was supported by Chairman George Wells.

Superintendent of Schools Frank Henderson said that in his opinion $1200 should be the minimum salary paid any teacher and pointed out that under the $1080 minimum paid last year there were several teachers drawing smaller salaries than were janitors and cafeteria operators.

The maximum and minimum schedules adopted last night were: elementary, minimum $1080, maximum $1800; junior high school for teachers holding junior high school credentials, $1260 minimum and $2160 maximum; senior high school minimum $1350, aximum $2520; junior college minimum $1350, maximum $2880.

The following permanent teachers in the elementary district were re-employed:

SALVATION ARMY REPORT SHOWS MANY ARE HELPED

Another busy month for the Santa Ana Salvation Army during April is indicated by the monthly report of the army, announced today by Major F. Schute.

It shows there were 1422 meals served during the month and beds for 639 persons were furnished. A total of 601 men were given meals and beds.

Forty-eight garments were given away and 11 pairs of shoes and 340 were sold for a small remuneration, 53 pairs of shoes, 49 pieces of furniture and 299 other articles sold.

Five hundred and sixty-eight families were given bread and milk which included 1812 persons and 1514 quarts of milk were dispensed. There were 316 loaves of bread given away.

For employment 69 persons made application and 31 were given work.

COUNCIL MAY REVERSE TAXI LICENSE STAND

The policy long maintained by the city council of allowing only one taxi cab business to operate legitimately in Santa Ana, is believed to have been broken at last with the announcement by various members of the city board that should taxi companies agree on fare zones, the bars will be let down and licenses will be issued several cab companies.

Nothing definite has been done regarding the issuing of licenses, but O. A. Jacobs, attorney, representing the Home Taxi Cab company, agreed to see that such an agreement was reached, if the board would allow the licenses to be issued and it was so agreed.

A. E. Lewis, a relative of Jack Kinzer, said to be undercover owner of the Home Taxi Cab company and John R. Wilson, operator of the Home Cab company both have filed applications with the board for licenses. The only legitimate license held at the present time is by the Courtesy Cab company, operated by C. F. Eddleman, and formerly owned by C. H. Eckles, operator of the Santa Ana Bus system, who has been opposed to granting other taxi licenses.

It was suggested that the old 10 cent zone, east to Grand avenue, west to Bristol street, north to Seventeenth street and South to Edinger street be adopted in the new arrangement of things and this likely will be done, but the council plans to wait until next Monday to hear what Attorney Jacobs has to report about the zoning before it agrees to issue any licenses.

DISCHARGE OF SAN CLEMENTE CHIEF ASKED

A resolution asking the city council of San Clemente to oust Harry Comber, chief of police, on the grounds of inefficiency and refusal to pay bills, was adopted at a meeting of the San Clemente Business Men's association at the city hall last night.

Reports of the meeting differ. From one source The Register was informed that the 28 members present adopted the resolution by unanimous vote but from two members who said they were present, a different version was given. They claimed that of the 18 or 20 men present, only 10 were members of the association, with seven or eight voting in favor of Comber being ousted.

The city council is to meet Friday night, when it is expected that the resolution will be presented. According to reports, it is planned to have the resolution circulated as a petition among the citizens of the Spanish Village.

A business man who voted for the resolution called The Register this morning to state that he had been informed later the fight against Comber was the result of a personal grudge and that if his investigation brought that out, he would have his name stricken off.

Comber has been on the San Clemente force for the past four years, being appointed chief two years ago.

Gerald Woodman is president of the Business Men's association and Danny Henon is secretary. The resolution follows:

"We the members of the San Clmente Business Men's association respectfully petition the city council of the city of San Clemente to remove the present chief of police. We feel that this step is necessary to the well being of our city inasmuch as the present chief of police does not and has no intention of paying his obligations; uses his uniform to incur other obligations which he does nat pay, does not perform his duties steadily and efficiently, that is, does not work for two or three days and then goes on an orgy of arresting. As all the above reacts to ours' and the city's disadvantage, we feel we are right in making this request."

SERVE WARRANTS IN LICENSE CASES

Warrants on nine of the 12 business men delinquent in payment of license fees were served today by Assistant Chief of Police Harry Fink following issuance of the warrants yesterday by Police Judge J. G. Mitchell.

C. H. Eckles, Whittier bus man who has been operating buses in Santa Ana for several years, who heads the list of delinquents, had not been located this morning.

All of the business men contacted were scheduled to appear in police court this afternoon to tell why they have not paid back licenses.

GASOLINE PRICES JUMP IN S. A. TODAY

Gasoline prices took another jump in Santa Ana today.

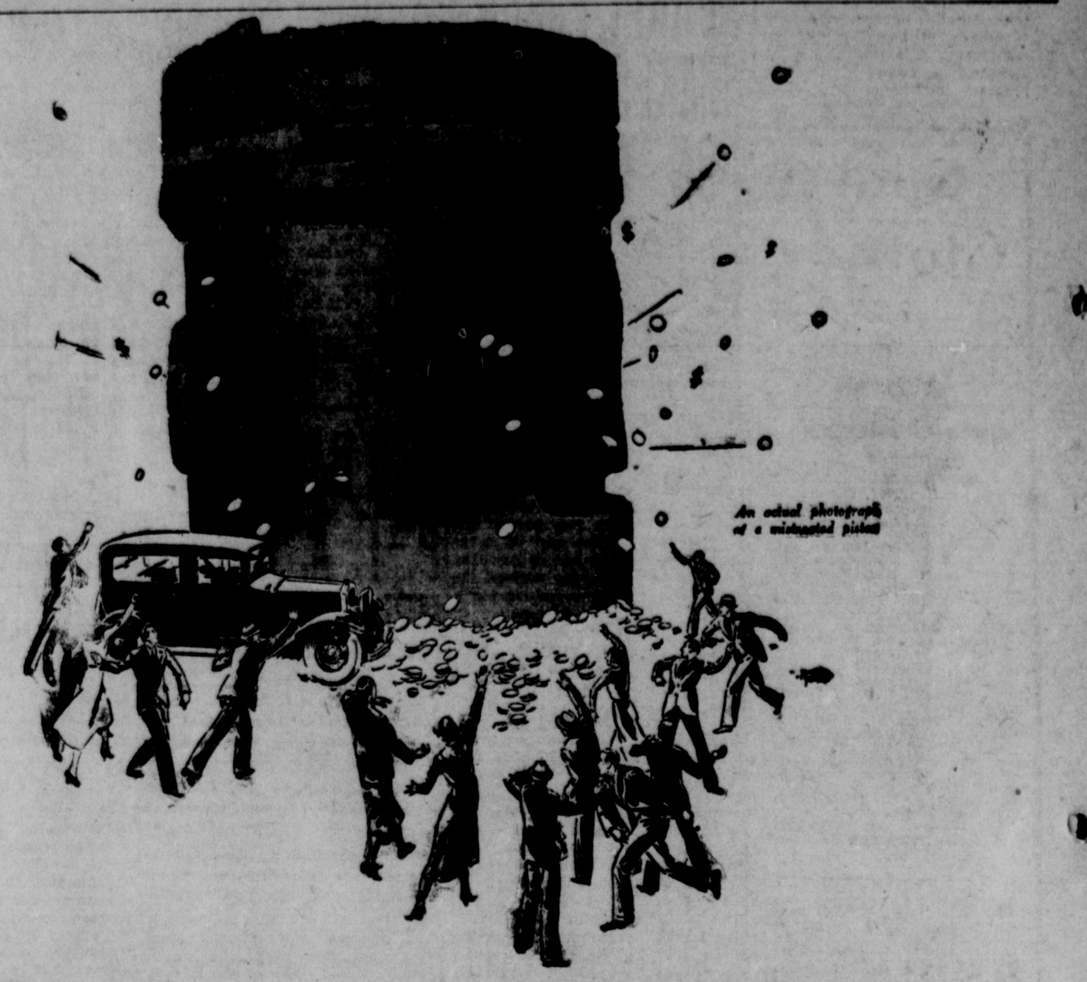

Prices of standard gasoline were raised from 16 cents to 16½ cents, ethyl went from 19 to 19½ and a full cent raise was noted in the so called "cheap" gas, it now selling for 12.9 cents per gallon.

The raise in price was general with all major companies and according to word from Los Angeles, brings to an end a price war which has been carried on in Southern California for the past several weeks.

Clerk Arranging For June 8 Vote

Consolidation of the 71 precincts in Santa Ana into 25 precincts for the election on June 8 to determine whether or not alcoholic beer shall be sold in Santa Ana was started today by City Clerk Ed Vegley.

Locating the precincts on a city map was expected to be completed by tomorrow. Names of election officers also may be announced tomorrow.

Are you killing your car with "kindness"?

In buying the "highest priced" oil in America you may be doing the worst possible thing for your car!

Naturally, you think a lot of your motor. You want to give it the best care in the world. Nothing is too good to protect your motor car investment. So you are careful to buy the best oil the market affords. Yet...

Science... cold, relentless science... now assures you that in buying the "highest priced" oil in America you may be doing the worst possible thing for your car. Yesterday's "high priced" oil is not today's "best" oil. Science has changed that with RING-FREE... the result of an amazing, radically new process.

It has endurance... greater by far than high priced carbon-forming oils. It produces more compression and power... by giving your motor clean lubrication. It reduces gas and oil consumption... by saving the piston rings from carbon strangulation. Moreover...

It has proved its case by exhaustive laboratory tests plus actual road performance in more than a half million motors. Today, say "Ring-free" to any service station listed on this page... and see what happens!

Only Ring-free Motor Oil can give you these revolutionary features:

1 You get more compression ... more power ... new car performance.
2 Less gas consumption.
3 Less oil consumption.
4 No hard or sticky carbon.
5 Completely acid-free oil.
6 Turns black in crankcase ... as it cleans away carbon deposited by other oils and gasoline.
7 Far less wear of moving parts... proved by actual measurements.

Ask your service station man for proof

Dr. Margarete Baker pointed out that under that plan it will be possible for the board to be more generous when salaries are fixed than it could be if forced to set salaries at present.

Discussing possible salaries for the year 1933-34 it was indicated that any salary reductions for the year would probably be in the higher bracket salaries. M. B. Youel said that he favored that plan and was supported by Chairman George Wells.

Superintendent of Schools Frank Henderson said that in his opinion $1200 should be the minimum salary paid any teacher and pointed out that under the $1080 minimum paid last year there were several teachers drawing smaller salaries than were janitors and cafeteria operators.

The maximum and minimum schedules adopted last night were: elementary, minimum $1080, maximum $1800; junior high school for teachers holding junior high school credentials, $1260 minimum and $2160 maximum; senior high school minimum $1350, aximum $2520; junior college minimum $1350, maximum $2880.

The following permanent teachers in the elementary district were re-employed:

SALVATION ARMY REPORT SHOWS MANY ARE HELPED

Another busy month for the Santa Ana Salvation Army during April is indicated by the monthly report of the army, announced today by Major F. Schute.

It shows there were 1422 meals served during the month and beds for 639 persons were furnished. A total of 601 men were given meals and beds.

Forty-eight garments were given away and 11 pairs of shoes and 340 were sold for a small remuneration, 53 pairs of shoes, 49 pieces of furniture and 299 other articles sold.

Five hundred and sixty-eight families were given bread and milk which included 1812 persons and 1514 quarts of milk were dispensed. There were 316 loaves of bread given away.

For employment 69 persons made application and 31 were given work.

COUNCIL MAY REVERSE TAXI LICENSE STAND

The policy long maintained by the city council of allowing only one taxi cab business to operate legitimately in Santa Ana, is believed to have been broken at last with the announcement by various members of the city board that should taxi companies agree on fare zones, the bars will be let down and licenses will be issued several cab companies.

Nothing definite has been done regarding the issuing of licenses, but O. A. Jacobs, attorney, representing the Home Taxi Cab company, agreed to see that such an agreement was reached, if the board would allow the licenses to be issued and it was so agreed.

A. E. Lewis, a relative of Jack Kinzer, said to be undercover owner of the Home Taxi Cab company and John R. Wilson, operator of the Home Cab company both have filed applications with the board for licenses. The only legitimate license held at the present time is by the Courtesy Cab company, operated by C. F. Eddleman, and formerly owned by C. H. Eckles, operator of the Santa Ana Bus system, who has been opposed to granting other taxi licenses.

It was suggested that the old 10 cent zone, east to Grand avenue, west to Bristol street, north to Seventeenth street and South to Edinger street be adopted in the new arrangement of things and this likely will be done, but the council plans to wait until next Monday to hear what Attorney Jacobs has to report about the zoning before it agrees to issue any licenses.

DISCHARGE OF SAN CLEMENTE CHIEF ASKED

A resolution asking the city council of San Clemente to oust Harry Comber, chief of police, on the grounds of inefficiency and refusal to pay bills, was adopted at a meeting of the San Clemente Business Men's association at the city hall last night.

Reports of the meeting differ. From one source The Register was informed that the 28 members present adopted the resolution by unanimous vote but from two members who said they were present, a different version was given. They claimed that of the 18 or 20 men present, only 10 were members of the association, with seven or eight voting in favor of Comber being ousted.

The city council is to meet Friday night, when it is expected that the resolution will be presented. According to reports, it is planned to have the resolution circulated as a petition among the citizens of the Spanish Village.

A business man who voted for the resolution called The Register this morning to state that he had been informed later the fight against Comber was the result of a personal grudge and that if his investigation brought that out, he would have his name stricken off.

Comber has been on the San Clemente force for the past four years, being appointed chief two years ago.

Gerald Woodman is president of the Business Men's association and Danny Henon is secretary. The resolution follows:

"We the members of the San Clmente Business Men's association respectfully petition the city council of the city of San Clemente to remove the present chief of police. We feel that this step is necessary to the well being of our city inasmuch as the present chief of police does not and has no intention of paying his obligations; uses his uniform to incur other obligations which he does nat pay, does not perform his duties steadily and efficiently, that is, does not work for two or three days and then goes on an orgy of arresting. As all the above reacts to ours' and the city's disadvantage, we feel we are right in making this request."

Clerk Arranging For June 8 Vote

Consolidation of the 71 precincts in Santa Ana into 25 precincts for the election on June 8 to determine whether or not alcoholic beer shall be sold in Santa Ana was started today by City Clerk Ed Vogley.

Locating of the precincts on a city map was expected to be completed by tomorrow. Names of election officers also may be announced tomorrow.

SERVE WARRANTS IN LICENSE CASES

Warrants on nine of the 12 business men delinquent in payment of license fees were served today by Assistant Chief of Police Harry Fink following issuance of the warrants yesterday by Police Judge J. G. Mitchell.

C. H. Eckles, Whittier bus man who has been operating buses in Santa Ana for several years, who heads the list of delinquents, had not been located this morning.

All of the business men contacted were scheduled to appear in police court this afternoon to tell why they have not paid back licenses.

GASOLINE PRICES JUMP IN S. A. TODAY

Gasoline prices took another jump in Santa Ana today.

Prices of standard gasoline were raised from 16 cents to 16½ cents, ethyl went from 19 to 19½ and a full cent raise was noted in the so called "cheap" gas, it now selling for 12.9 cents per gallon.

The raise in price was general with all major companies and according to word from Los Angeles, brings to an end a price war which has been carried on in Southern California for the past several weeks.

An actual photograph of a mishandled piston

Are you killing your car with "kindness"?

In buying the "highest priced" oil in America you may be doing the worst possible thing for your car!

Naturally, you think a lot of your motor. You want to give it the best care in the world. Nothing is too good to protect your motor car investment. So you are careful to buy the best oil the market affords. Yet...

Science ... cold, relentless science ... now assures you that in buying the "highest priced" oil in America you may be doing the worst possible thing for your car. Yesterday's "high priced" oil is not today's "best" oil. Science has changed that with RING-FREE... the result of an amazing, radically new process.

It has endurance... greater by far than high priced carbon-forming oils. It produces more compression and power... by giving your motor clean lubrication. It reduces gas and oil consumption ... by saving the piston rings from carbon strangulation. Moreover...

It has proved its case by exhaustive laboratory tests plus actual road performance in more than a half million motors. Today, say "Ring-free" to any service station listed on this page ... and see what happens!

Only Ring-free Motor Oil can give you these revolutionary features:

1 You get more compression ... more power ... new car performance.
2 Less gas consumption.
3 Less oil consumption.
4 No hard or sticky carbon.
5 Completely acid-free oil.
6 Turns black in crankcase ... as it cleans away carbon deposited by other oils and gasoline.
7 Far less wear of moving parts... proved by actual measurements.

Ask your service station man for proof

Guaranteed to REMOVE CARBON or your money will be refunded

START WORK ON ADDITION TO EDISON PLANT

Additions and repairs to the Southern California Edison company plant on East Washington avenue which will cost around $10,000 were started today, it was announced by B. H. McPhee, divisional superintendent.

Repairs entailing considerable work were necessary because of damage caused by the recent earthquake, and officials of the Edison company decided to make the necessary additions at the same time.

The addition to the main plant will be 20 by 90 feet and is to be erected on the east side of the main building. Wells and Bressler of Santa Ana will handle the contract for the erection of the building, which will be built of stucco. Gilbert, Weston and Stearns were given the contract for the electrical work.

The divisional offices will be established in the new addition. Since Santa Ana was made a division point, offices in the old quarters have been crowded. About three times as much room will be provided by the new building. Other features of the addition will be lockers for men employes, full electric heating and a large fireproof vault for the protection of the records.

As a protection against other earthquakes which might come, the top of the plant building will be bondstoned.

Repairs have also been made to plants in Huntington Beach and Fullerton recently.

LETTERS FILED IN GEO. EDGAR ESTATE

Petition for letters of administration for the estate of George A. Edgar, pioneer Santa Ana resident and long-time member of the Democratic County Central committee, have been filed in superior court by his widow, Mrs. Oceana V. Edgar. The petition declared that Edgar died intestate.

The estate, consisting of real and personal property was valued at not more than $1000. The estate, as listed was a one-ninth interest in five Santa Ana lots, valued at $500; a fifth interest in another lot valued at $50 and ownership of a lot not valued in the petition. Personal property the petition said does not exceed $100.

Politically Speaking

BY THOMAS B. MALARKEY

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Calif., May 10. —(UP)—This is a story of vote trading—a peep behind the curtains to discover what salvaged such hopelessly defeated bills as the state water plan.

At this writing, it appears two factors reversed the senate's vote on the water plan constitutional amendment. One was vote trading ability of John McColl, Redding; the other, gubernatorial pressure.

The United Press was informed McColl jockeyed, traded and dickered with amazing success. He earned the sobriquet conferred on him by Senator W. P. Rich: "The greatest horse trader in the senate." Pressure of Governor Rolph was also brought to bear. Reports that the governor reminded opponents many of their bills would reach the governor's desk, and that the executive still retained the veto power, could not be confirmed.

A third "deal" fell through. One senator, it was reported, agreed to vote to pass the anti-capital punishment bill out of committee if the other voted for the water plan. The former kept his agreement. The latter reneged.

Vote trading and jockeying also accounted for the senate's amazing $6,000,000 budget increase over the assembly's figures. Here's a sample. One group wanted teachers' college appropriation increases. Another sought to up the university budget. Still another desired another concession. Alone, any one would fail. Together they would succeed. So all voted for each other and obtained a majority on all.

When the budget got back to the assembly for concurrence, the increases carried so much "pork" for various assemblymen that the southern California economy block could not stop concurrence.

The governor has had a glorious week. Victories over the legislature have restored somewhat his lost prestige. Here are a few: racing bill veto sustained; also vetoes of a minor utility bill and a measure abolishing the advisory pardon board; confirmation of his son's appointment to the pilot commission; passage of his pet bill, the state water plan. One setback was chalked up—defeat of a bill placing control of the civil service into the hands of a commission appointed by the governor.

Southern California's control of the assembly has been broken. A newspaper article did the trick. This story stressed the southerners' absolute control of the lower house. This impelled an alignment between the "Hill Billies" rural assemblymen — and the veteran San Francisco delegation. The merger dethroned southern California.

Sidelights

It'll be a long time before the governor lives down the accidental signing of a bill which, according to reports, he intended to veto . . . the measure abolished 43 appointive jobs and saved the state $350,000.

Casual conversation with the governor reveals he has a few pet peeves against his finance director, Rolland Vandegrift . . . one is that William Brownrig, chief of personnel, whom Rolph dislikes, was Van's man.

Vandegrift has taken the aggressive again . . . during budget making time, he was silent . . . after passage, he opened up and mercilessly criticized the legislature for failure to take earlier steps to prevent the state from going into the red.

Closing days of the legislature saw one tense situation after the other . . . one-vote margins were frequent . . . there's a sporting thrill in a close vote . . . reminds you of a team on the one-yard line, fourth down and one yard to go.

Typical expressions of an assembly angered at the senate: "Log rollers," "Past Masters in the art of the pork barrel," "House of Lords" and "Horse Traders."

Court Notes

W. A. Stutsman, 1001 Newport boulevard, Tustin, reported the theft of a suitcase containing clothing and other articles valued at $50 to Santa Ana police today.

An automobile belonging to Floyd Mills was recovered by Santa Ana police when Theo Ritter, 801 Grand avenue, notified police as to the location of the car.

Robert L. Ross, 24, Alhambra, and George Walsh, 25, Los Angeles, have been booked in the county jail by Newport Beach officers on charges of disturbing the peace.

Clarence B. Gilbert, 37, of Bell, booked at the county jail by Fullerton officers on petty theft charges. William McCarthy, 52, Buena Park, also was booked on a similar charge by Anaheim police officers.

Pedro Quillares, 50, 1919 East Washington avenue, has been lodged in the county jail on drunk charges.

Milton Mitchell was arrested yesterday at 120½ North Flower street on drunk charges by Santa Ana officers.

APPLICATIONS FOR LIBRARY POST FILED

Appointment of a county librarian to take the place left vacant through the death of Miss Margaret Livingston will be delayed for several weeks, according to announcement of Willard Smith, chairman of the board of supervisors yesterday.

This decision was reached after the board had discussed appointment of a successor to Miss Livingston and decided to adopt the policy of giving departmental employes an opporunity to attain higher position. The delay, it was indicated, was for the purpose of giving Miss Dorothy Wentz, first assistant librarian an opportunity to take the state librarian's examination scheduled for the latter part of ths month. The board indicated that if Miss Wentz secures her state certificate she will be offered the position.

Miss Wentz is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Wentz, of Fullerton, and a niece of Superior Judge H. G. Ames.

Four applications for the position were read to the board. Two of the applications were filed by Santa Ana girls and one from a former head librarian of Tulare county and formerly connected with the San Diego city library. Mrs. Jennie Herrman, former head librarian of Tulare, had sent her application by telegram and appeared before the board and outlined her qualifications.

Miss Ruth Bradley, of Santa Ana, daughter of E. M. Bradley, applied for the post stating that she is a graduate of the Santa Ana high school and Junior colege and University of California at Los Angeles. She had had training in library work and practical experience under Miss Jeannette McFadden in the Santa Ana city library.

Miss Clara Kate Owen, at present connected with the Book Nook Lending Library applied for the position. Miss Owen, also a resident of Santa Ana secured her degree of Bachelor of Science in Library Science from the University of Washington and has worked in the Santa Ana high school and junior college library. She also is a graduate of the Santa Ana high school and college.

Miss Roxie Hall, first assistant librarian of the Monterey County Free Library and former first assistant in the Ventura County Free Library, also applied for the position.

MRS. GOODWIN TO HEAD BREA WOMAN'S CLUB

BREA, May 10. — The annual meeting of the Brea Woman's club was held Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. W. E. Fanning presiding. Mrs. W. D. Shaffer reported nominees for the new club year.

The new officers will be Mrs. D. A. Goodwin, president; Mrs. Frances Davis, first vice president; Mrs. C. H. Woodruff, second vice president; Mrs. J. J. Holland, recording secretary; Mrs. Carolyn Horton, corresponding secretary; Mrs. H. W. Hardy, treasurer; Mrs. R. W. Spensley, curator and historian; Mrs. J. B. Phillips, custodian; Mrs. W. E. Fanning, parliamentarian. Appointive offices will be filled at the June meeting which will be held in the gardens of the Shaffer home when officers will be installed.

Mrs. Davis announced the breakfast meeting of the Book and Basket section in the city park Friday morning, each member to bring her own table service.

Mrs. Fanning named Mrs. Hardy and Mrs. H. R. Williams a committee to audit the books. A letter of condolence will be written the family of Mrs. L. H. Newell, recently deceased member. Carl Yost, senior at the Brea-Olinda Union High school, announced the junior class play "You're Telling Me?" and presented Marjorie Green, Bernadine Jansen, Bruce Hamlin and Don White in a short skit from the play.

A beautiful arrangement of quilts, afghans, pillows, paintings, rugs and embroidered linens was shown as the work of the art section this year with Mrs. R. M. Fleisher in charge.

Mrs. J. M. Cloyes, county chairman of art and literature, was presented by Mrs. C. O. Harvey and gave a most interesting talk on women of the renaissance.

Santa Ana To Be Headquarters For J. H. Fitzgerald

J. H. FitzGerald, a former executive of the General Foods Sales company, Los Angeles branch, has been transferred to Santa Ana and will have charge of the Orange county and the Long Beach districts, it was announced today.

He will be assisted in Orange county by Charles MacDaliels jr., well known to the grocery fraternity in Southern California.

FitzGerald said he was glad to have Santa Ana as his new headquarters as he was very favorably impressed with the city.

START WORK ON ADDITION TO EDISON PLANT

Additions and repairs to the Southern California Edison company plant on East Washington avenue which will cost around $10,000 were started today, it was announced by B. H. McPhee, divisional superintendent.

Repairs entailing considerable work were necessary because of damage caused by the recent earthquake, and officials of the Edison company decided to make the necessary additions at the same time.

The addition to the main plant will be 20 by 90 feet and is to be erected on the east side of the main building. Wells and Bressler of Santa Ana will handle the contract for the erection of the building, which will be built of stucco. Gilbert, Weston and Stearns were given the contract for the electrical work.

The divisional offices will be established in the new addition. Since Santa Ana was made a division point, offices in the old quarters have been crowded. About three times as much room will be provided by the new building. Other features of the addition will be lockers for men employes, full electric heating and a large fireproof vault for the protection of the records.

As a protection against other earthquakes which might come, the top of the plant building will be bondstoned.

Repairs have also been made to plants in Huntington Beach and Fullerton recently.

LETTERS FILED IN GEO. EDGAR ESTATE

Petition for letters of administration for the estate of George A. Edgar, pioneer Santa Ana resident and long-time member of the Democratic County Central committee, have been filed in superior court by his widow, Mrs. Oceana V. Edgar. The petition declared that Edgar died intestate.

The estate, consisting of real and personal property was valued at not more than $1000. The estate, as listed was a one-ninth interest in five Santa Ana lots, valued at $500; a fifth interest in another lot valued at $50 and ownership of a lot not valued in the petition. Personal property the petition said does not exceed $100.

Politically Speaking

BY THOMAS B. MALARKEY

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Calif., May 10.—(UP)—This is a story of vote trading—a peep behind the curtains to discover what salvaged such hopelessly defeated bills as the state water plan.

At this writing, it appears two factors reversed the senate's vote on the water plan constitutional amendment. One was vote trading ability of John McColl, Redding; the other, gubernatorial pressure.

The United Press was informed McColl jockeyed, traded and dickered with amazing success. He earned the sobriquet conferred on him by Senator W. P. Rich: "The greatest horse trader in the senate." Pressure of Governor Rolph was also brought to bear. Reports that the governor reminded opponents many of their bills would reach the governor's desk, and that the executive still retained the veto power, could not be confirmed.

A third "deal" fell through. One senator, it was reported, agreed to vote to pass the anti-capital punishment bill out of committee if the other voted for the water plan. The former kept his agreement. The latter reneged.

Vote trading and jockeying also accounted for the senate's amazing $6,000,000 budget increase over the assembly's figures. Here's a sample. One group wanted teachers' college appropriation increases. Another sought to up the university budget. Still another desired another concession. Alone, any one would fail. Together they would succeed. So all voted for each other and obtained a majority on all.

When the budget got back to the assembly for concurrence, the increases carried so much "pork" for various assemblymen that the southern California economy block could not stop concurrence.

The governor has had a glorious week. Victories over the legislature have restored somewhat his lost prestige. Here are a few: racing bill veto sustained; also vetoes of a minor utility bill and a measure abolishing the advisory pardon board; confirmation of his son's appointment to the pilot commission; passage of his pet bill, the state water plan. One setback was chalked up—defeat of a bill placing control of the civil service into the hands of a commission appointed by the governor.

Southern California's control of the assembly has been broken. A newspaper article did the trick. This story stressed the southerners' absolute control of the lower house. This impelled an alignment between the "Hill Billies" rural assemblymen — and the veteran San Francisco delegation. The merger dethroned southern California.

Sidelights

It'll be a long time before the governor lives down the accidental signing of a bill which, according to reports, he intended to veto . . . the measure abolished 43 appointive jobs and saved the state $350,000.

Casual conversation with the governor reveals he has a few pet peeves against his finance director, Rolland Vandegrift . . . one is that William Brownrig, chief of personnel, whom Rolph dislikes, was Van's man.

Vandegrift has taken the aggressive again . . . during budget making time, he was silent . . . after passage, he opened up and mercilessly criticized the legislature for failure to take earlier steps to prevent the state from going into the red.

Closing days of the legislature saw one tense situation after the other . . . one-vote margins were frequent . . . there's a sporting thrill in a close vote . . . reminds you of a team on the one-yard line, fourth down and one yard to go.

Typical expressions of an assembly angered at the senate: "Log rollers," "Past Masters in the art of the pork barrel," "House of Lords" and "Horse Traders."

Court Notes

W. A. Stutsman, 1001 Newport boulevard, Tustin, reported the theft of a suitcase containing clothing and other articles valued at $50 to Santa Ana police today.

An automobile belonging to Floyd Mills was recovered by Santa Ana police when Theo Ritter, 801 Grand avenue, notified police as to the location of the car.

Robert L. Ross, 24, Alhambra, and George Walsh, 25, Los Angeles, have been booked in the county jail by Newport Beach officers on charges of disturbing the peace.

Clarence B. Gilbert, 37, of Bell, booked at the county jail by Fullerton officers on petty theft charges. William McCarthy, 52, Buena Park, also was booked on a similar charge by Anaheim police officers.

Pedro Quillares, 50, 1919 East Washington avenue, has been lodged in the county jail on drunk charges.

Milton Mitchell was arrested yesterday at 120½ North Flower street on drunk charges by Santa Ana officers.

APPLICATIONS FOR LIBRARY POST FILED

Appointment of a county librarian to take the place left vacant through the death of Miss Margaret Livingston will be delayed for several weeks, according to announcement of Willard Smith, chairman of the board of supervisors yesterday.

This decision was reached after the board had discussed appointment of a successor to Miss Livingston and decided to adopt the policy of giving departmental employes an opporunity to attain higher position. The delay, it was indicated, was for the purpose of giving Miss Dorothy Wentz, first assistant librarian an opportunity to take the state librarian's examination scheduled for the latter part of ths month. The board indicated that if Miss Wentz secures her state certificate she will be offered the position.

Miss Wentz is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Wentz, of Fullerton, and a niece of Superior Judge H. G. Ames.

Four applications for the position were read to the board. Two of the applications were filed by Santa Ana girls and one from a former head librarian of Tulare county and formerly connected with the San Diego city library. Mrs. Jennie Herrman, former head librarian of Tulare, had sent her application by telegram and appeared before the board and outlined her qualifications.

Miss Ruth Bradley, of Santa Ana, daughter of E. M. Bradley, applied for the post stating that she is a graduate of the Santa Ana high school and Junior colege and University of California at Los Angeles. She had had training in library work and practical experience under Miss Jeannette McFadden in the Santa Ana city library.

Miss Clara Kate Owen, at present connected with the Book Nook Lending Library applied for the position. Miss Owen, also a resident of Santa Ana secured her degree of Bachelor of Science in Library Science from the University of Washington and has worked in the Santa Ana high school and junior college library. She also is a graduate of the Santa Ana high school and college.

Miss Roxie Hall, first assistant librarian of the Monterey County Free Library and former first assistant in the Ventura County Free Library, also applied for the position.

MRS. GOODWIN TO HEAD BREA WOMAN'S CLUB

BREA, May 10. — The annual meeting of the Brea Woman's club was held Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. W. E. Fanning presiding. Mrs. W. D. Shaffer reported nominees for the new club year.

The new officers will be Mrs. D. A. Goodwin, president; Mrs. Frances Davis, first vice president; Mrs. C. H. Woodruff, second vice president; Mrs. J. J. Holland, recording secretary; Mrs. Carolyn Horton, corresponding secretary; Mrs. H. W. Hardy, treasurer; Mrs. R. W. Spensley, curator and historian; Mrs. J. B. Phillips, custodian; Mrs. W. E. Fanning, parliamentarian. Appointive offices will be filled at the June meeting which will be held in the gardens of the Shaffer home when officers will be installed.

Mrs. Davis announced the breakfast meeting of the Book and Basket section in the city park Friday morning, each member to bring her own table service.

Mrs. Fanning named Mrs. Hardy and Mrs. H. R. Williams a committee to audit the books. A letter of condolence will be written the family of Mrs. L. H. Newell, recently deceased member. Carl Yost, senior at the Brea-Olinda Union High school, announced the junior class play "You're Telling Me?" and presented Marjorie Green, Bernadine Jansen, Bruce Hamlin and Don White in a short skit from the play.

A beautiful arrangement of quilts, afghans, pillows, paintings, rugs and embroidered linens was shown as the work of the art section this year with Mrs. R. M. Fleisher in charge.

Mrs. J. M. Cloyes, county chairman of art and literature, was presented by Mrs. C. O. Harvey and gave a most interesting talk on women of the renaissance.

Santa Ana To Be Headquarters For J. H. Fitzgerald

J. H. FitzGerald, a former executive of the General Foods Sales company, Los Angeles branch, has been transferred to Santa Ana and will have charge of the Orange county and the Long Beach districts, it was announced today.

He will be assisted in Orange county by Charles MacDallels jr., well known to the grocery fraternity in Southern California.

FitzGerald said he was glad to have Santa Ana as his new headquarters as he was very favorably impressed with the city.

HOOKS and SLIDES

by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

THERE'LL BE RACES

Some great horse races are in prospect in the season that is now nearing full blast. Not since the lamented passing of such stars as Exterminator, Grey Lang and Sir Baron have there been such brilliant performers in the handicap division.

C. V. Whitney's Equipoise, which won $267,210 in his first two years of campaigning, and already has performed brilliantly this year, still has a way to go to approach the all-time earnings of Sun Beau—$376,744—but there is a good chance for the horse to come close this year.

* * *

IT'S A BATTLE

In his struggles, however, the great son of Pennant-Swinging faces the competition of such fine runners as Gusto, Faireno, Gallant Sir, Plucky Play, Jack High, Questionnaire and probably Burning Blaze, Burgoo King, Tick on, Universe, Economic, Boatswain and Flag Pole.

Mate is another high money-winning horse that undoubtedly will return to the turf wars hits year. Mate has won 16 of 48 starts for a total of $284,365, a sum that gives him fifth rating among the high money winners of all time. White Mate seemed to have lost some of his brilliant form last year, this is often the case with four-year-olds, and may have little bearing on his five-year-old form.

Off his form at Agua Caliente, Gallant Sir is one to be feared, if the streak of cunning in this great runner can be controlled. His stablemate, Plucky Play, likewise is formidable.

* * *

STUD FEES CUT

The depression has had a definite effect on handicap racing. Low prices in the yearling markets played havoc with the stud books on the breeding farms. Breeders found it difficult to fill the books of their great stallions, and reached the conclusion that good racers could earn more upon the track than in the stud.

With such horses as Man o' War and Gallant Fox, owners found unbelievable sums could be earned by stud service. During the post-war boom, great horses were retired quickly to profitable service on the farms.

* * *

ABOUT ED LEADER

There is no Poughkeepsie regatta this year—making this like a horse racing year without a Derby—but more crews are rowing than perhaps in any other year since the war. Yale's big Derby Day on the Housatonic, the Pacific regatta at Olympic Stadium and a score of intercollegiate jousts testify to the number of strong backs still bending.

Yale looms large in the shell this year, and that brings us around to Coach Ed Leader. Ed and his twin brother were students at the University of Washington 20 years ago. Both were big, strong boys and they turned to football naturally. Elmer now is a Seattle lawyer.

* * *

FOOTBALL STAR

Ed, who has done as much for eastern rowing as the Ten Eycks or the Glendons, came near not being connected with the sport at all. At Washington he rowed under Hiram Connibear, who developed the rowing system now generally used throughout the United States.

Through with school, Ed hung out his shingle and waited for a suit to come along. But in 1917 Connibar was killed in a fall from a tree in his orchard. Washington asked Leader to take over rowing.

Leader took his crew to Poughkeepsie for the first and only time in 1922, and gave the Navy's Olympic championship team the tussle of its life. The next year he went to Yale.

* * *

BATS 1.000

From 1923 to 1927 Leader's Yale crews did not lose a varsity race of any distance to anybody. He started the vogue of Washington coaches in the east. Princeton, Pennsylvania, Navy, Wisconsin and Yale brought Washington men to train their beefy boatloads for the pull.

Oilers Come From Behind Twice, Beat S. A.

SCORE FOUR IN 9TH AFTER TWO OUT, WIN 14-13

After just the kind of a game a 14-13 score would indicate, Huntington Beach today had its third successive triumph and Santa Ana its third straight defeat of the National Night Ball league season.

Forging four runs on a series of basehits after two were out in the ninth, Huntington Beach changed certain defeat into sweet victory on a wind-swept diamond that made pitching, fielding and even watching a delicate operation at Huntington Beach last night.

Both teams had a horrible time in the frigid atmosphere, form being blown right out of the ball park, but Huntington Beach richly deserved to win. The Oilers were twice hopelessly in the ruck, all but out of the contest, but they wouldn't believe it. They came from behind, fighting like maniacs, and were rewarded ultimately when their belated four-run rally changed the complexion of the whole thing.

Stars Off to Fast Start

Santa Ana was off to a six-run lead in the first two innings. Huntington Beach kept sawing wood, getting to Ira DeBusk for five runs in the third and taking an 8-6 lead with three more off Joe Cornelius in the fourth. The Stars made it 9-8 in the fifth only to have Huntington Beach regain the advantage, 10-9 in the sixth. Santa Ana tied it 10-10 in the seventh, and the clubs went into the ninth that way.

It looked like the Stars finally had won a ball game in the first of the ninth when they bunched hits on "Chico" Sabella for a cluster of three runs. "Memphy" Hill drew a walk and Tom Denney singled to left. Both men scored on Rod Ballard's double to left center, Ballard taking an extra sack on Schuchardt's error and tallying a third run on Ed Daley's single past short.

The Oilers started their half like a lamb but went out like a lion.

Lake opened with an infield single but Clemens and McKinley, the latter a pinch-hitter for Sabella, perished on strikes, and the fans moved toward the exits. Then bespectacled Pete Osborn beat out one of his famous hits—a slow bounder over the pitcher's box—Schuchardt shot a sharp single to center and Maness whistled a double to left, and the score was tied on five pitched balls.

Liebziet's Fly Ends Game

Frank Liebziet, Oiler first baseman, hoisted a harmless pop fly to shallow left field but it won the game when Denney dropped the ball after making a rolling catch. The high wind carried the ball almost back to the infield, so Denney did well even to reach the sphere.

The slugging of both sides was easily the highlight of the loose, ragged, yet exciting evening. Helpless against Anaheim and Westminster pitching, the Stars snapped out of their batting slump with a vengeance, cuffing Sabella all over the park for a total of 20 hits. Huntington Beach drove DeBusk out of the game with a flurry of bunched hits in the third, climaxed by Conrad's home run, and continued the assault on Cornelius. The two Star heavers yielded 19 blows in aggregate.

Denney led the Santa Ana attack with four clean hits, Daley and Manager "Eeny" Wilcox getting three apiece. "Chub" Sears got two, one of them a murderous home run down the left field line. Osborn, the league's No. 1 batsman last season, picked up four infield singles and Liebziet three.

The score:

Santa Ana	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Hill, ss.	2	2	0	1	1	2
Denney, lf.	6	2	4	1	0	1

Inter-Team Sports Out At Fullerton

Confronted with demands that its budget be cut drastically, and that all "non-essentials" be eliminated from the curriculum for the coming school year, Fullerton's board of education has voted to eliminate all inter-school athletics at Fullerton high school and junior college.

The outlay for sports, requiring highly-paid coaches for small groups, can be replaced by large class instruction in drills and general athletic routine at a saving of $35,000 annually, officials maintained.

This elimination, suggested as one that will affect the least number of students, will be considered along with other economies when the administration will prepare a readjusted budget to fit the suggested decrease in taxation.

The teaching force of the school will have to be lowered from 125 to 80 to care for the reduced income.

HORNSBY GAME BUT FINISHED AS BALL PLAYER

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
(I.N.S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, May 10.—(INS)—Seven years ago, he was the $40,000-a-year playing manager of a world's champion ball club. Two months later, he was dismissed without explanation. So he took his $40,000 document to the Giants and a year later they traded him without warning or much sense. Next to Boston as player, then manager, then out. Four years ago, he moved on to Chicago, again a man in the ranks. In less than a year, he was manager. And then in less than a year, he was through.

A great many people do not seem to like Rogers Hornsby. But you've got to like what he's doing today as, a little broken in body and very empty of purse, he's trying to justify his existence as a handy man with the St. Louis Cardinals at $7500 a year.

Divided His Day

The rest of us have seen him as a not too popular ex-star who had the misfortune to become a little elderly, very broke and unwanted practically in unison. Only the Cardinals, the club he managed to the championship in 1926, knew that grim necessity has made him divide his 24-hour day into two parts.

One part is for the ball field; the other, long, silent, lonely hours, is for bed.

Hornsby retires every night at 9 o'clock. He gets up only in time to go to the ball park. When he returns, he eats sparingly, relaxes a while in the lobby and then goes back to bed again. The answer? Rest and sleep is the only way he knows to escape the grinding pain in the tendon of his heel, apparently injured permanently. He won't walk to the cigar stand if he can help it. Yet each day he runs and turns sharply to take throws and makes quick starts for batted balls, all without betraying by gestume or grimace the pain that goes with this performance.

Always Optimistic

Ask him how he feels. "Great," he says, invariably. He can't let anybody, even the management, in on the fact that he is physically finished. It's a strictly physical job—right now. Maybe it won't be later, say at the end of this year, perhaps even before. Even Mr. "Gabby" Street, the manager, knows what everybody is thinking: that he'd better finish one-two this time—or else!

Perhaps Hornsby himself is thinking that, too, for he said the other day that he couldn't take another managerial job until he was finished as a player. He has no reason to believe that a managerial job will be offered to him by anybody, except the Cardinals. And he's finished as a player right now; so finished, in fact, that the Cardinals had no reason to hire him unless they expected to use him in some way where the investment could hope to show a profit.

RED SOX PURCHASE RECEIVER FERRELL

ST. LOUIS, May 10.—(UP)—Catcher Rick Ferrell and Pitcher Lloyd Brown have been traded to the Boston Red Sox for Catcher Marvin Shea and cash, Vice President L. C. McEvoy of the Browns announced today.

PLAYING TUNE OF BINGLES

The main gland in the rejuvenation of those Chicago White Sox is Al Simmons, former Athletics' outfielder. Al's big bat has been belting in a lot of Sox runs, and here you see him in the dugout tuning up the strings for sweet music of base blows.

PIPING 'EM OFF

Santa Ana's Stars return to the Municipal Bowl Friday night, face "String" McDonnell's Whittier Poets.

* * *

Manager "Eeny" Wilcox suffered a broken nose in the sixth inning when Francis Conrad came sliding home at the same time that "Chub" Sears' throw arrived from right field.

This was the third time Wilcox's schnozzle has been smashed. The first time was in 1921 during a Santa Ana-San Diego football game for the Southern California championship. Wilcox was deliberately slugged then because he was the sparkplug of the Saint eleven, but the player who did it was carried off the field on the next play. Tradition says the Best twins "took care" of the offender.

* * *

The wind was so strong that a foul fly to left, for which Denney and Young didn't even try, blew back into playing territory and gave Liebziet a double in the fourth. All the outfielders had a terrible time, three of them making errors on easy chances.

* * *

Jack Dillon and Sam Jolley, the umpires, had a rough voyage too. Both sides were "on them" all night.

* * *

Maness blasted two long drives to Ballard in addition to hitting safely twice. He's just about the best real hitter in the league. Some of the "woodchoppers" compile bigger averages—but Maness gets the real base-knocks.

* * *

Three straight is not the longest losing streak in the Stars' history. Once during the second half last summer, the club dropped four in succession. Furthermore, at this time in 1930, the Stars were in the second division, with one win against two losses.

* * *

Some of the Santa Ana players are of the opinion that Chico Sabella no longer is the invincible pitcher of other years, and that Huntington Beach is NOT the team to beat for the rag after all.

MRS. MOODY ENTERS WIMBLEDON TENNIS

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—(INS)—Despite her usual "poker-face," Helen Wills Moody, tennis queen, displayed eagerness to return to the scenes of her many triumphs as she prepared today to leave for the Wimbledon tennis tournament in London.

"There will be hard competition at Wimbledon," she said. "It's hard to predict the winner."

But Mrs. Moody, records show, has not been defeated at the English court since 1918.

She will leave early next week. She plans to compete in a small tournament prior to the Wimbledon, in the Wightman Cup championships, and the Nationals at Forest Hills before returning here in August.

LONG BEACH JAYSEE NINE DEFEATS DONS

Employing Infielders Hideo Higashi and Fred Bell on the mound, Coach Clyde Cook sent his Santa Ana junior college baseball team against Coach Mel Griffin's Vikings at Long Beach yesterday, and received an 8-3 defeat in a game preparing his Dons for their Orange Empire conference tilt with Riverside here Saturday.

Earl Homan, Santa Ana's regular chucker, alternated at short and first base, and several other players were out of their regular positions as the Dan mentor revamped a lineup that had Regulars Henry Thiery, Joe Koral, Harold Welty and Wendall Kanawyer missing.

Leo Morse, outfielder, and Bill McDaniel, catcher, led the Don hitting attack with two for four.

ARIZMENDI APPEALS U. S. ALIEN OUSTER

SAN DIEGO, May 10.—(UP)—Having been refused readmission to the United States by an immigration board of inquiry on the ground he is an undesirable alien, Alberto ("Baby") Arizmendi, Mexican featherweight boxing champion, today was expected to appeal his case to the labor department in Washington, D. C.

Arizmendi was held at San Ysidro last Friday when he attempted to return to the United States after fighting in a benefit boxing program at Tijuana, Mex.

It was understood that the board's action resulted from a resent suit against Arizmendi in Los Angeles. A superior court ordered him to pay $3500 damages to Frances Armenta, 17, who claimed he betrayed her under promise of marriage, and was the father of her son.

Anaheim had a new sensation today, young Deforest Fee, a high school flychaser who almost singlehanded beat Olive, 2-1, in a National Night Ball league pitchers' battle between Bob Rose and Rudy Heman at Anaheim last night.

Fee drove in both of Anaheim's runs, and hit safely four times. He singled in the sixth, scoring Max Moody, who had singled and moved up on Kogler's infield out. With the score 1-1, fleet Fee opened the ninth with a single, advanced on Les Haserot's sacrifice and sprinted home all the way from second base after Ray Shell caught Francis Lemon's long fly to center.

Olive got its lone run in the fifth inning. Ora Sands singled infield, took an extra base on Haserot's wild throw for him at first. Heman's single scored Sands.

SENATIONAL NEVA TOO GOOD FOR FLYERS

Louie Neva's blinding speed dazzled Westminster last night, Torrance handing the Aviators their first defeat of the season, 7-1. Neva allowed only three hits, "Red" Kidder getting two of them, Ray Smith the other

"Fuzzy" Errington stayed right with Neva until the sixth when the Torrance pitcher blasted a long home run, one of his four hits. Singles by Watson and Forney and "Pancho" Fabrigat's outfield fly added another in the seventh. Singles by L. Neva and Watson, a double by Forney, a walk and two errors gave Torrance five more in the eighth.

Westminster's only run came in the eighth on Errington's walk, a passed ball and an error.

Johnson Wires Here For Glove, Shoes

"Please send my ball glove and shoes by air mail."

That significant message, wired by Ernie Johnson to Mrs. Johnson, had friends of the Boston Red Sox scout keenly interested today in major league baseball developments.

Johnson, Pacific Coast operative for the Boston club, was called east by Business Manager Eddie Collins last week, apparently for some sort of a scouting mission in the east.

The s.o.s. for his glove and shoes might mean almost anything, his friends believe, but it indicates he'll probably see duty with the club rather than on the road.

SOPH PLUNGES TRIM SENIORS IN GRID FINALE

Fullback Dick White's line buck for a touchdown in the third quarter earned Santa Ana high school's sophomores a 6-0 victory over the seniors in Coach Bill Foote's final interclass football game at Poly field yesterday.

Henry Gonzales

Contesting for second honors in the 1933 standings behind Coach Bob Mitchell's undefeated junior champions, the sophomores won only after an evenly-fought first half in which the advance of both teams was cut off by strong but rather awkward defensive work.

Two consecutive first downs in the third quarter placed the underclassmen in position for their winning score. An attack through the line brought the pigskin within three inches of a touchdown before Fullback White, on the first of a new series of downs, carried the ball over the right side of the line. The conversion failed.

Willie Jones, colored lad who has been occupied with baseball, saw action in the sophomore backfield. Jones is an end by choice, but Coaches Howard Rash and Myron Newton were satisfied with the work of Wingman Roger McCune and Carl Shultz so employed Jones at halfback.

Henry Gonzales, sophomore half, looked impressive on reverse plays. He has shown streaks of brilliance throughout the Saint series. Coach "Tex" Oliver may like this sophomore next fall.

The passing attack of the losers was slightly superior to that of the sophomores, but their running attack offered no comparison. LeRoy Levens, quarter, was the only senior who showed much in the backfield.

The lineup:

THURSDAY CARD LAST AMATEUR PROGRAM, PLAN

Amateur boxing sings its swansong in Santa Ana tomorrow night. The Orange County Athletic club goes pro next week, The Register learned today.

Immediately after Thursday's card, which features Heavyweights Harold Sweet of Brea and "Iron Man" Frank Burke of Los Angeles, Delhi officials will apply to the state boxing commission for a permit to conduct regular weekly professional contests here.

The acquisition of a license and the posting of bonds will require but a few days, so the club will be able to promote its customary show Thursday-week, it is believed.

The death knell of the amateurs was sounded by H. B. Learned, chairman of the A. A. U. boxing committee, who said investigations had revealed that Delhi officials were living up to the amateur code "as nearly as it could be done," but that the club would have to suffer along with the rest, the "cleanup" affecting every amateur arena in Southern California.

Matchmaker Kid Mexico hopes to have his last amateur card his finest. His main event—Sweet vs. Burke—pairs two knockout punchers, Burke having won five in a row here that way, and Sweet stopping everybody he has met except Burke, who kayoed him in two rounds.

"Bud" McCarter and Pat McKinney, middleweights, meet in the semi-windup. Nat Mills opposes Ray Garcia in the special event. Others on the card include Raoul Solis, Bill Wana, Doyle Richards and Bill French.

DICKEY'S SICKNESS MAY COST N. Y. RAG

NEW YORK, May 10.—(UP)—Washington fans will forgive all, if Bill Dickey of the Yankees, the best backstop in the majors, remains sick long enough for the Senators to slip past New York and take a firm hold on the American league lead.

Dickey, who broke Carl Reynolds' jaw at Griffith stadium last July 4, is almost as unpopular in the capital as Ben Chapman, but Senator fans doubtless would erect a statue in his honor if Dickey decided to favor his indigestion and remain on the sidelines for a while—a problem now under consideration in Chicago.

Pressed by Washington and Cleveland, and with the Chicago White Sox showing unexpected strength, the Yanks apparently face a hard fight to retain the pennant, even with Dickey behind the plate. His absence might have an important bearing on the outcome of the race.

Arndt Jorgens, Dickey's substitute, is only a fair workman.

TROY COACH VETOES FRESNO GRUDGE RACE

LOS ANGELES, May 10.—(UP)—Dean Cromwell, track coach at the University of Southern California, will not permit Dave Foore, his star two-miler, to run a special scratch match at the Fresno Relays Saturday with Phil Morentin of Stanford.

"Both runners deserved the rebuke of disqualification," Cromwell said today. "I don't see how a special race would clear either of them or anything."

THERE'LL BE RACES

Some great horse races are in prospect in the season that is now nearing full blast. Not since the lamented passing of such stars as Exterminator, Grey Lang and Sir Baron have there been such brilliant performers in the handicap division.

C. V. Whitney's Equipoise, which won $267,210 in his first two years of campaigning, and already has performed brilliantly this year, still has a way to go to approach the all-time earnings of Sun Beau—$376,744—but there is a good chance for the horse to come close this year.

• • •

IT'S A BATTLE

In his struggles, however, the great son of Pennant-Swinging faces the competition of such fine runners as Gusto, Faireno, Gallant Sir, Plucky Play, Jack High, Questionnaire and probably Burning Blaze, Burgoo King, Tick on, Universe, Economic, Boatswain and Flag Pole.

Mate is another high money-winning horse that undoubtedly will return to the turf wars htis year. Mate has won 16 of 48 starts for a total of $284,365, a sum that gives him fifth rating among the high money winners of all time. White Mate seemed to have lost some of his brilliant form last year, this is often the case with four-year-olds, and may have little bearing on his five-year-old form.

Off his form at Agua Caliente, Gallant Sir is one to be feared, if the streak of cunning in this great runner can be controlled. His stablemate, Plucky Play, likewise is formidable.

• • •

STUD FEES CUT

The depression has had a definite effect on handicap racing. Low prices in the yearling markets played havoc with the stud books on the breeding farms. Breeders found it difficult to fill the books of their great stallions, and reached the conclusion that good racers could earn more upon the track than in the stud.

With such horses as Man o' War and Gallant Fox, owners found unbelievable sums could be earned by stud service. During the post-war boom, great horses were retired quickly to profitable service on the farms.

• • •

ABOUT ED LEADER

There is no Poughkeepsie regatta this year—making this like a horse racing year without a Derby—but more crews are rowing than perhaps in any other year since the war. Yale's big Derby Day on the Housatonic, the Pacific regatta at Olympic Stadium and a score of intercollegiate jousts testify to the number of strong backs still bending.

Yale looms large in the shell this year, and that brings us around to Coach Ed Leader. Ed and his twin brother were students at the University of Washington 20 years ago. Both were big, strong boys and they turned to football naturally. Elmer now is a Seattle lawyer.

• • •

FOOTBALL STAR

Ed, who has done as much for eastern rowing as the Ten Eycks on the Glendons, came near not being connected with the sport at all. At Washington he rowed under Hiram Connibear, who developed the rowing system now generally used throughout the United States.

Through with school, Ed hung out his shingle and waited for a suit to come along. But in 1917 Connibar was killed in a fall from a tree in his orchard. Washington asked Leader to take over rowing.

Leader took his crew to Poughkeepsie for the first and only time in 1922, and gave the Navy's Olympic championship team the tussle of its life. The next year he went to Yale.

• • •

BATS 1.000

From 1923 to 1927 Leader's Yale crews did not lose a varsity race of any distance to anybody. He started the vogue of Washington coaches in the east. Princeton, Pennsylvania, Navy, Wisconsin and Yale brought Washington men to train their beefy boatloads for the pull.

SCORE FOUR IN 9TH AFTER TWO OUT, WIN 14-13

After just the kind of a game a 14-13 score would indicate, Huntington Beach today had its third successive triumph and Santa Ana its third straight defeat of the National Night Ball league season.

Forging four runs on a series of basehits after two were out in the ninth, Huntington Beach changed certain defeat into sweet victory on a wind-swept diamond that made pitching, fielding and even watching a delicate operation at Huntington Beach last night.

Both teams had a horrible time in the frigid atmosphere, form being blown right out of the ball park, but Huntington Beach richly deserved to win. The Oilers were twice hopelessly in the ruck, all but out of the contest, but they wouldn't believe it. They came from behind, fighting like maniacs, and were rewarded ultimately when their belated four-run rally changed the complexion of the whole thing.

Stars Off to Fast Start

Santa Ana was off to a six-run lead in the first two innings. Huntington Beach kept sawing wood, getting to Ira DeBusk for five runs in the third and taking an 8-6 lead with three more off Joe Cornelius in the fourth. The Stars made it 9-8 in the fifth only to have Huntington Beach regain the advantage, 10-9 in the sixth. Santa Ana tied it 10-10 in the seventh, and the clubs went into the ninth that way.

It looked like the Stars finally had won a ball game in the first of the ninth when they bunched hits on "Chico" Sabella for a cluster of three runs. "Memphy" Hill drew a walk and Tom Denney singled to left. Both men scored on Rod Ballard's double to left center, Ballard taking an extra sack on Schuchardt's error and tallying a third run on Ed Daley's single past short.

The Oilers started their half like a lamb but went out like a lion.

Lake opened with an infield single but Clemens and McKinley, the latter a pinch-hitter for Sabella, perished on strikes, and the fans moved toward the exits. Then bespectacled Pete Osborn beat out one of his famous hits—a slow bounder over the pitcher's box—Schuchardt shot a sharp single to center and Maness whistled a double to left, and the score was tied on five pitched balls.

Liebziet's Fly Ends Game

Frank Liebziet, Oiler first baseman, hoisted a harmless pop fly to shallow left field but it won the game when Denney dropped the ball after making a rolling catch. The high wind carried the ball almost back to the infield, so Denney did well even to reach the sphere.

The slugging of both sides was easily the highlight of the loose, ragged, yet exciting evening. Helpless against Anaheim and Westminster pitching, the Stars snapped out of their batting slump with a vengeance, cuffing Sabella all over the park for a total of 20 hits. Huntington Beach drove DeBusk out of the game with a flurry of bunched hits in the third, climaxed by Conrad's home run, and continued the assault on Cornelius. The two Star heavers yielded 19 blows in aggregate.

Denney led the Santa Ana attack with four clean hits, Daley and Manager "Eeny" Wilcox getting three apiece. "Chub" Sears got two, one of them a murderous home run down the left field line. Osborn, the league's No. 1 batsman last season, picked up four infield singles and Liebziet three.

Inter-Team Sports Out At Fullerton

Confronted with demands that its budget be cut drastically, and that all "non-essentials" be eliminated from the curriculum for the coming school year, Fullerton's board of education has voted to eliminate all inter-school athletics at Fullerton high school and junior college.

The outlay for sports, requiring highly-paid coaches for small groups, can be replaced by large class instruction in drills and general athletic routine at a saving of $35,000 annually, officials maintained.

This elimination, suggested as one that will affect the least number of students, will be considered along with other economies when the administration will prepare a readjusted budget to fit the suggested decrease in taxation.

The teaching force of the school will have to be lowered from 125 to 80 to care for the reduced income.

HORNSBY GAME BUT FINISHED AS BALL PLAYER

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
(I.N.S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, May 10.—(INS)—Seven years ago, he was the $40,000-a-year playing manager of a world's champion ball club. Two months later, he was dismissed without explanation. So he took his $40,000 document to the Giants and a year later they traded him without warning or much sense. Next to Boston as player, then manager, then out. Four years ago, he moved on to Chicago, again a man in the ranks. In less than a year, he was manager. And then in less than a year, he was through.

A great many people do not seem to like Rogers Hornsby. But you've got to like what he's doing today as, a little broken in body and very empty of purse, he's trying to justify his existence as a handy man with the St. Louis Cardinals at $7500 a year.

Divided His Day

The rest of us have seen him as a not too popular ex-star who had the misfortune to become a little elderly, very broke and unwanted practically in unison. Only the Cardinals, the club he managed to the championship in 1926, knew that grim necessity has made him divide his 24-hour day into two parts.

One part is for the ball field; the other, long, silent, lonely hours, is for bed.

Hornsby retires every night at 9 o'clock. He gets up only in time to go to the ball park. When he returns, he eats sparingly, relaxes a while in the lobby and then goes back to bed again. The answer? Rest and sleep is the only way he knows to escape the grinding pain in the tendon of his heel, apparently injured permanently. He won't walk to the cigar stand if he can help it. Yet each day he runs and turns sharply to take throws and makes quick starts for batted balls, all without betraying by gestume or grimace the pain that goes with this performance.

Always Optimistic

Ask him how he feels. "Great," he says, invariably. He can't let anybody, even the management, in on the fact that he is physically finished. It's a strictly physical job—right now. Maybe it won't be later, say at the end of this year, perhaps even before. Even Mr. "Gabby" Street, the manager, knows what everybody is thinking: that he'd better finish one-two this time—or else!

Perhaps Hornsby himself is thinking that, too, for he said the other day that he couldn't take another managerial job until he was finished as a player. He has no reason to believe that a managerial job will be offered to him by anybody, except the Cardinals. And he's finished as a player right now; so finished, in fact, that the Cardinals had no reason to hire him unless they expected to use him in some way where the investment could hope to show a profit.

RED SOX PURCHASE RECEIVER FERRELL

ST. LOUIS, May 10.—(UP)—Catcher Rick Ferrell and Pitcher Lloyd Brown have been traded to the Boston Red Sox for Catcher Marvin Shea and cash, Vice President L. C. McEvoy of the Browns announced today.

PLAYING TUNE OF BINGLES

The main gland in the rejuvenation of those Chicago White Sox is Al Simmons, former Athletics' outfielder. Al's big bat has been belting in a lot of Sox runs, and here you see him in the dugout tuning up the strings for sweet music of base blows.

PIPING 'EM OFF

Santa Ana's Stars return to the Municipal Bowl Friday night, face "String" McDonnell's Whittier Poets.

• • •

Manager "Eeny" Wilcox suffered a broken nose in the sixth inning when Francis Conrad came sliding home at the same time that "Chub" Sears' throw arrived from right field.

This was the third time Wilcox's schnozzle has been smashed. The first time was in 1921 during a Santa Ana-San Diego football game for the Southern California championship. Wilcox was deliberately slugged then because he was the sparkplug of the Saint eleven, but the player who did it was carried off the field on the next play. Tradition says the Best twins "took care" of the offender.

• • •

The wind was so strong that a foul fly to left, for which Denney and Young didn't even try, blew back into playing territory and gave Liebziet a double in the fourth. All the outfielders had a terrible time, three of them making errors on easy chances.

• • •

Jack Dillon and Sam Jolley, the umpires, had a rough voyage too. Both sides were "on them" all night.

• • •

Maness blasted two long drives to Ballard in addition to hitting safely twice. He's just about the best real hitter in the league. Some of the "woodchoppers" compile bigger averages—but Maness gets the real baseknocks.

• • •

Three straight is not the longest losing streak in the Stars' history. Once during the second half last summer, the club dropped four in succession. Furthermore, at this time in 1930, the Stars were in the second division, with one win against two losses.

• • •

Some of the Santa Ana players are of the opinion that Chico Sabella no longer is the invincible pitcher of other years, and that Huntington Beach is NOT the team to beat for the rag after all.

MRS. MOODY ENTERS WIMBLEDON TENNIS

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—(INS)—Despite her usual "poker-face," Helen Wills Moody, tennis queen, displayed eagerness to return to the scenes of her many triumphs as she prepared today to leave for the Wimbledon tennis tournament in London.

"There will be hard competition at Wimbledon," she said. "It's hard to predict the winner."

But Mrs. Moody, records show, has not been defeated at the English court since 1918.

She will leave early next week. She plans to compete in a small tournament prior to the Wimbledon, in the Wightman Cup championships, and the Nationals at Forest Hills before returning here in August.

LONG BEACH JAYSEE NINE DEFEATS DONS

Employing Infielders Hideo Higashi and Fred Bell on the mound, Coach Clyde Cook sent his Santa Ana junior college baseball team against Coach Mel Griffin's Vikings at Long Beach yesterday, and received an 8-3 defeat in a game preparing his Dons for their Orange Empire conference tilt with Riverside here Saturday.

Earl Homan, Santa Ana's regular chucker, alternated at short and first base, and several other players were out of their regular positions as the Dan mentor revamped a lineup that had Regulars Henry Thiery, Joe Koral, Harold Welty and Wendall Kanawyer missing.

Leo Morse, outfielder, and Bill McDaniel, catcher, led the Don hitting attack with two for four.

ARIZMENDI APPEALS U. S. ALIEN OUSTER

SAN DIEGO, May 10.—(UP)—Having been refused readmission to the United States by an immigration board of inquiry on the ground he is an undesirable alien, Alberto ("Baby") Arizmendi, Mexican featherweight boxing champion, today was expected to appeal his case to the labor department in Washington, D. C.

Arizmendi was held at San Ysidro last Friday when he attempted to return to the United States after fighting in a benefit boxing program at Tijuana, Mex.

It was understood that the board's action resulted from a resent suit against Arizmendi in Los Angeles. A superior court ordered him to pay $3500 damages to Frances Armenta, 17, who claimed he betrayed her under promise of marriage, and was the father of her son.

Anaheim had a new sensation today, young Deforest Fee, a high school flychaser who almost singlehanded beat Olive, 2-1, in a National Night Ball league pitchers' battle between Bob Rose and Rudy Heman at Anaheim last night.

Fee drove in both of Anaheim's runs, and hit safely four times. He singled in the sixth, scoring Max Moody, who had singled and moved up on Kogler's infield out. With the score 1-1, fleet Fee opened the ninth with a single, advanced on Les Haserot's sacrifice and sprinted home all the way from second base after Ray Shell caught Francis Lemon's long fly to center.

Olive got its lone run in the fifth inning, took an extra base on Haserot's wild throw for him at first. Heman's single scored Sands.

SENATIONAL NEVA TOO GOOD FOR FLYERS

Louie Neva's blinding speed dazzled Westminster last night, Torrance handing the Aviators their first defeat of the season, 7-1. Neva allowed only three hits, "Red" Kidder getting two of them, Ray Smith the other

"Fuzzy" Errington stayed right with Neva until the sixth when the Torrance pitcher blasted a long home run, one of his four hits. Singles by Watson and Forney and "Pancho" Fabrigat's outfield fly added another in the seventh. Singles by L. Neva and Watson, a double by Forney, a walk and two errors gave Torrance five more in the eighth.

Johnson Wires Here For Glove, Shoes

"Please send my ball glove and shoes by air mail."

That significant message, wired by Ernie Johnson to Mrs. Johnson, had friends of the Boston Red Sox scout keenly interested today in major league baseball developments.

Johnson, Pacific Coast operative for the Boston club, was called east by Business Manager Eddie Collins last week, apparently for some sort of a scouting mission in the east.

The s.o.s. for his glove and shoes might mean almost anything, his friends believe, but it indicates he'll probably see duty with the club rather than on the road.

SOPH PLUNGES TRIM SENIORS IN GRID FINALE

Fullback Dick White's line buck for a touchdown in the third quarter earned Santa Ana high school's sophomores a 6-0 victory over the seniors in Coach Bill Foote's final interclass football game at Poly field yesterday.

Henry Gonzales

Contesting for second honors in the 1933 standings behind Coach Bob Mitchell's undefeated junior champions, the sophomores won only after an evenly-fought first half in which the advance of both teams was cut off by strong but rather awkward defensive work.

Two consecutive first downs in the third quarter placed the underclassmen in position for their winning score. An attack through the line brought the pigskin within three inches of a touchdown before Fullback White, on the first of a new series of downs, carried the ball over the right side of the line. The conversion failed.

Willie Jones, colored lad who has been occupied with baseball, saw action in the sophomore backfield. Jones is an end by choice, but Coaches Howard Rash and Myron Newton were satisfied with the work of Wingman Roger McCune and Carl Shultz so employed Jones at halfback.

Henry Gonzales, sophomore half, looked impressive on reverse plays. He has shown streaks of brilliance throughout the Saint series. Coach "Tex" Oliver may like this sophomore next fall.

The passing attack of the losers was slightly superior to that of the sophomores, but their running attack offered no comparison. LeRoy Levens, quarter, was the only senior who showed much in the backfield.

THURSDAY CARD LAST AMATEUR PROGRAM, PLAN

Amateur boxing sings its swan-song in Santa Ana tomorrow night. The Orange County Athletic club goes pro next week, The Register learned today.

Immediately after Thursday's card, which features Heavyweights Harold Sweet of Brea and "Iron Man" Frank Burke of Los Angeles, Delhi officials will apply to the state boxing commission for a permit to conduct regular weekly professional contests here.

The acquisition of a license and the posting of bonds will require but a few days, so the club will be able to promote its customary show Thursday-week, it is believed.

The death knell of the amateurs was sounded by H. B. Learned, chairman of the A. A. U. boxing committee, who said investigations had revealed that Delhi officials were living up to the amateur code "as nearly as it could be done," but that the club would have to suffer along with the rest, the "cleanup" affecting every amature arena in Southern California.

Matchmaker Kid Mexico hopes to have his last amateur card his finest. His main event—Sweet vs. Burke—pairs two knockout punchers, Burke having won five in a row here that way, and Sweet stopping everybody he has met except Burke, who kayoed him in two rounds.

"Bud" McCarter and Pat McKinney, middleweights, meet in the semi-windup. Nat Mills opposes Ray Garcia in the special event. Others on the card include Raoul Solis, Bill Wana, Doyle Richards and Bill French.

DICKEY'S SICKNESS MAY COST N. Y. RAG

NEW YORK, May 10.—(UP)—Washington fans will forgive all, if Bill Dickey of the Yankees, the best backstop in the majors, remains sick long enough for the Senators to slip past New York and take a firm hold on the American league lead.

Dickey, who broke Carl Reynolds' jaw at Griffith stadium last July 4, is almost as unpopular in the capital as Ben Chapman, but Senator fans doubtless would erect a statue in his honor if Dickey decided to favor his indigestion and remain on the sidelines for a while—a problem now under consideration in Chicago.

Pressed by Washington and Cleveland, and with the Chicago White Sox showing unexpected strength, the Yanks apparently face a hard fight to retain the pennant, even with Dickey behind the plate. His absence might have an important bearing on the outcome of the race.

TROY COACH VETOES FRESNO GRUDGE RACE

LOS ANGELES, May 10.—(UP)—Dean Cromwell, track coach at the University of Southern California, will not permit Dave Foore, his star two-miler, to run a special scratch match at the Fresno Relays Saturday with Phil Morentin of Stanford.

"Both runners deserved the rebuke of disqualification," Cromwell said today. "I don't see how a special race would clear either of them or anything."

Fullerton City Council Sets Date For Beer Election

CITIZENS WILL CAST BALLOTS ON JUNE 19TH

FULLERTON, May 10.—Citizens of Fullerton will determine whether they want Fullerton to remain dry at an election June 19.

Action was taken to that effect at an adjourned city council meeting last night, when councilmen voted to hold the initiative election on that date by a ballot of three to two. The motion was placed by Councilman T. K. Gowen and seconded by Councilman William Potter. Councilman Bert Annin voted with those two for that date. Mayor William Hale suggested June 12 as the date, to which Councilman Ted Corcoran concurred, the latter suggesting that an earlier date would eliminate longer discussion of the issue.

Councilmen Gowen and Potter desired the longer period that people might be further enabled to study the ordinance that will be presented on the ballot.

The council acted in response to presentation of a petition asking that they either pass the ordinance or place that ordinance on a ballot at a special election. The ordinance makes non effective the dry ordinances that have been on the Fullerton books since 1905.

In presenting the case, the proponents of the ordinance and the city council or those whom the council designates are permitted to place a statement of the case on the ballot. The council voted to permit those working for the dry cause to make the statement opposing the measure.

The election will be held at four consolidated polls, and hours will be from 9 a. m. to 7 p. m. The rate of pay for officials will be $3 a day. Announcement of members of the boards will be made at the regular session Tuesday, May 16. At that time the sealed statements of the two sides of the issue will be presented through City Clerk Fred Hezmalhaich.

Councilman Corcoran presented a resolution of agreement creating a co-ordinating board for management of the newly erected bleachers at the ball park. The board is Bill Gilmore, P. D. Maynard and C. A. McGaughy. The city will receive 25 per cent of the night ball receipts and 22 1-2 per cent of the day ball receipts, according to agreement.

The continuance of the beacon light at the Fullerton Municipal airport was assured when the council voted to take over cost of lighting at the rate of $6 a month.

FULLERTON UNION PLANS BOX SUPPER

FULLERTON, May 10.—Fullerton Women's Christian Temperance union members made plans for a box supper to be held at the Presbyterian church May 23 at 6 p. m. at the meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Cora Hale, vice president of Fullerton union and president of the county union.

Mrs. T. H. Walker, county devotional leader, was in charge of the devotionals.

Other business included planning to collect old gold to sell. A trip will be taken to the Orange county health camp soon to inquire as to needs of the organization, also.

Mrs. Ursa Zincke presided. In absence of Mrs. Lena LaRue, secretary, Mrs. Hale acted in that capacity.

Twenty women attended the session. A covered dish luncheon was served at noon.

Charivari Held For Mesa Couple

COSTA MESA, May 10.—A charivari and dinner party were given in the George Weston Lowe home recently by a group of friends and neighbors, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Lowe who were married recently at San Bernardino. FULLERTON TRUSTEES TO CUT INTER-SCHOLASTIC ATHLETICS; MANY REDUCTIONS SCHEDULED

FULLERTON, May 10.—Faced with demands that the budget be cut drastically, and that all non-essentials be eliminated from the curriculum for the coming school year, the board of trustees of the Fullerton Union High school and junior college district yesterday voted to eliminate all inter-scholastic athletics from the high school and college.

The voice of the board was heard after a committee of citizens, headed by Robert Vanderhoof, of La Habra, and including Harry Easton, representing the east section of the district; L. M. Gardener, representing the south section; Walter Muckenthaler, representing the west, and Angus McAulay, central, with Vanderhoof as spokesman, suggested to the board that the administration be asked to "cut." This cut was to be made on non essentials, and the committee did not outline what "non essential" is in school programs.

The committee, co-ordinated by the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce, has been investigating affairs for some time. Stingent economies have been suggested by the board of trustees trying to cut the high school tax rate from 44 cents to 26 cents and the junior college rate from 38 to 15 cents. These cuts will require most eliminating revision of budgets, and a cutting of teacher force to a terrific degree, it was stated.

Albert Launer, former president of the board, maintains that students should have something of choice in selecting a course, and that so long as music and arts can be offered in large class groups, they be maintained.

In discussing elimination of departments, the board members suggested that no matter what course is considered by one group of patrons as non essential, some other group considers that very department as most esesntial. The great overhead outlay in interscholastic athletics, requiring highly paid instructors and coaches for small groups, might well be replaced by large class instruction in drills and general routine athletics for the whole school and save the school as much as $35,000 in one slice, it was pointed out.

This elimination, suggested as one that will affect the least number of students, will be considered along with other economies when the administration will prepare a readjusted budget to fit the suggested decrease in taxation.

The teaching force of the school will have to be reduced from 125 to 80 to care for the reduced income. Not only is the rate to be pared to the quick, but the paring is on a reduced assessed valuation of about 12 per cent.

BEER MEASURE GIVEN READING BY BREA BOARD

BREA, May 10.—First reading of ordinance No. 144, regulating the sales of alcoholic beer within the city of Brea, followed the canvass of votes from the election of May 6, when the city council met in adjourned session Tuesday night.

Three classes of licenses will be issued, according to the provisions of the new ordinance, class A, calling for a $20 annual license where beer is to be sold with a meal; Class B, requiring a $10 license where the beer is to be taken from the premises; Class C, a $20 license for the wholesaler.

A $2 filing fee must accompany all applications for sales and this fee is not returnable. Applicants must sign printed forms obligating themselves to conform to certain standards in the conduct of their business in this line. The council reserves the right to refuse licenses to any applicant and will not issue license to any one with a jail or criminal record. Beer may not be sold in any pool hall or dance hall and never within 300 feet of a school building, nor may it be sold to any one under the age of 18 years.

The second reading of the ordinance will be had on the next regular meeting of the council and it is thought that the sales will be launched here by June 18.

HOLD LAST RITES FOR BREA WOMAN

BREA, May 10.—Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon for Mrs. Lauretta Hilton Newell, who died early Saturday morning following a paralytic stroke suffered on the afternoon of April 29.

Services were held in the chapel of McAulay and Suters in Fullerton with the Rev. Donald Gaylord, pastor of the Congregational church, of which deceased was a member, preaching the funeral sermon. Officers of the Brea chapter, Eastern Star No. 504, of which Mrs. Newell was a member, assisted in the services. The body is being taken to her native state, Maine, where it will be interred beside her husband, who died several years ago.

Mrs. Newell died at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Williams, where she had been making her home for several months.

She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. H. Mae Lawrence, Waterville, Maine, and Mrs. Winnifred Norton, Madison, Maine. Two cousins, Mrs. Laura Tucker and Miss Helen Hilton, both of Long Beach, were with her during her last illness.

250 Expected At Annual Picnic Of Tustin Residents

TUSTIN, May 10.—Approximately 250 local people are expected to be in attendance at the annual Tustin community picnic to be held May 20 at the tennis court at Irvine park. Dinner will be served promptly at noon. Each family is asked to bring a basket lunch, table service and pitchers for coffee. P.-T. A. members will furnish the coffee and the Presbyterian church will serve punch. Games and contests in the afternoon will be supervised by J. J. Woodward.

Two grammar school busses will leave the school at 10 a. m., taking children needing transportation. These busses will leave the park at 3 p. m.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the picnic is composed of Mrs. J. D. Campbell, chairman; Mrs. Clarence A. Nisson, Mrs. Roy Wilson, Mrs. Hilda Riehl, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hannaford, Frank M. Griset and Arthur Smith.

Party Observes 14th Anniversary

GARDEN GROVE, May 10.—In honor of her daughter, Veva Ray, on her 14th birthday anniversary, Mrs. Ray Long entertained a group of her classmates in the eighth grade with a party at the Long home on Trask avenue recently.

After a pleasant afternoon of games the honoree enjoyed opening packages containing birthday gifts.

At the refreshment hour a pink color scheme was carried out in the decorations and refreshments. Those present were Misses Mary Lindley, of Anaheim; Margaret Schauer, Barbara Dales, Irene Donahue, Evelyn Lamb, Marjorie Allen, Ruth Mitchell, Ellen and Emma Russell and the honoree, Veva Ray Long.

CHURCH GROUP MEETS

GREENVILLE, May 10.—Members of the Missionary society of the Greenville and Talbert churches met recently in the home of Mrs. Alfred Cole. They set the date for the next meeting for May 18. This will be held at the home of Miss Florence Smith at Talbert. The president, Mrs. Anna Helm, presided.

The devotional service was led by Mrs. M. V. Knott and the Rev. Edward Moody had charge of the Bible study period.

Attending the meeting were the Rev. and Mrs. Edward Moody, Miss Ruth Moody, Mrs. M. V. Knott, Miss Florence Smith, Mrs. Anna Helm, Mrs. Nay Clayton, Mrs. Alfred Cole.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 10.—The meeting of the Business Men's association Thursday night at 7 o'clock at the Golden Bear cafe will be of special interest. Walter F. Dexter, president of Whittier college, will deliver an address. Miss Pauline Terpstra supervisor of music of Whittier college, will sing and the Elks double male quartet of Santa Ana will give several numbers. Will H. Gallienne, music chairman of the B. M. A., will be in charge of the program.

Girls' Class Of Mesa In Supper

COSTA MESA, May 10. — A pleasant affair held recently was a supper-meeting which Mrs. W. W. Caruthers gave in her home honoring her Sunday school class, the "True Blues." The class is made up of a group of high school girls. Those present were the Misses Neoma Knox, Mijeko Kurahara, Doris McMurtry, Ruth Wasson, Mary Jean Mason, Barbara Hillard, Eleanor Brooks, Eleanor Hillyard, Luella Dixon, Kay Blake, Pat Stewart, Lota Hunter, Elli Hoffman, Marion Hanson, Maxine Haun, Margaret Willcutt, Evelyn Rollins, Phil Currie and Jeanette Kesel.

Immediately following the supper a study of the scriptures was held with the Rev. Wilfrid Rowntree leading.

BREA-OLINDA SCHOOL BOARD PREPARES CUTS

BREA, May 10.—Faced with the necessity of slicing approximately $13,000 from their budget for next year after they had already succeeded in lowering it almost $8000 as compared with that of the present year, the board of the Brea-Olinda Union High school last night attacked the problem from the angle of teachers' salaries. A. H. Brown, president, presided.

Meeting on Monday night the board had digested the estimated budget on capital outlay, replacements and general running expenses, prepared by Principal C. O. Harvey, and had reduced it from approximately $13,500 to something over $11,000. In many cases the estimated budget showed cuts of 50 per cent over that of last year.

Various plans of retrenchment were discussed last night before the board, expressing unanimous disapproval against dismissing any members of the faculty or dropping any part of the school curriculum, arrived at the conclusion to cut the teachers' salary budget approximately 20 per cent, applying a sliding scale and planning for part time employment in possibly three departments. The plan for the 20 per cent cut in this budget was first proposed by W. W. Hay, one of the new members of the board, who also at first proposed cutting four teachers from the staff thus effecting a reduction which would make possible a 50 cent district tax rate.

All plans made last night were only tentative, however, the board setting Thursday night for its next meeting in an effort to complete the budget before May 15 on which date they must issue teachers' contracts. Contracts, they said, would either be blank or carry both a minimum and maximum salary, the salary to become fixed when it is learned what provision the state legislature will make for educational purposes for the new school year.

The average for Brea-Olinda salaries was shown as $2400 a year while that of the county was given as $2253. This average did not include the salary of the principal, C. O. Harvey, who is at present being paid $5300 annually. The teachers' salaries constitutes 65 per cent of the budget for Brea-Olinda high school district.

The only definite action taken by the board through the two nights of meeting was to move against teachers becoming permanently employed.

$22,000 Bond Issue For School Voted

GARDEN GROVE, May 10.—Bonds for $22,000 were voted yesterday by the Garden Grove union high school district. In the Garden Grove elementary school district, 507 votes were cast, 353 voting for the proposition and 152 against it. In the Alamitos district 76 votes were cast, 51 voting "yes" and 25 "no."

It is estimated that $5000 will cover the damage done by the earthquake to the high school. Outstanding obligations of the district due at the close of the fiscal year July 1 will be canceled with the remainder of the sum.

MUSIC, FLOWER FESTIVAL OF HUNTINGTON BEACH WOMAN'S CLUB DRAWS CROWD OF 1000

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 10.—The music and flower festival of the Huntington Beach Woman's club was held Tuesday afternoon and evening at the Methodist bungalow, with probably 100 visitors attending. Mrs. Frank Woesberg was in charge of the flower show and was ably assisted by many members of the club and a number of women not members of the club who are successful flower growers.

The art teachers of the public schools, Miss Martha Trafford of the high school, Miss Rita Aiken of the grammar school, aided in arranging the flower exhibits. H. A. Gallienne of the high school and George Lake of the grammar school contributed bouquets and tables of flowers.

The flower show overflowed the bungalow and the members with the aid of Henry Wirth, street superintendent, and some of his employes, and Fred Brooks, manual arts supervisor, turned the bungalow yard into an improvised flower garden. The yard was fenced with a lattice and picket fence with boughs of palms entwined and extending 10 feet high. A lawn was made from cuttings of grass from the city park lawns.

In this yard was an iris garden in full bloom, the contribution of Mrs. C. W. Patrick, numbers of huge bouquets in artistic flower pots and rare plants and blooms everywhere in evidence. Inside the bungalow even the walls were utilized for flower and plant displays. George W. Wardwell, local landscape artist, improvised a rock garden, one of the most beautiful ever seen in this part of the state.

The Willis H. Warner hardware store had a mountain water scene, consisting of a series of falls and occupying an entire corner of the room. At the base of the mountain was a lake in which played gold fishes.

Mrs. Marian Miller was in charge of the music, which included vocal solos and duets and instrumental music. Mrs. Walter Ross, president of the Anaheim Ebell club, and Mrs. Alma Schwentker, Los Angeles, sang duets and each sang solos, with Mrs. Marian Miller playing the accompaniment.

Elinor Miller, violinist of the high school, gave several violin selections, accompanied by Mrs. George Miller, her mother. Irwin Williams, 10-year-old grammar school boy, delighted the audiences with his selections on the accordion. Mrs. Margaret Colvin entertained with piano selections.

Mrs. Elson G. Conrad was chairman of the buffet luncheon and was ably assisted in preparing and serving by a corps of prominent club women. Lunch was served out doors in the patio.

Compliments were paid to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schuth for their display, probably the largest at the flower show. It consisted of a moss bank that covered an end of the room.

During the business session of the Woman's club, election of officers was held and Miss Sarah Whitfield was elected president of the club. All other officers were re-elected, as follows: Mrs. C. B. Baldwin, vice president; Mrs. Pearl Jones, secretary, serving her fifth year in that office; Mrs. F. E. Brooks, treasurer. Mrs. Harvey Young, retiring president, who declined to serve a second term, was elected a member of the board of trustees.

W. C. T. U. HITS BEER SALES IN MAYOR'S STORE

PLACENTIA, May 10.—Placentia Women's Christian Temperance union members again voiced a protest against the mayor of Placentia selling alcoholic beverages in his place of business, at the meeting at the home of Mrs. Fred Tuffree Tuesday.

The protest is to be drafted by a committee headed by Mrs. E. H. Brunemeier. It was explained at the session that as leading citizen of a community that at the last election voted to retain the enabling acts of California, it seemed poor form for Mayor Clarence E. Haiber to sell the legalized beverage at one of his places of business.

Five dollars will be added to the state fund for rebuilding the W. C. T. U. hall at Long Beach that was destroyed in the earthquake.

In the absence of Dr. Guy L. Kay, who was scheduled to speak, a group of women presented a playlet on "Health" as a program.

Mrs. E. H. Brunemeier and Mrs. Ivon Pike reported on the departmental conference at the home of Mrs. Margaret Utt at Lemon Heights last week.

CITIZENS WILL CAST BALLOTS ON JUNE 19TH

FULLERTON, May 10.—Citizens of Fullerton will determine whether they want Fullerton to remain dry at an election June 19.

Action was taken to that effect at an adjourned city council meeting last night, when councilmen voted to hold the initiative election on that date by a ballot of three to two. The motion was placed by Councilman T. K. Gowen and seconded by Councilman William Potter. Councilman Bert Annin voted with those two for that date. Mayor William Hale suggested June 12 as the date, to which Councilman Ted Corcoran concurred, the latter suggesting that an earlier date would eliminate longer discussion of the issue.

Councilmen Gowen and Potter desired the longer period that people might be further enabled to study the ordinance that will be presented on the ballot.

The council acted in response to presentation of a petition asking that they either pass the ordinance or place that ordinance on a ballot at a special election. The ordinance makes non effective the dry ordinances that have been on the Fullerton books since 1905.

In presenting the case, the proponents of the ordinance and the city council or those whom the council designates are permitted to place a statement of the case on the ballot. The council voted to permit those working for the dry cause to make the statement opposing the measure.

The election will be held at four consolidated polls, and hours will be from 9 a. m. to 7 p. m. The rate of pay for officials will be $3 a day. Announcement of members of the boards will be made at the regular session Tuesday, May 16. At that time the sealed statements of the two sides of the issue will be presented through City Clerk Fred Hezmalhalch.

Councilman Corcoran presented a resolution of agreement creating a co-ordinating board for management of the newly erected bleachers at the ball park. The board is Bill Gilmore, P. D. Maynard and C. A. McGaughy. The city will receive 25 per cent of the night ball receipts and 22 1-2 per cent of the day ball receipts, according to agreement.

The continuance of the beacon light at the Fullerton Municipal airport was assured when the council voted to take over cost of lighting at the rate of $6 a month.

FULLERTON UNION PLANS BOX SUPPER

FULLERTON, May 10.—Fullerton Women's Christian Temperance union members made plans for a box supper to be held at the Presbyterian church May 23 at 6 p. m. at the meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Cora Hale, vice president of Fullerton union and president of the county union.

Mrs. T. H. Walker, county devotional leader, was in charge of the devotionals.

Other business included planning to collect old gold to sell. A trip will be taken to the Orange county health camp soon to inquire as to needs of the organization, also.

Mrs. Ursa Zincke presided. In absence of Mrs. Lena LaRue, secretary, Mrs. Hale acted in that capacity.

Charivari Held For Mesa Couple

COSTA MESA, May 10.—A charivari and dinner party were given in the George Weston Lowe home recently by a group of friends and neighbors, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Lowe who were married recently at San Bernardino. Mrs. Lowe formerly was Mrs. Martha E. Davis. They are living on Thurin avenue near Hamilton street. The affair came as a complete surprise to the newlyweds.

Those present besides the honorees were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Viele, Mr. and Mrs. J. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Viele, J. H. Viele, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Davis and daughter Joan Lee, Mrs. M. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. William Blust and son, William jr., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cox and son, John Robert, and daughters, Joan and Martha Lillian Mr. and Mrs. John Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Bolivar Margwroth and daughter, and Jesse Viele.

Refreshments of angelfood cake and coffee were served. The bride was presented with a number of presents.

In this yard was an iris garden in full bloom, the contribution of Mrs. C. W. Patrick, numbers of huge bouquets in artistic flower pots and rare plants and blooms everywhere in evidence. Inside the bungalow even the walls were utilized for flower and plant displays. George W. Wardwell, local landscape artist, improvised a rock garden, one of the most beautiful ever seen in this part of the state.

The Willis H. Warner hardware store had a mountain water scene, consisting of a series of falls and occupying an entire corner of the room. At the base of the mountain was a lake in which played gold fishes.

Mrs. Marian Miller was in charge of the music, which included vocal solos and duets and instrumental music. Mrs. Walter Ross, president of the Anaheim Ebell club, and Mrs. Alma Schwentker, Los Angeles, sang duets and each sang solos, with Mrs. Marian Miller playing the accompaniment.

Elinor Miller, violinist of the high school, gave several violin selections, accompanied by Mrs. George Miller, her mother. Irwin Williams, 10-year-old grammar school boy, delighted the audiences with his selections on the accordion. Mrs. Margaret Colvin entertained with piano selections.

Mrs. Elson G. Conrad was chairman of the buffet luncheon and was ably assisted in preparing and serving by a corps of prominent club women. Lunch was served out doors in the patio.

Compliments were paid to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schuth for their display, probably the largest at the flower show. It consisted of a moss bank that covered an end of the room.

During the business session of the Woman's club, election of officers was held and Miss Sarah Whitfield was elected president of the club. All other officers were re-elected, as follows: Mrs. C. B. Baldwin, vice president; Mrs. Pearl Jones, secretary, serving her fifth year in that office; Mrs. F. E. Brooks, treasurer. Mrs. Harvey Young, retiring president, who declined to serve a second term, was elected a member of the board of trustees.

W. C. T. U. HITS BEER SALES IN MAYOR'S STORE

PLACENTIA, May 10.—Placentia Women's Christian Temperance union members again voiced a protest against the mayor of Placentia selling alcoholic beverages in his place of business, at the meeting at the home of Mrs. Fred Tuffree Tuesday.

The protest is to be drafted by a committee headed by Mrs. E. H. Brunemeier. It was explained at the session that as leading citizen of a community that at the last election voted to retain the enabling acts of California, it seemed poor form for Mayor Clarence E. Haiber to sell the legalized beverage at one of his places of business.

Five dollars will be added to the state fund for rebuilding the W. C. T. U. hall at Long Beach that was destroyed in the earthquake.

In the absence of Dr. Guy L. Kay, who was scheduled to speak, a group of women presented a playlet on "Health" as a program.

Mrs. E. H. Brunemeier and Mrs. Ivon Pike reported on the departmental conference at the home of Mrs. Margaret Utt at Lemon Heights last week.

DAUGHTER BORN

LA HABRA, May 10.—Announcements have been received by friends in La Habra of the birth on May 1 of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Kjeld Schmidt (Emily Young). The baby weighed six pounds and has been named Mary Carol.

Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt are now living in South San Francisco, where Mr. Schmidt is teaching. Mrs. Schmidt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Young, of Rose street, La Habra.

RAILS

You may have noticed the awful silence which greeted Mr. Roosevelt's Railroad Bill in Congress. There was a reason.

The railroad experts in the Senate are labor men. In that category is Chairman Dill of the Interstate Commerce Committee. Also the former Republican chairman of that Committee, Senator Couzens. These two will run the railroad show.

No one would raise an eyebrow if they got together on a series of labor amendments to the bill. They will provide probably that some portion of the economies be allocated for workers' pensions or discharge pay.

That is what labor wants. It is a two to one bet they will get it.

• • •

The sub-rosa indications are that Mr. Roosevelt will accept those amendments. He considered them at length privately, but did not include them in the draft of the bill sent to Congress.

He probably left them out as a matter of strategy. It kept the roads from opposing the legislation. If Congress writes the amendments in it will be too late for the rail executives to do anything about it.

Without some such change it will be hard to get the legislation through. The railroad labor lobbies are among the strongest in Washington. They work quietly but well. They can stir up plenty of opposition to any proposal to discharge 100,000 (their figure) workers without remuneration for the sake of railroad bondholders.

• • •

The text of the bill offered by the White House was far weaker than Mr. Roosevelt's original idea. He wanted a coordinator who could coordinate the railroads with a big stick. What he finally got was about half what he wanted. It will not mean government operation but it will provide strong government supervision.

You may have noticed Mr. Roosevelt almost apologized for it in his message. He said he would offer some permanent proposals at the next January session of Congress.

What he secretly has in mind is his original idea.

• • •

SPEED KING

Never has this country had such a one-man Government as now.

The public generally has no idea how completely Mr. Roosevelt dominates the Washington scene inside and out.

He is boss of his Cabinet to a greater extent than any President since Wilson. Some of his biggest associates are only messenger boys for him. But the root of his mastery is in Congress.

Very few of his own party leaders there are in his confidence, and none completely so. The underlying feeling in both houses is one of confusion. They do not know what will be done about anything from one minute to another.

The average Democratic Congressman knows no more or less about what is going on than you do.

• • •

That seems to be all part of the Roosevelt strategy. He rushed them off their feet at the start and has never let them get back. Legislation is passed so swiftly the general run of Congressmen do not have time to digest it before they must vote. The whole Government has been breathlessly reorganized in sixty days. The work has been do so fast no expert here can name offhand all the bills that have been passed. The executive branch will require weeks more to put their new plans full into effect.

Nobody is complaining publicly. Very few are grumbling privately. The realization is general here that it is probably all for the best.

• • •

GLORY

There has been some snorting in the Democratic cloakroom because Senate Leader Robinson introduces all the Administration bills. Some of the boys would like to have their names attached to these measures that are being passed.

When the Railroad Bill came from the White House it was addressed to Senator Dill. He sat in on the conference with Roper, Woodin, Moley et al when it was drafted. Also he is Chairman of the Interstate Commerce Committee which has the bill in charge.

Dill passed one of the confidential copies to Robinson thinking Robinson would read it. Instead Robinson introduced it.

GLASS

The Administration's current private objection to the Glass Banking Bill is that it might ruin the government bond market by divorcing bank affiliates. Gentlemen at the keyhole report that objection was stressed by Treasury Secretary Woodin to Senator Glass in one of their private conferences.

It confirms the general suspicion hereabouts that the affiliates issue is not settled as everyone would have you believe. For months the word has been passed around that the New York banks did not object to abolishing their affiliates, that affiliate activity was being curtailed anyway.

In that connection also it has recently developed that Huey Long's fight against the Glass Bill last session was based on the affiliates provision as much as on the state banks section.

• • •

The whole picture suggests Glass has been getting what is commonly known as the runaround. The conclusion is inescapable because for six months he has circumnavigated the ether comprising every known objection to the measure. As soon as he gives in on one point, another objection breaks out.

He is saying nothing yet. But if this session adjourns without doing anything about his bill, he will make a speech worth listening to.

• • •

NOTES

Speaker Rainey has approved his own obituary . . . He is not feeling sick or anything but he had a chance to read last week what one of the world's largest press associations will publish about him when he dies. . . . A newspaperman was assigned to write the obit and in order to be assured it was correct he let Rainey look it over. . . . Rainey did not change a word but hoped it would be suppressed for a long time. . . . The new word for Mr. Roosevelt's gang of college professors is "The Professoriat". . . . It was coined by the Washington correspondent of a Chicago newspaper. . . . The first draft of the Railroad Bill was prepared by a Mr. Fletcher, the railroad lobbyist. . . . It will undergo still more changes. . . . Nothing was said in the bill about large salaries of railroad executives but Congress will insert a line about that also. . . . The temper of the Senate was shown when they limited R. F. C. loans to corporations paying no salary of more than $17,500 a year.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

WAGES

New York interprets Mr. Roosevelt's speech to the U. S. Chamber of Commerce as a sure sign that revival of the War Industries Board or the Council of National Defense is on the way. They say there is no hope otherwise of eliminating the unfair wage-cutting competition he talks about.

Business men generally have been converted to the principle that wages should string along with prices. The necessity for increasing purchasing power has sunk in pretty deep. But "gentlemen's agreements" within different industries to avoid price-cutting (and therefore wage-cutting) wars have invariably flopped in the past because one or more of the parties to the agreement was not a gentleman. An iron hand in Washington is rated the only cure.

• • •

GUESSES

Speculators had a grand time trying to guess what Mr. Roosevelt was going to say before he said it. All Wall Street was hot on the trail of inside tips. Most people thought it was going to be high voltage stuff on inflation. If he had mentioned all the topics ascribed to him he would still be talking.

• • •

FEDERAL RESERVE

The inside dope here has it that the President is having a hard time filling Eugene Meyer's post. The job has reportedly been offered to Adolph Miller but he is not sufficiently in sympathy with the inflation program to accept. The opinion is freely expressed that no high caliber man will be anxious to serve as errand boy for the Treasury Department.

• • •

TREASURY

With all the inflation talk the Treasury itself deflated credit by $107,000,000 last week. It added that much to its deposits in Federal Reserve Banks—which had precisely the same effect as if the Reserve Banks had sold that volume of government securities. Doubt is expressed in high quarters whether the Treasury knew what it was doing.

This is no help to the member banks at all. A good many banks — especially the smaller ones — were obliged by the Treasury's action to go into hock to the Federal Reserve Banks again in order to keep their own reserves up to legal requirements.

• • •

INSURANCE

The Senate bill to allow the R. F. C. to buy the preferred stock of insurance companies will take care of some delicate situations. It was a compromise solution for the idea of allowing insurance companies to join the Federal Reserve. The permission granted by the bill will not gather rust from lack of use.

• • •

R. F. C.

New York got an ironic chortle out of the provision that no company which pays any executive more than $17,500 a year can borrow from the R. F. C. hereafter. Many executives who have been yelling for loans will be in an awkward spot if the bill goes through. It would be tough to choose between a 60 per cent salary cut and letting your company go broke.

• • •

Old-timers say that Pecora will have to go some to beat Untermyer's record in handling the "money trust" investigation in 1911. There are lawyers who use the record of the Pujo Committee proceedings to instruct their juniors on how to get the most evidence out of unwilling witnesses.

• • •

Owen Young's decision to stick to General Electric instead of Radio Corporation was a surprise of the first order. Insiders were confident it would work the other way. The shift was partly due to the greater opportunity afforded by the General Electric connection for rebuilding Mr. Young's personal fortunes.

• • •

POWER

The First Lady's resignation from "Babies, Just Babies" does not mean boredom with editorial work. On the contrary a taste of the possibilities has developed a keen vision as to editorial opportunities for contact with the nation.

As associate editor of Woman's Home Companion there will be power and scope in Mrs. Roosevelt's hands. You may not get the official announcement for some time but you can count on the development.

WAGES

New York interprets Mr. Roosevelt's speech to the U. S. Chamber of Commerce as a sure sign that revival of the War Industries Board or the Council of National Defense is on the way. They say there is no hope otherwise of eliminating the unfair wage-cutting competition he talks about.

Business men generally have been converted to the principle that wages should string along with prices. The necessity for increasing purchasing power has sunk in pretty deep. But "gentlemen's agreements" within different industries to avoid price-cutting (and therefore wage-cutting) wars have invariably flopped in the past because one or more of the parties to the agreement was not a gentleman. An iron hand in Washington is rated the only cure.

• • •

GUESSES

Speculators had a grand time trying to guess what Mr. Roosevelt was going to say before he said it. All Wall Street was hot on the trail of inside tips. Most people thought it was going to be high voltage stuff on inflation. If he had mentioned all the topics ascribed to him he would still be talking.

• • •

FEDERAL RESERVE

The inside dope here has it that the President is having a hard time filling Eugene Meyer's post. The job has reportedly been offered to Adolph Miller but he is not sufficiently in sympathy with the inflation program to accept. The opinion is freely expressed that no high caliber man will be anxious to serve as errand boy for the Treasury Department.

• • •

TREASURY

With all the inflation talk the Treasury itself deflated credit by $107,000,000 last week. It added that much to its deposits in Federal Reserve Banks—which had precisely the same effect as if the Reserve Banks had sold that volume of government securities. Doubt is expressed in high quarters whether the Treasury knew what it was doing.

This is no help to the member banks at all. A good many banks — especially the smaller ones — were obliged by the Treasury's action to go into hock to the Federal Reserve Banks again in order to keep their own reserves up to legal requirements.

• • •

INSURANCE

The Senate bill to allow the R. F. C. to buy the preferred stock of insurance companies will take care of some delicate situations. It was a compromise solution for the idea of allowing insurance companies to join the Federal Reserve. The permission granted by the bill will not gather rust from lack of use.

• • •

R. F. C.

New York got an ironic chortle out of the provision that no company which pays any executive more than $17,500 a year can borrow from the R. F. C. hereafter. Many executives who have been yelling for loans will be in an awkward spot if the bill goes through. It would be tough to choose between a 60 per cent salary cut and letting your company go broke.

• • •

Old-timers say that Pecora will have to go some to beat Untermyer's record in handling the "money trust" investigation in 1911. There are lawyers who use the record of the Pujo Committee proceedings to instruct their juniors on how to get the most evidence out of unwilling witnesses.

• • •

YOUNG

Owen Young's decision to stick to General Electric instead of Radio Corporation was a surprise of the first order. Insiders were confident it would work the other way. The shift was partly due to the greater opportunity afforded by the General Electric connection for rebuilding Mr. Young's personal fortunes.

POWER

The First Lady's resignation from "Babies, Just Babies" does not mean boredom with editorial work. On the contrary a taste of the possibilities has developed a keen vision as to editorial opportunities for contact with the nation.

As associate editor of Woman's Home Companion there will be power and scope in Mrs. Roosevelt's hands. You may not get the official announcement for some time but you can count on the development.

Board Releases 116 Teachers In Fight On Tenure

SOME MAY BE RE-EMPLOYED IN NEW FIELD

Santa Ana board of education last night released 116 teachers in the elementary, high schools and adult education department. Teachers released in the elementary and high school districts were probationary teachers and released in furtherance of the board's recently adopted policy preventing more probationers acquiring a permament status.

While the majority of the probationers released last night were completing their third year as teachers in the Santa Ana system and would have become permanent is given contracts for 1933-34, many were just completing their second year. Many of the teachers in that classification, however, will be re-employed when reorganization has been completed and needs for the next year are determined.

May Re-employ Some

Third year teachers cannot be re-employed in the same field in which they have taught for the past three years. It is possible that some of them with credentials for other fields will be re-employed after the reorganization. Others are being exchanged with other schools where a similar policy of denying tenure has been adopted.

Of the list of teachers released last night 24 taught in the adult education department and were released as it has not yet been decided whether or not the department will be continued next year.

Substitute teachers in the elementary and high school districts accounted for another 48 teachers. In the past it has not been the custom to formally release substitute teachers. This year it was considered advisable as in Los Angeles, it was said, two substitutes who had been employed in that capacity for four years were claiming permanent status as substitutes.

The two home teachers, Mrs. Florence McKee and Mrs. Elizabeth Watson also were released.

Teachers in the elementary school being released at the close of the school year are: Florence Moreland, Ione Hanson, Mrs. Gertrude Winchester, Evelyn Yount, Eva Marshall, Gladys Wilson, Rowena Newcomb, Thelma Patton, Grace Prichard, Mary R. Beasley, Charlotte Harnois, Justina Palmer, Florence Lazare, Mrs. Ann Ward, Mrs. Vilma French, Louise Griffith, Dorothy Jessee, Clara Spelman, Maren Leonard, Lenora Fernandez, Marie Osborn, Mrs. Lucy Cherry, Lois Sturgeon, Mary Fine, Louisa Hampton, Grace Alberts, Marian Bruner, Lucinda Griffith, Mrs. Verna Hopkins, Louise Van Dien, Lucille Harrison, Velma P. Smith.

Substitutes in the elementary district who were released are: Mrs. Josephine Barr, Mrs. Josephine Glines, Josephine Ball, Elanor Crookshank, Margaret Lytle, Dignonne Goddard, Mrs. Florence McKee, Mrs. Sadie Matics, Mrs. Sigrid Brown, Helen Drake, Mrs. Elizabeth Watson, Mrs. Agnes Kemper, Betty Gould, Mrs. Virginia Brand, June Arnold, Mrs. June Mayhill, Mrs. Jean Ebersole, Mrs. Cristine Rogers, Mrs. Louise Stearns, Mrs. Isabel Getty, Mrs. Winifred Patton, Mrs. Doris Evans, Mrs. Florence Davis, Lorine Jesse Shipe.

High School Group

High school teachers released Flowers, Jean Goodwin, Ilse Hawere: Robert R. Benson, Edgar M. mann, Sheldon M. Hayden, Bryon F. Quivey, Alan A. Revill, Esther Schwaiger, Theo. Schwaiger and Charles Webber.

Substitute teachers in the high school district who were released were: Mrs. Lois Green Settle, Betty Gould, Mrs. Ruby Yeager, Orwyn Veach, Katherine Frankforter, Faris Edgar, Margaret Glenn, Howard Paul, Mabel Robertson, Mrs. Miriam Sitton, Mrs. Jean Ebersole, Ruth Tantlinger.

Mildred Ranney, Alice Almquist, Mrs. Helen Walden, Lulu Walker, Margaret Cianfoni, W. W. Wieman, Mrs. Margaret Householder, J. A. Randall, C. E. Roberts, Lenora Tompkins, Bernice Simons, Mrs. Mary Steffenson.

Adult education department teachers notified that their services would not be required after June 30 were: Birdina Anderson, Ruth Bartlett, Margaret Cianfoni, Baxter Geeting, Jean Goodwin, Mrs. Dodley Page Harper, Verne Harrison, Mrs. Margaret R. Householder, Elba Johnson, Albert I. Mellenthin, Howard Paul, J. A. Randall.

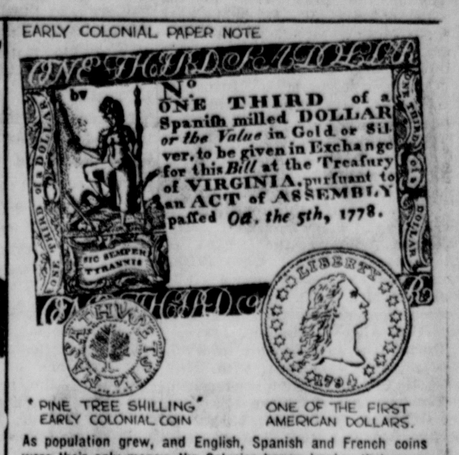

Mabel Robertson, Helen Richards, Mrs. Miriam Sitton, Chas. L. Tibbetts, James B. Tucker, Mrs. Helen S. Walden, Charles Webber, Harry Westover, Mrs. Muriel White, Dr. Regina Westcott Wieman, William W. Wieman, Mrs. Ruby Wright.

MONEY—FROM THE STONE AGE TILL NOW

By WILLIS THORNTON
Sketches by Art Krenz

In earliest Colonial days, the Indians' wampum (strings of small shells) was commonly used by the Colonists themselves as money. Beaver skins, tobacco and rice passed current as money at various times and places.

As population grew, and English, Spanish and French coins were their only money, the Colonies began issuing their own. Much of it was "fiat money," that is, paper of no value in itself, but to be used as money because the government said so. Values fluctuated, trade was difficult.

So disrupted was the Colonial paper money system that England forbade the Colonies to issue any more. This was one of the causes of friction that led to the Revolution. The Colonists identified "hard coin" with Toryism and England.

As there were then no sources of precious metal within the Colonies, the people leaned naturally toward paper money, which is just as good as any other kind, provided there is not too much of it. But the value of money tends to fall when there is an oversupply, despite laws to prevent this.

SAVINGS PLANS ANNOUNCED BY CITY OFFICIALS

All members of the Santa Ana city council will sit as a committee, next Monday afternoon to go over the various plans of Santa Ana city department heads, on how they would cut their departmental budgets 20 per cent beginning June 1.

The reports of the fire department and the police department already have been received by the council and are on file. Lloyd Banks, auditor, and Harry N. Hays, head of the water department made their reports this week.

Hays suggests a 10 per cent cut in salaries and then expects to make up the remainder of the 20 per cent by savings on equipment, lights and heat, and on the proposed Congressional plan of returning the two cent stamp. This alone would effect a $320 cut in his department.

One of his plans is to refrain from mailing out some 4200 final notices before water is turned off. This would save $178.25, he reported.

His expense last year was $11,667. Next year he expects it to be $9823.

Banks does not anticipate a cut in salary for his department. There are only two in the department. He expects to save from 20 to 30 per cent through consolidated buying, $600 on fire insurance by asking for a resurvey of city buildings and properties, eight per cent on accident insurance by asking for more attention to safety measures throughout the city departments, $500 on the Forest Home camp grounds, $300 on special assessments on the tax roll, 20 per cent on auditing of city books, 22 per cent on telephone bills and declares that there will be a savings on repairs to buildings as the new city hall at Tenth and North Main streets will not need repair for the next year, once the city offices are moved into it.

WALNUT GROUP GETS DATA ON COSTS FRIDAY

A special meeting of walnut growers has been called by J. A. Smiley, chairman of the walnut department of the farm bureau for next Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the farm advisor's office to review analysis of production costs of last year's crop just completed by Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg.

The analysis has been made possible through the cooperation of two dozen representative walnut growers in Orange county, who have regularly submitted their field cost data to the local farm agent's office. A detailed study has been made of the average cost of water, irrigation labor, pest control, pruning and harvesting operations, as well as overhead charges.

The purposes of this analysis, according to Smiley, are first, to establish a convenient standard of costs that the individual grower may use as a guide in his production expenditures, and, second, to furnish the walnut industry an authentic basis for estimating protective values and measures.

The report will also include a review of cost data compiled during the past four years, which will show trends of costs and returns to the grower. The cooperating growers who have supplied the cost data will attend the meeting, but it will be open to any grower interested in the economic phases of the walnut industry.

TUBBS, DEPUTIES GET SALARY CUTS

Salaries of Agricultural Commissioner Dixon Tubbs and his deputies were drastically reduced in a bill signed yesterday by Gov. James Rolph.

Under the new bill, a part of the county government act, Tubbs' salary as commissioner was cut from $4800 to $3800. Three deputies were reduced from $3000 to $2400 and a fourth deputy, assigned to bacteriological work, is cut from $2400 to $2040.

The bill stipulates that the commissioner may appoint 11 inspectors at $148.75 per month, three at $127.50, and five at not more than $4.50 per day, providing, however, that the total salary outlay for inspectors does not exceed $3300 per year.

The bill was introduced by Assemblyman Ted Craig, Brea, and James Utt of Santa Ana.

Express Sympathy To Beach Mayor

Sympathy of the board of supervisors and the entire county for the loss sustained by Mayor Thomas Murphine of San Clemente when his house was destroyed by a landslide, was contained in a resolution adopted by the board of supervisors yesterday.

The resolution also expressed the hope that Murphine may recoup his losses and that his home may be restored as far as possible.

VERSES BY SANTA ANA JUNIOR COLLEGE GIRL WIN PRIZE IN STATE AUTHOLOGY

Word has been received at Santa Ana Junior College that Miss Celestia Straub has been awarded first prize for a group of five poems to appear in "First the Blade," an anthology of poetry by students representing colleges of California. An additional prize also has been given her for a special group of ballads.

Contributions from three other junior college students, Elizabeth Skiles Moody, Pauline Flint and Waldo Streman, have been accepted for the anthology.

Miss Straub's poems include "The Sisters Lullaby," "Old Ursula and Rosalie," "There Sits My Sister on a Stone" and "The Fool's Bells Jangled." The last poem has appeared in Beulah May's column on the Saturday literature page in The Register. Miss Straub's work has appeared three times in the Tavern Post, jaysee literary magazine.

This is the sixth publication of "First the Blade," which was established in 1928. Various colleges take over the publication of the anthology, and this year San Diego Teachers college is publishing the volume. Forty-five colleges and universities as well as junior colleges, were represented in last year's volume while there were 1500 contributions. Santa Ana jaysee was represented that year by Marcia Elliott, Celestia Straub and Katherine Cosner.

Miss Straub is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Straub, 919 Lacy street, and will graduate from the local college in June. She is a graduate of the high school and is a member of the high school and jaysee honor societies. She is majoring in English and her plans for next year are indefinite at the present time.

WINS HONORS

Miss Celestia Straub, below, Santa Ana Junior college student, was awarded first prize for having contributed the best poem to "First the Blade," an anthology of college verse contributed by students of California colleges and junior colleges.

Dinner Observes 3 Anniversaries

GARDEN GROVE, May 10.—Miss Mabel Head entertained with a family dinner recently at her home on East Acacia street. The occasion marked the birthday anniversary of her father, George Head, and her brother-in-law, E. R. Schneider and the fourth wedding anniversary of her brother, Robert Head, and wife.

A pink and white color scheme was carried out in the sweet peas used for table decorations and other appointments. A feature of the dinner was a bride's cake, decorated with a miniature bride and groom, and the birthday cake, which graced the table.

Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Schneider and daughter, Miss Winifred, and son, Donovan; Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Head and daughter, Muriel; George Head, Marvin Joseph and Miss Mabel Head.

LEGION WOMEN PREPARING FOR POPPY SALES

Members of the Santa Ana American Legion Auxiliary unit are making extensive preparations for the observance of "PoppyDay" on May 27, the Saturday before Memorial day, and are hoping for the full cooperation of all other organizations and individuals.

Memorial poppies, to be worn in honor of the World war dead, will be made available to everyone in the city by volunteer workers from the Auxiliary unit. Organization of the workers is going forward rapidly under Mrs. Willard Swartout's direction and the unit expects to have its "poppy girls" in all parts of the down town district throughout the day. The flowers for the sale have been received from Sawtelle and San Francisco hospitals where they have been made by disabled World war veterans.

"Poppy Day is the day for personal tribute to the men who lost their lives in the country's service," Mrs. Swartout explained. "It is a day when all can show that they still remember and honor the sacrifices made by those who defended America during the great war crisis, and that they are carrying on for America in time of peace. The poppy is a patriotic symbol which means honor for the dead and service for the living.

"No price will be asked for the American Legion Auxiliary poppies. The Auxiliary wants everyone to wear a poppy and to contribute for the flower according to his means. All contributions will be used for relief work among the disabled veterans and their families, the bulk of the money going to support the relief activities of our local auxiliary unit among needy families in this city."

GROWERS HEAR CALAVO HEAD AT MEET HERE

Stressing the need for unity in marketing, Carl V. Newman, president of the Calavo Growers' Exchange, was the principal speaker at a meeting of the Santa Ana-Tustin district Calavo growers. The meeting was held last night in the auditorium of Frances Willard Junior High school. The meeting was held to hear the report of the efficiency survey committee.

Individual avocado growers of Orange county can most effectively increase their own returns and reduce the per pound costs of marketing today by increasing the tonnage and membership of their own growers' cooperative marketing program, Newman declared.

All avocado sales prices and returns to growers must decrease as greater non-cooperative fruit competition takes place, Newman declared. These prices and returns can only be increased through the creation of new outlets in the east by a consumer educational program as well as a dealer program, and in signing up more non-cooperative growers. The efficiency committee found that all avocado growers would have received three cents more per pound for their fruit last season had there been 90 per cent cooperation of growers in marketing.

Newman said that approximately $100,000 has been slashed from the exchange budget this season, compared to that of last year. This reduction was due to action of the management and efficiency committee. This reduction is expected to run well over the $100,000 mark by the end of the season, as additional reductions are contemplated. More than $1000 monthly has been effected through reduction of exchange personnel. This reduction is made annually after the season's peak is reached.

Branch sales officers cost far less than selling through other channels, the committee found, eliminating considerable in commissions. The officers are also of far more value in developing new market outlets, and in winning dealer preference and price premium for "calavos," as they work 100 per cent for the interest of the exchange members' products, Newman declared.

Board Releases 116 Teachers In Fight On Tenure

SOME MAY BE RE-EMPLOYED IN NEW FIELD

Santa Ana board of education last night released 116 teachers in the elementary, high schools and adult education department. Teachers released in the elementary and high school districts were probationary teachers and released in furtherance of the board's recently adopted policy preventing more probationers acquiring a permament status.

While the majority of the probationers released last night were completing their third year as teachers in the Santa Ana system and would have become permanent is given contracts for 1933-34, many were just completing their second year. Many of the teachers in that classification, however, will be re-employed when reorganization has been completed and needs for the next year are determined.

May Re-employ Some

Third year teachers cannot be re-employed in the same field in which they have taught for the past three years. It is possible that some of them with credentials for other fields will be re-employed after the reorganization. Others are being exchanged with other schools where a similar policy of denying tenure has been adopted.

Of the list of teachers released last night 24 taught in the adult education department and were released as it has not yet been decided whether or not the department will be continued next year.

Substitute teachers in the elementary and high school districts accounted for another 48 teachers. In the past it has not been the custom to formally release substitute teachers. This year it was considered advisable as in Los Angeles, it was said, two substitutes who had been employed in that capacity for four years were claiming permanent status as substitutes.

The two home teachers, Mrs. Florence McKee and Mrs. Elizabeth Watson also were released.

Teachers in the elementary school being released at the close of the school year are: Florence Moreland, Ione Hanson, Mrs. Gertrude Winchester, Evelyn Yount, Eva Marshall, Gladys Wilson, Rowena Newcomb, Thelma Patton, Grace Prichard, Mary R. Beasley, Charlotte Harnois, Justina Palmer, Florence Lazare, Mrs. Ann Ward, Mrs. Vilma French, Louise Griffith, Dorothy Jessee, Clara Spelman, Maren Leonard, Lenora Fernandez, Marie Osborn, Mrs. Lucy Cherry, Lois Sturgeon, Mary Fine, Louisa Hampton, Grace Alberts, Marian Bruner, Lucinda Griffith, Mrs. Verna Hopkins, Louise Van Dien, Lucille Harrison, Velma P. Smith.

Substitutes in the elementary district who were released are: Mrs. Josephine Barr, Mrs. Josephine Glines, Josephine Ball, Elanor Crookshank, Margaret Lytle, Dignonne Goddard, Mrs. Florence McKee, Mrs. Sadie Matics, Mrs. Sigrid Brown, Helen Drake, Mrs. Elizabeth Watson, Mrs. Agnes Kemper.

Betty Gould, Mrs. Virginia Brand, June Arnold, Mrs. June Mayhill, Mrs. Jean Ebersole, Mrs. Cristine Rogers, Mrs. Louise Stearns, Mrs. Isabel Getty, Mrs. Winifred Patton, Mrs. Doris Evans, Mrs. Florence Davis, Lorine Jesse Shipe.

High School Group

High school teachers released were: Robert R. Benson, Edgar M. Mann, Sheldon M. Hayden, Bryon F. Quivey, Alan A. Revill, Esther Schwaiger, Theo. Schwaiger and Charles Webber.

Substitute teachers in the high school district who were released were: Mrs. Lois Green Settle, Betty Gould, Mrs. Ruby Yeager, Orwyn Veach, Katherine Frankforter, Faris Edgar, Margaret Glenn, Howard Paul, Mabel Robertson, Mrs. Miriam Sitton, Mrs. Jean Ebersole, Ruth Tantlinger.

Mildred Ranney, Alice Almquist, Mrs. Helen Walden, Lulu Walker, Margaret Cianfoni, W. W. Wieman, Mrs. Margaret Householder, J. A. Randall, C. E. Roberts, Lenora Tompkins, Bernice Simons, Mrs. Mary Steffenson.

Adult education department teachers notified that their services would not be required after June 30 were: Birdina Anderson, Ruth Bartlett, Margaret Cianfoni, Baxter Geeting, Jean Goodwin, Mrs. Dodley Page Harper, Verne Harrison, Mrs. Margaret R. Householder, Elba Johnson, Albert I. Mellenthin, Howard Paul, J. A. Randall.

Mabel Robertson, Helen Richards, Mrs. Miriam Sitton, Chas. L. Tibbetts, James B. Tucker, Mrs. Helen S. Walden, Charles Webber, Harry Westover, Mrs. Muriel White, Dr. Regina Westcott Wieman, William W. Wieman, Mrs. Ruby Wright.

MONEY—FROM THE STONE AGE TILL NOW

By WILLIS THORNTON
Sketches by Art Krenz

In earliest Colonial days, the Indians' wampum (strings of small shells) was commonly used by the Colonists themselves as money. Beaver skins, tobacco and rice passed current as money at various times and places.

EARLY COLONIAL PAPER NOTE

"PINE TREE SHILLING" EARLY COLONIAL COIN — ONE OF THE FIRST AMERICAN DOLLARS.

As population grew, and English, Spanish and French coins were their only money, the Colonies began issuing their own. Much of it was "fiat money," that is, paper of no value in itself, but to be used as money because the government said so. Values fluctuated, trade was difficult.

So disrupted was the Colonial paper money system that England forbade the Colonies to issue any more. This was one of the causes of friction that led to the Revolution. The Colonists identified "hard coin" with Toryism and England.

As there were then no sources of precious metal within the Colonies, the people leaned naturally toward paper money, which is just as good as any other kind, provided there is not too much of it. But the value of money tends to fall when there is an oversupply, despite laws to prevent this.

SAVINGS PLANS ANNOUNCED BY CITY OFFICIALS

All members of the Santa Ana city council will sit as a committee, next Monday afternoon to go over the various plans of Santa Ana city department heads, on how they would cut their departmental budgets 20 per cent beginning June 1.

The reports of the fire department and the police department already have been received by the council and are on file, Lloyd Banks, auditor, and Harry N. Hays, head of the water department made their reports this week.

Hays suggests a 10 per cent cut in salaries and then expects to make up the remainder of the 20 per cent by savings on equipment, lights and heat, and on the proposed Congressional plan of returning the two cent stamp. This alone would effect a $320 cut in his department.

One of his plans is to refrain from mailing out some 4200 final notices before water is turned off. This would save $178.25, he reported.

His expense last year was $11,667. Next year he expects it to be $9823.

Banks does not anticipate a cut in salary for his department. There are only two in the department. He expects to save from 20 to 30 per cent through consolidated buying, $600 on fire insurance by asking for a resurvey of city buildings and properties, eight per cent on accident insurance by asking for more attention to safety measures throughout the city departments, $500 on the Forest Home camp grounds, $300 on special assessments on the tax roll, 20 per cent on auditing of city books, 22 per cent on telephone bills and declares that there will be a savings on repairs to buildings as the new city hall at Tenth and North Main streets will not need repair for the next year, once the city offices are moved into it.

WALNUT GROUP GETS DATA ON COSTS FRIDAY

A special meeting of walnut growers has been called by J. A. Smiley, chairman of the walnut department of the farm bureau for next Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the farm advisor's office to review analysis of production costs of last year's crop just completed by Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg.

The analysis has been made possible through the cooperation of two dozen representative walnut growers in Orange county, who have regularly submitted their field cost data to the local farm agent's office. A detailed study has been made of the average cost of water, irrigation labor, pest control, pruning and harvesting operations, as well as overhead charges.

The purposes of this analysis, according to Smiley, are first, to establish a convenient standard of costs that the individual grower may use as a guide in his production expenditures, and, second, to furnish the walnut industry an authentic basis for estimating protective values and measures.

The report will also include a review of cost data compiled during the past four years, which will show trends of costs and returns to the grower. The cooperating growers who have supplied the cost data will attend the meeting, but it will be open to any grower interested in the economic phases of the walnut industry.

TUBBS, DEPUTIES GET SALARY CUTS

Salaries of Agricultural Commissioner Dixon Tubbs and his deputies were drastically reduced in a bill signed yesterday by Gov. James Rolph.

Under the new bill, a part of the county government act, Tubbs' salary as commissioner was cut from $4800 to $3800. Three deputies were reduced from $3000 to $2400 and a fourth deputy, assigned to bacteriological work, is cut from $2400 to $2040.

The bill stipulates that the commissioner may appoint 11 inspectors at $148.75 per month, three at $127.50, and five at not more than $4.50 per day, providing, however, that the total salary outlay for inspectors does not exceed $3300 per year.

The bill was introduced by Assemblyman Ted Craig, Brea, and James Utt of Santa Ana.

VERSES BY SANTA ANA JUNIOR COLLEGE GIRL WIN PRIZE IN STATE AUTHOLOGY

Word has been received at Santa Ana Junior College that Miss Celestia Straub has been awarded first prize for a group of five poems to appear in "First the Blade," an anthology of poetry by students representing colleges of California. An additional prize also has been given her for a special group of ballads.

Contributions from three other junior college students, Elizabeth Skiles Moody, Pauline Flint and Waldo Streman, have been accepted for the anthology.

Miss Straub's poems include "The Sisters Lullaby," "Old Ursula and Rosalie," "There Sits My Sister on a Stone" and "The Fool's Bells Jangled." The last poem has appeared in Beulah May's column on the Saturday literature page in The Register. Miss Straub's work has appeared three times in the Tavern Post, jaysee literary magazine.

This is the sixth publication of "First the Blade," which was established in 1928. Various colleges take over the publication of the anthology, and this year San Diego Teachers college is publishing the volume. Forty-five colleges and universities as well as junior colleges, were represented in last year's volume while there were 1500 contributions. Santa Ana jaysee was represented that year by Marcia Elliott, Celestia Straub and Katherine Cosner.

Miss Straub is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Straub, 919 Lacy street, and will graduate from the local college in June. She is a graduate of the high school and is a member of the high school and jaysee honor societies. She is majoring in English and her plans for next year are indefinite at the present time.

Express Sympathy To Beach Mayor

Sympathy of the board of supervisors and the entire county for the loss sustained by Mayor Thomas Murphine of San Clemente when his house was destroyed by a landslide, was contained in a resolution adopted by the board of supervisors yesterday.

The resolution also expressed the hope that Murphine may recoup his losses and that his home may be restored as far as possible.

Dinner Observes 3 Anniversaries

GARDEN GROVE, May 10.—Miss Mabel Head entertained with a family dinner recently at her home on East Acacia street. The occasion marked the birthday anniversary of her father, George Head, and her brother-in-law, E. R. Schneider and the fourth wedding anniversary of her brother, Robert Head, and wife.

A pink and white color scheme was carried out in the sweet peas used for table decorations and other appointments. A feature of the dinner was a bride's cake, decorated with a miniature bride and groom, and the birthday cake, which graced the table.

Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Schneider and daughter, Miss Winifred, and son, Donovan; Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Head and daughter, Muriel; George Head, Marvin Joseph and Miss Mabel Head.

LEGION WOMEN PREPARING FOR POPPY SALES

Members of the Santa Ana American Legion Auxiliary unit are making extensive preparations for the observance of "PoppyDay" on May 27, the Saturday before Memorial day, and are hoping for the full cooperation of all other organizations and individuals.

Memorial poppies, to be worn in honor of the World war dead, will be made available to everyone in the city by volunteer workers from the Auxiliary unit. Organization of the workers is going forward rapidly under Mrs. Willard Swartout's direction and the unit expects to have its "poppy girls" in all parts of the down town district throughout the day. The flowers for the sale have been received from Sawtelle and San Francisco hospitals where they have been made by disabled World war veterans.

"Poppy Day is the day for personal tribute to the men who lost their lives in the country's service," Mrs. Swartout explained. "It is a day when all can show that they still remember and honor the sacrifices made by those who defended America during the great war crisis, and that they are carrying on for America in time of peace. The poppy is a patriotic symbol which means honor for the dead and service for the living.

"No price will be asked for the American Legion Auxiliary poppies. The Auxiliary wants everyone to wear a poppy and to contribute for the flower according to his means. All contributions will be used for relief work among the disabled veterans and their families, the bulk of the money going to support the relief activities of our local auxiliary unit among needy families in this city."

GROWERS HEAR CALAVO HEAD AT MEET HERE

Stressing the need for unity in marketing, Carl V. Newman, president of the Calavo Growers' Exchange, was the principal speaker at a meeting of the Santa Ana-Tustin district Calavo growers. The meeting was held last night in the auditorium of Frances Willard Junior High school. The meeting was held to hear the report of the efficiency survey committee.

Individual avocado growers of Orange county can most effectively increase their own returns and reduce the per pound costs of marketing today by increasing the tonnage and membership of their own growers' cooperative marketing program, Newman declared.

All avocado sales prices and returns to growers must decrease as greater non-cooperative fruit competition takes place, Newman declared. These prices and returns can only be increased through the creation of new outlets in the east by a consumer educational program as well as a dealer program, and in signing up more non-cooperative growers. The efficiency committee found that all avocado growers would have received three cents more per pound for their fruit last season had there been 90 per cent cooperation of growers in marketing.

Newman said that approximately $100,000 has been slashed from the exchange budget this season, compared to that of last year. This reduction was due to action of the management and efficiency committee. This reduction is expected to run well over the $100,000 mark by the end of the season, as additional reductions are contemplated. More than $1000 monthly has been effected through reduction of exchange personnel. This reduction is made annually after the season's peak is reached.

Branch sales officers cost far less than selling through other channels, the committee found, eliminating considerable in commissions. The officers are also of far more value in developing new market outlets, and in winning dealer preference and price premium for "calavos," as they work 100 per cent for the interest of the exchange members' products, Newman declared.

Officers Elected At Chapter's May Session

Outstanding events of the May meeting of Santa Ana chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held in the home of Miss Mabel McFadden, 906 North Main street, included election of officers and the presentation of a delightful program.

During the election, which followed the report of the nominating committee, Mrs. Henry W. Guthrie was named regent; Mrs. Arthur May, vice-regent; Mrs. John L. Mitchell, recording secretary; Mrs. E. G. Warner, corresponding secretary; Miss Mabel Larrick, treasurer; Miss Martha Whitson, registrar; Mrs. Cotton Mather, historian. The advisory board includes Mrs. E. G. Summers, Mrs. A. J. McFadden, Mrs. Calvin Rowland and Mrs. S. W. Andrews.

Mrs. J. C. Hamil introduced Mrs. Marie Stanton Eyerly, who sang "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," with Mrs. Hamil as accompanist. Mrs. J. H. Nicholson, chairman of genealogical research, gave a brief talk, after which Mrs. O. S. Catland read an educational paper on "Old Trails and Historic Spots."

Mrs. Guthrie, vice-regent, presided over the meeting in the absence of the regent, Mrs. M. M. Holmes. Following devotionals, reports were given of the D. A. R. council meeting in Los Angeles last Monday, and of the state conference at San Francisco in March. At the conference, it was reported that California has a D. A. R. membership of 4000, with 190 new members during the past year.

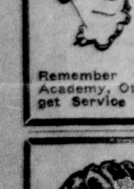

The afternoon closed with an enjoyable social hour, for which Miss McFadden had the assistance of Mrs. J. H. Metzgar, Miss Artie Cleaveland, Mrs. Dudley, Miss Ada McFadden and Miss Harriet Whidden. Mrs. Robert Northcross and Miss Vanche Plumb presided at the tea table.

Players To Consider Summer Plan At Barn Thursday

A possible continuation of Barn programs through the summer along lines to be outlined by retiring officers will be discussed Thursday night when Santa Ana Community Players convene in their rural headquarters, East Fourth and Mabury streets. The decision is scheduled for 8 o'clock.

Barn patrons this month may count on a nicely balanced program according to plans disclosed by committee heads. The bill includes a play reading by Mona Summers Smith, a one-act play directed by Gladys Simpson Shafer and a brief discussion of the intricacies of stage make-up by Mrs. Warren Fletcher.

Mrs. Smith will give a condensed review of a play which has proven a great favorite on Broadway and which lends itself nicely to interpretation by a reader. Mrs. Smith's abilities as an actress, demonstrated frequently before local audiences, promises to make the reading a special pleasure, dramatically.

The play to be presented, a one-act drama laid in the mid-eighteenth century, is "The Beau of Bath" by Constance d'Arcy Mackay. Its cast will include Edith Ellis, Wylie Carlyle and Bob Northcross. The play is built on incidents in the storied career of Beau Nash, England's social dictator of that period.

Mrs. Fletcher will illustrate her talk on the use of theater cosmetics by making up Wylie Carlyle for his stage role and by illustrating a different type of make up on another member of the Players group.

Youngster Unexpected Hostess on Fifth Anniversary

While the fifth birthday anniversary of Miss Joan Forgy did not take that young lady unawares, the celebration proper came as more of a surprise when the date was observed Monday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Forgy, 2428 Oakmont street.

Escorted to her home in the early afternoon by her grandmother and aunt, Mrs. H. J. Forgy and Miss Dorothy Forgy, the unsuspecting little hostess was greeted by a bevy of friends already gathered around the dining table, festively appointed for a birthday luncheon. Orange balloons waved from the chandeliers above the table, laid with a jade green cloth with blue and mustard colored plaid. Bonbons, party favors and a birthday cake were among luncheon surprises.

The donkey game, a favorite at birthday parties, again captivated the youngsters and proved the most popular of the contests enjoyed during the afternoon.

Business Girls Have Two Events of Interest

Two events of special interest have just been held by Wryconde Maegdenu club members of the Y. W. C. A., who elected new officers last night at a dinner session, and raised a neat sum for the Asilomar fund at a benefit party Saturday afternoon in the Y. W. rooms.

Officers named last night were the Misses Beulah Dudgeon, president; Hazel Lee, vice-president; Katherine Smith, secretary; Grace Gettle, treasurer.

Miss Katherine Spicer, retiring president, was in charge of the business session. Miss Alma Karlsson and Miss Lena Thomas, members of the Business and Professional Women's club, attended in the absence of Miss Nancy Elder, Business Girls' advisor, now at Asilomar.

Announcement was made that an informal dance for the club will be held Saturday evening, June 3 at Memorial hall, Huntington Beach. Miss Eva Deane Caskey, social chairman, will be in charge of the affair.

Benefit Affair

The Asilomar benefit party given Saturday afternoon in the Y. W. clubrooms was under the direction of Miss Rowena Newcomb, finance chairman. Eleven tables of cards were in session, with Miss Ruth Du Bois scoring high.

A musical program was given, including piano and violin selections by the Misses Beatrice and Audrey Granas. A trio, composed of Anna May Archer, pianist and Robert Forcey and Ray Archer, violinist, played gay numbers. Little Velma Stroud gave musical readings.

Refreshments of tea and cakes were served at card tables spread with pretty linens. Miss Newcomb's committee assistants were the Misses Eliza Venn, Ruth Du Bois, Eva Deane Caskey and Dorothy Dresser.

Quiet Wedding Service Unites University Students

News today reached Santa Ana friends of the marriage on Friday May 5, of Miss Barbara Ann LeVitt, a junior at the University of Southern California, and Thomas B. Clark, a senior at the University and graduate of Santa Ana junior college.

The campus romance, which began a year ago at the Trojan institution, was culminated in the First Presbyterian church of Santa Barbara, with the Rev. Robert N. McLean hearing the vows of the young couple.

Miss LeVitt wore a blue crepe ensemble with white accessories including a white veiled turban. Her maid of honor, Miss Nell Bales of this city, wore yellow crepe.

Mr. Clark was attended by a campus friend, Bruce Harbottle of Garden Grove.

Only a few close friends and the immediate families of the couple knew of the wedding. The bridal group motored to Santa Barbara Friday for the ceremony, which took place at 7:30 p. m. The new Mr. and Mrs. Clark spent the week end at the Miramir hotel in Montecito.

Following his graduation in June Mr. Clark will continue in his position as business manager of the Pacific Goldfish farms at Westminster, in which community he and Mrs. Clark plan to make their home.

Mr. Clark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Clark, 810 East Sixth street. He entered junior college following his graduation from Santa Ana high school. In jaycee, he was treasurer and vice-president of the student body and a member of Brotherhood of Bachelors, Honor society, and various other organizations.

Sorority Formulates Plans for Future Social Affairs

Plans for a rush breakfast to be held Saturday morning in the home of Mrs. Newell Moore, North Main street, and for participation in a dance at the Mission Inn, Riverside, at the invitation of the Beta Sigma Phi chapter of that city, were among future engagements arranged at the most recent meeting of Beta Sigma Phi sorority. The last program of a series on famous women in history was presented at the session, held in Campi's cafe, Anaheim boulevard.

Another new chapter venture is the organization of a vocal quartet, composed of members of this group.

Following a sketch of the history of the sorority by Miss Beulah May, honorary member, various members contributed to the chapter's study of women, as follows: Miss Lucille Meyers, "Women of the Americas"; Miss Mary Ford, "Jean Montfort"; Miss Lillian McDonald, "Blanche of Castile"; Miss Elsie Siemsen, "Matilde of Tuscany"; Miss Mary Louise Wallace, "Heloise and Abelard"; Miss Lynette Robb, "Madame De Sevigne." Miss May spoke briefly concerning Cecilia Beaux, the portrait painter, who, she pointed out, recently won a gold medal for her work. Mrs. Moore led the discussion, with Miss Mary Ford, president, conducting the business session.

Three tables were formed for bridge, with first prize going to Miss Ruth Stevenson.

Among events of the past two weeks in which chapter members have taken part were teas in Alhambra and Fullerton and a banquet in Pasadena.

Miss Lillie Forsberg and Miss Dorothy Lindsey were other members attending the affair, at which hostesses were the Misses Marie LaBrucherie, Ione Hanson and Delphina Lopez.

Miss Hoffman To Be Wedded June 2 At Mission Inn

Close friends of Miss Josephine Hoffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hoffman of 442 South Flower street, were apprised of her betrothal to John D. Strahle of this city, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Strahle of Omaha, Neb., at a beautifully appointed announcement breakfast given in the Doris Kathryn Tea Shoppe Sunday morning. Guests were informed that the ceremony would occur June 2 at Glenwood Mission Inn, Riverside. The breakfast was given by Mrs. Hoffman with the assistance of Mrs. W. W. Stratton, also of this city.

News of the engagement was disclosed in unique manner, guests learning the plan in continued story form as numbered scrolls, tied with pink tulle and secured to place cards, were unrolled and the couplets inscribed therein read by each guest in the proper sequence.

The centerpiece displayed a mock silver engagement ring uniting two hearts fashioned of white tarleton on a fluffy base of white tulle through which were scattered Cecile Brunner roses and bits of fern. Pink tapers tied with pink tulle flanked this decoration, place cards also carrying out the pink and white theme.

A delightful program of music included offerings by Mrs. W. W. Stratton, who sang "Love is a Bubble" and "Cherry Blossoms," accompanied by her cousin, Miss Hoffman. Miss Hoffman played a piano selection, and a humorous reading was given by Miss Helen Westering.

Miss Hoffman, who is now with the Holly Sugar company, studied two years at Oregon State university after graduating from Santa Ana high school. She is affiliated here with the Panhellenic society by virtue of her membership in Kappa Delta sorority at the northern college.

Mr. Strahle, formerly of Omaha, Neb., has resided in Santa Ana five years. Graduated from the University of Nebraska as a pharmacist, he is now with the Bruce Monroe drug store in this city. He is a member of Kappa Sigma social fraternity and of the Masonic order.

Bidden to share the announcement were the Misses Alice Olive Forcy, Frances Forcey, Helen Westering, Hazel Johnston, Helen Roberts, Helen Drake, Clarice Mitchell and Mrs. Stuart Sutton, all of this city; Miss Rosette Satterlaw of Whittier, college roommate of the honoree; Mrs. Charles Mahler of Los Angeles, a sorority sister of Miss Huffman; Miss Beatrice Wood, Pasadent; Miss Audrey Heimerdinger and Miss Lucille Heimerdinger Huntington Park.

Play Presented for Temperance Group

A playlet, "Preventarium," presented by Miss Emily Cox, director of health for the Santa Ana W. C. T. U., was an important feature of a meeting of the Union held Tuesday afternoon. Cast in the dramatic skit were Mrs. Mary Wager, Mrs. Ivy Olson, Mrs. Edith Moore and Mrs. Emma Tenny Wilson.

Members heard a discussion by Mrs. Margaret McClelland on "Child Welfare" and a vocal solo, "Cast Thy Bread on Waters," by Mrs. Albert Hill, accompanied by Miss Mame Havens. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Lewis Gall, with Mrs. Effie Nicholson presiding in the absence of Mrs. Amy Evans.

The Union voted to hold a birthday party the latter part of this month. Members were requested to bring flowers to the next meeting, designated as "Flower Mission day." Officers urged payment of dues this month.

Executive Board Has Party for Teaching Staff

Executive board members of John Muir P.-T. A. were hostesses at a pleasant party given one evening the past week in the home of Mrs. W. D. Tibbs, 518 North McClay street, where members of the school teaching staff were honored guests.

Corsage bouquets of gardenias and sweet peas were presented to the teachers, to Mrs. William Twan, president of the association, and to Mrs. E. N. Higday, birthday celebrant. Other spring blooms decked the home.

Guests spent the evening at bridge and jigsaw puzzles, Mrs. Westeen winning the award in the latter diversion. Card prizes were won by Miss Florence Hullsiek and Mrs. J. D. Robinson, who scored first and second high, and to Miss Alice Grimshaw, low.

During the refreshment interval, tables were appointed with May baskets in pink, yellow and green.

Teachers present were Miss Alice Grimshaw, principal; Miss Josephine Goode, Miss Helen Kennedy, Miss Edna Ingham, Miss Stella Miller, Miss Florence Hullsiek and Miss Louisa Hampton.

Board members attending were Mesdames William Tway, J. D. Robinson, Hugh Smith, A. Essau, Roscoe Moore, E. W. Higday, Charles Geren, Max Holmes, W. D. Tibbs, Clarence Hendrickson, Charles A. Westeen, Paul Roberts, E. A. Reuter, H. W. Smith and Walter Hiskey. The latter is a past president of the club.

Intimate Group Meets For Anniversary Observance

Complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnson's twentieth wedding anniversary was a pleasant gathering of Sunday when Mr. and Mrs. Orville Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Ehler were hosts at dinner in the Orville Johnson home in Tustin.

It was in Clackamas, Ore., that the wedding took place a score of years ago, and Mrs. Ehler and Orville Johnson served the bridal pair as maid of honor and best man, so there were many happy memories to be recalled.

The home was colorful with great clusters of iris blooms, while small baskets of mock orange blossoms made appropriate table decorations. The whole affair was one of intimate charm shared by the honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnson, their children, Arthur, Kenneth, Russell and Glenn Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Ehler and children, Phyllis Ehler and Johnny Lauder, and Mr. and Mrs. Orville Johnson and daughter, Ruth Johnson.

Hostess Uses Floral Setting for Club Session

The home of Mrs. John J. Vernon, 2020 Santiago street, fragrant with blossoms from the home gardens, was setting last night for an enjoyable meeting of the Chat and Sew club. Snapdragons, amaryllis, roses and unique purple carnations, the latter from the gardens of Mrs. Carl Pister, decked the rooms for the occasion.

Mrs. Vernon had arranged interesting contests for part of the evening's diversion. Mrs. Edwin Westcott proved to be the fortunate prize winner. Guests spent some of the time sewing, and were served a delicious menu at a late hour. Individual trays were cleverly appointed in black and silver for this interval.

Present were Mesdames Ensley Campbell, James Smith, Dale Griggs, T. R. Naill, Gorman Rensberger of Santa Ana; Mesdames J. T. McInnis, Edwin Westcott, Wilbur Wood, Carl Pister, Vern O. Estes, Irwin Frevert, L. R. Doncaster, John Powell, Miss Edna Case and the hostess, Mrs. Vernon.

Mrs. Smith will be hostess at the next meeting, Tuesday, May 23.

You and your Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Smith, 1416 North Broadway, who left last week for a leisurely trans-continental automobile trip, were expected to arrive today in Siloam Springs, Ark., according to the itinerary which they outlined. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will be absent for three months or longer, during which they will visit New York, Washington, Detroit and various eastern cities, spend some time with relatives and friends in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Michigan, and see the World's Fair in Chicago on their homeward journey.

Mrs. Lillian Chandler of Concord, New Hampshire, and her niece, Mrs. Helen Smith of Pasadena, were guests Tuesday in the home of relatives, Dr. and Mrs. Roy S. Horton, 315 Cypress avenue. Mrs. Chandler has been spending the winter in Southern California, as her son, Dwight Chandler, is in charge of the U. S. destroyer fleet at San Diego.

The high school girls' octet, under the direction of Miss Theo. Schwaiger, filled an engagement recently at Whittier college, where the group had been invited to put on an assembly program. Members of the octet are Alice Martin, Elva Ringland, Winifred Triplett, Alice Brady, Mary Jane Belcher, Bonnie Hamilton, Elizabeth Garlock and Trudis Johnson.

Dr. and Mrs. Newell L. Moore, who have been residing at 417 1-2 West Pine street, moved recently into a new home at 1905 North Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh J. Heaney, 210 East Bishop street, are in Montreal where Mr. Heaney is attending convention sessions of the Order of Railway Telegraphers.

"FAST WORKERS" AT WEST COAST TODAY

"Fast Workers," another new John Gilbert picture, comes to the Fox West Coast theater today for a two-day showing.

With a cast that includes Robert Armstrong and Mae Clark, the film's dialogue is said to be snappy, witty and packs many a punch. The picture is the play here through tomorrow night only.

Zane Grey's "Masked Raider" is an added feature to be shown and Arthur Tracy, the street singer, in a skit, a comedy and a news reel completes the program.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

EAT AND GROW SLIM
Dinner
1½ cups all-vegetable soup
½ boiled salt mackerel
Small baked potato
Large helping of beet greens
Green pepper-egg salad
Clear tea, no sugar
Calory total—550.

* * *

All-Vegetable Soup

Put a can of tomatoes, chopped, a shredded head of celery and one of lettuce, bunch of carrots, and one of green onion, shredded fine, small handful of parsley, minced, salt, pepper and 4 quarts of hot water. Simmer for an hour, then add a handful of pearl barley or rice and 1 tablespoon instant tapioca. Simmer for 2 hours more and add 2 tablespoons butter 15 minutes before the soup is served.

This soup is low in fat-making calories and extremely high in vitamins, those intangibles we must have to keep the home fires burning.

Green-Pepper-Egg Salad

Cut the top off a large green pepper, scoop out all seeds and strings and fill with deviled egg. Chill. Cut the pepper in thin slices, arrange three to a serving, each slice lapped over other. Dressing: French dressing, (mineral oil for diet, salad oil for family use).

This is Dinner 11, taken from the 21-DAY DIET. Those interested in this diet please clip and save. The leaflet is out of print and the diet is available only in this fashion and this publication.

Upside-Down Cake with Fruit Melange
Part I: Batter
1 egg
½ cup sugar
2 tablespoons melted butter
½ cup hot milk
1-3 teaspoon salt and
1½ teaspoons baking powder sifted with
1 cup flour
Part II: Fruit
1 No. 2 can of pineapple diced
1½ cups diced strawberry rhubarb
1 box strawberries, diced
2 sliced bananas
2 scant cups sugar mixed with
¼ cup flour and
2 tablespoons melted butter

For the batter part, beat the egg light and add the sugar and mix to a smooth batter. Pour over the fruit and bake in medium oven 50 minutes.

For the fruit part: Put melted butter in frying pan, float it round to coat pan, sift half of sugar and flour over butter, the other half over the rhubarb. Arrange the various fruits in layers on the sugar-flour bed, cover with batter and bake as directed. Serve hot with thin cream.

There is a trifle over 4700 calories in this dessert, giving 10. A dessert rating calories, every one of them full of wim, wigor and witality, hardly rates much in the cream line, unless you are one of those lucky people who have hollow legs and never get fat no matter what you eat.

Richard Dix Here In Prison Picture

Just as in the outer world there are all kinds of people, and various social strata, so are there men of many kinds in many types in prison. There are victims as well as villains.

No more dramatic treatment of life in a typical American prison camp has reached the screen than "Hell's Highway," stirring picture of a convict's struggle against persecution showing at Walker's State theater, with Richard Dix in the starring role.

Officers Elected At Chapter's May Session

Outstanding events of the May meeting of Santa Ana chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held in the home of Miss Mabel McFadden, 906 North Main street, included election of officers and the presentation of a delightful program.

During the election, which followed the report of the nominating committee, Mrs. Henry W. Guthrie was named regent; Mrs. Arthur May, vice-regent; Mrs. John L. Mitchell, recording secretary; Mrs. E. G. Warner, corresponding secretary; Miss Mabel Larrick, treasurer; Miss Martha Whitson, registrar; Mrs. Cotton Mather, historian. The advisory board includes Mrs. E. G. Summers, Mrs. A. J. McFadden, Mrs. Calvin Rowland and Mrs. S. W. Andrews.

Mrs. J. C. Hamil introduced Mrs. Marie Stanton Eyerly, who sang "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," with Mrs. Hamil as accompanist. Mrs. J. H. Nicholson, chairman of genealogical research, gave a brief talk, after which Mrs. O. S. Catland read an educational paper on "Old Trails and Historic Spots."

Mrs. Guthrie, vice-regent, presided over the meeting in the absence of the regent, Mrs. M. M. Holmes. Following devotionals, reports were given of the D. A. R. council meeting in Los Angeles last Monday, and of the state conference at San Francisco in March. At the conference, it was reported that California has a D. A. R. membership of 4000, with 190 new members during the past year.

The afternoon closed with an enjoyable social hour, for which Miss McFadden had the assistance of Mrs. J. H. Metzgar, Miss Artie Cleaveland, Mrs. Dudley, Miss Ada McFadden and Miss Harriet Whidden. Mrs. Robert Northcross and Miss Vanche Plumb presided at the tea table.

Players To Consider Summer Plan At Barn Thursday

A possible continuation of Barn programs through the summer along lines to be outlined by retiring officers will be discussed Thursday night when Santa Ana Community Players convene in their rural headquarters, East Fourth and Mabury streets. The decision is scheduled for 8 o'clock.

Barn patrons this month may count on a nicely balanced program according to plans disclosed by committee heads. The bill includes a play reading by Mona Summers Smith, a one-act play directed by Gladys Simpson Shafer and a brief discussion of the intricacies of stage make-up by Mrs. Warren Fletcher.

Mrs. Smith will give a condensed review of a play which has proven a great favorite on Broadway and which lends itself nicely to interpretation by a reader. Mrs. Smith's abilities as an actress, demonstrated frequently before local audiences, promises to make the reading a special pleasure, dramatically.

The play to be presented, a one-act drama laid in the mid-eighteenth century, is "The Beau of Bath" by Constance d'Arcy Mackay. Its cast will include Edith Ellis, Wylie Carlyle and Bob Northcross. The play is built on incidents in the storied career of Beau Nash, England's social dictator of that period.

Mrs. Fletcher will illustrate her talk on the use of theater cosmetics by making up Wylie Carlyle for his stage role and by illustrating a different type of make up on another member of the Players group.

Youngster Unexpected Hostess on Fifth Anniversary

While the fifth birthday anniversary of Miss Joan Forgy did not take that young lady unawares, the celebration proper came as more of a surprise when the date was observed Monday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Forgy, 2428 Oakmont street.

Escorted to her home in the early afternoon by her grandmother and aunt, Mrs. H. J. Forgy and Miss Dorothy Forgy, the unsuspecting little hostess was greeted by a bevy of friends already gathered around the dining table, festively appointed for a birthday luncheon. Orange balloons waved from the chandeliers above the table, laid with a jade green cloth with blue and mustard colored plaid. Bonbons, party favors and a birthday cake were among luncheon surprises.

The donkey game, a favorite at birthday parties, again captivated the youngsters and proved the most popular of the contests enjoyed during the afternoon.

Business Girls Have Two Events of Interest

Two events of special interest have just been held by Wrycende Maegdenu club members of the Y. W. C. A., who elected new officers last night at a dinner session, and raised a neat sum for the Asilomar fund at a benefit party Saturday afternoon in the Y. W. rooms.

Officers named last night were the Misses Beulah Dudgeon, president; Hazel Lee, vice-president; Katherine Smith, secretary; Grace Gettle, treasurer.

Miss Katherine Spicer, retiring president, was in charge of the business session. Miss Alma Karlsson and Miss Lena Thomas, members of the Business and Professional Women's club, attended in the absence of Miss Nancy Elder, Business Girls' advisor, now at Asilomar.

Announcement was made that an informal dance for the club will be held Saturday evening, June 3 at Memorial hall, Huntington Beach. Miss Eva Deane Caskey, social chairman, will be in charge of the affair.

Benefit Affair

The Asilomar benefit party given Saturday afternoon in the Y. W. clubrooms was under the direction of Miss Rowena Newcomb, finance chairman. Eleven tables of cards were in session, with Miss Ruth Du Bois scoring high.

A musical program was given, including piano and violin selections by the Misses Beatrice and Audrey Granas. A trio, composed of Anna May Archer, pianist and Robert Forcey and Ray Archer, violinist, played gay numbers. Little Velma Stroud gave musical readings.

Refreshments of tea and cakes were served at card tables spread with pretty linens. Miss Newcomb's committee assistants were the Misses Elza Venn, Ruth Du Bois, Eva Deane Caskey and Dorothy Dresser.

Quiet Wedding Service Unites University Students

News today reached Santa Ana friends of the marriage on Friday May 5, of Miss Barbara Ann LeVitt, a junior at the University of Southern California, and Thomas B. Clark, a senior at the University and graduate of Santa Ana junior college.

The campus romance, which began a year ago at the Trojan institution, was culminated in the First Presbyterian church of Santa Barbara, with the Rev. Robert N. McLean hearing the vows of the young couple.

Miss LeVitt wore a blue crepe ensemble with white accessories including a white veiled turban. Her maid of honor, Miss Nell Bales of this city, wore yellow crepe.

Mr. Clark was attended by a campus friend, Bruce Harbottle of Garden Grove.

Only a few close friends and the immediate families of the couple knew of the wedding. The bridal group motored to Santa Barbara Friday for the ceremony, which took place at 7:30 p. m. The new Mr. and Mrs. Clark spent the week end at the Miramir hotel in Montecito.

Following his graduation in June Mr. Clark will continue in his position as business manager of the Pacific Goldfish farms at Westminster, in which community he and Mrs. Clark plan to make their home.

Mr. Clark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Clark, 810 East Sixth street. He entered junior college following his graduation from Santa Ana high school. In jaycee, he was treasurer and vice-president of the student body and a member of Brotherhood of Bachelors, Honor society, and various other organizations.

Sorority Formulates Plans for Future Social Affairs

Plans for a rush breakfast to be held Saturday morning in the home of Mrs. Newell Moore, North Main street, and for participation in a dance at the Mission Inn, Riverside, at the invitation of the Beta Sigma Phi chapter of that city, were among future engagements arranged at the most recent meeting of Beta Sigma Phi sorority. The last program of a series on famous women in history was presented at the session, held in Campi's cafe, Anaheim boulevard.

Another new chapter venture is the organization of a vocal quartet, composed of members of this group.

Following a sketch of the history of the sorority by Miss Beulah May, honorary member, various members contributed to the chapter's study of women, as follows: Miss Lucille Meyers, "Women of the Americas"; Miss Mary Ford, "Jean Montfort"; Miss Lillian McDonald, "Blanche of Castile"; Miss Elsie Siemsen, "Matilde of Tuscany"; Miss Mary Louise Wallace, "Heloise and Abelard"; Miss Lynette Robb, "Madame De Sevigne." Miss May spoke briefly concerning Cecilia Beaux, the portrait painter, who, she pointed out, recently won a gold medal for her work. Mrs. Moore led the discussion, with Miss Mary Ford, president, conducting the business session.

Three tables were formed for bridge, with first prize going to Miss Ruth Stevenson.

Among events of the past two weeks in which chapter members have taken part were teas in Alhambra and Fullerton and a banquet in Pasadena.

Miss Lillie Forsberg and Miss Dorothy Lindsey were other members attending the affair, at which hostesses were the Misses Marie LaBrucherie, Ione Hanson and Delphina Lopez.

Miss Hoffman To Be Wedded June 2 At Mission Inn

Close friends of Miss Josephine Hoffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hoffman of 442 South Flower street, were apprised of her betrothal to John D. Strahle of this city, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Strahle of Omaha, Neb., at a beautifully appointed announcement breakfast given in the Doris Kathryn Tea Shoppe Sunday morning. Guests were informed that the ceremony would occur June 2 at Glenwood Mission Inn, Riverside. The breakfast was given by Mrs. Hoffman with the assistance of Mrs. W. W. Stratton, also of this city.

News of the engagement was disclosed in unique manner, guests learning the plan in continued story form as numbered scrolls, tied with pink tulle and secured to place cards, were unrolled and the couplets inscribed therein read by each guest in the proper sequence.

The centerpiece displayed a mock silver engagement ring uniting two hearts fashioned of white tarleton on a fluffy base of white tulle through which were scattered Cecile Brunner roses and bits of fern. Pink tapers tied with pink tulle flanked this decoration, place cards also carrying out the pink and white theme.

A delightful program of music included offerings by Mrs. W. W. Stratton, who sang "Love is a Bubble" and "Cherry Blossoms," accompanied by her cousin, Miss Hoffman. Miss Hoffman played a piano selection, and a humorous reading was given by Miss Helen Westering.

Miss Hoffman, who is now with the Holly Sugar company, studied two years at Oregon State university after graduating from Santa Ana high school. She is affiliated here with the Panhellenic society by virtue of her membership in Kappa Delta sorority at the northern college.

Mr. Strahle, formerly of Omaha, Neb., has resided in Santa Ana five years. Graduated from the University of Nebraska as a pharmacist, he is now with the Bruce Monroe drug store in this city. He is a member of Kappa Sigma social fraternity and of the Masonic order.

Bidden to share the announcement were the Misses Alice Olive Forcy, Frances Forcey, Helen Westering, Hazel Johnston, Helen Roberts, Helen Drake, Clarice Mitchell and Mrs. Stuart Sutton, all of this city; Miss Rosette Satterlaw of Whittier, college roommate of the honoree; Mrs. Charles Mahler of Los Angeles, a sorority sister of Miss Huffman; Miss Beatrice Wood, Pasadent; Miss Audrey Heimerdinger and Miss Lucille Heimerdinger Huntington Park.

Play Presented for Temperance Group

A playlet, "Preventarium," presented by Miss Emily Cox, director of health for the Santa Ana W. C. T. U., was an important feature of a meeting of the Union held Tuesday afternoon. Cast in the dramatic skit were Mrs. Mary Wager, Mrs. Ivy Olson, Mrs. Edith Moore and Mrs. Emma Tenny Wilson.

Members heard a discussion by Mrs. Margaret McClelland on "Child Welfare" and a vocal solo, "Cast Thy Bread on Waters," by Mrs. Albert Hill, accompanied by Miss Mame Havens. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Lewis Gall, with Mrs. Effie Nicholson presiding in the absence of Mrs. Amy Evans.

The Union voted to hold a birthday party the latter part of this month. Members were requested to bring flowers to the next meeting, designated as "Flower Mission day." Officers urged payment of dues this month.

Executive Board Has Party for Teaching Staff

Executive board members of John Muir P.-T. A. were hostesses at a pleasant party given one evening the past week in the home of Mrs. W. D. Tibbs, 518 North McClay street, where members of the school teaching staff were honored guests.

Corsage bouquets of gardenias and sweet peas were presented to the teachers, to Mrs. William Twan, president of the association, and to Mrs. E. N. Higday, birthday celebrant. Other spring blooms decked the home.

Guests spent the evening at bridge and jigsaw puzzles, Mrs. Westeen winning the award in the latter diversion. Card prizes were won by Miss Florence Hullsiek and Mrs. J. D. Robinson, who scored first and second high, and to Miss Alice Grimshaw, low.

During the refreshment interval, tables were appointed with May baskets in pink, yellow and green.

Teachers present were Miss Alice Grimshaw, principal; Miss Josephine Goode, Miss Helen Kennedy, Miss Edna Ingham, Miss Stella Miller, Miss Florence Hullsiek and Miss Louisa Hampton.

Board members attending were Mesdames William Tway, J. D. Robinson, Hugh Smith, A. Essau, Roscoe Moore, E. W. Higday, Charles Geren, Max Holmes, W. D. Tibbs, Clarence Hendrickson, Charles A. Westeen, Paul Roberts, E. A. Reuter, H. W. Smith and Walter Hiskey. The latter is a past president of the club.

Intimate Group Meets For Anniversary Observance

Complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnson's twentieth wedding anniversary was a pleasant gathering of Sunday when Mr. and Mrs. Orville Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Ehler were hosts at dinner in the Orville Johnson home in Tustin.

It was in Clackamas, Ore., that the wedding took place a score of years ago, and Mrs. Ehler and Orville Johnson served the bridal pair as maid of honor and best man, so there were many happy memories to be recalled.

The home was colorful with great clusters of iris blooms, while small baskets of mock orange blossoms made appropriate table decorations. The whole affair was one of intimate charm shared by the honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnson, their children, Arthur, Kenneth, Russell and Glenn Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Ehler and children, Phyllis Ehler and Johnny Lauder, and Mr. and Mrs. Orville Johnson and daughter, Ruth Johnson.

Hostess Uses Floral Setting for Club Session

The home of Mrs. John J. Vernon, 2020 Santiago street, fragrant with blossoms from the home gardens, was setting last night for an enjoyable meeting of the Chat and Sew club. Snapdragons, amaryllis, roses and unique purple carnations, the latter from the gardens of Mrs. Carl Pister, decked the rooms for the occasion.

Mrs. Vernon had arranged interesting contests for part of the evening's diversion. Mrs. Edwin Westcott proved to be the fortunate prize winner. Guests spent some of the time sewing, and were served a delicious menu at a late hour. Individual trays were cleverly appointed in black and silver for this interval.

Present were Mesdames Ensley Campbell, James Smith, Dale Griggs, T. R. Naill, Gorman Rensberger of Santa Ana; Mesdames J. T. McInnis, Edwin Westcott, Wilbur Wood, Carl Pister, Vern O. Estes, Irwin Frevert, L. R. Doncaster, John Powell, Miss Edna Case and the hostess, Mrs. Vernon.

Mrs. Smith will be hostess at the next meeting, Tuesday, May 23.

You and Your Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Smith, 1416 North Broadway, who left last week for a leisurely trans-continental automobile trip, were expected to arrive today in Siloam Springs, Ark., according to the itinerary which they outlined. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will be absent for three months or longer, during which they will visit New York, Washington, Detroit and various eastern cities, spend some time with relatives and friends in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Michigan, and see the World's Fair in Chicago on their homeward journey.

Mrs. Lillian Chandler of Concord, New Hampshire, and her niece, Mrs. Helen Smith of Pasadena, were guests Tuesday in the home of relatives, Dr. and Mrs. Roy S. Horton, 315 Cypress avenue. Mrs. Chandler has been spending the winter in Southern California, as her son, Dwight Chandler, is in charge of the U. S. destroyer fleet at San Diego.

The high school girls' octet, under the direction of Miss Theo. Schwaiger, filled an engagement recently at Whittier college, where the group had been invited to put on an assembly program. Members of the octet are Alice Martin, Elva Ringland, Winifred Triplett, Alice Brady, Mary Jane Belcher, Bonnie Hamilton, Elizabeth Garlock and Trudis Johnson.

Dr. and Mrs. Newell L. Moore, who have been residing at 417 1-2 West Pine street, moved recently into a new home at 1905 North Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh J. Heaney, 210 East Bishop street, are in Montreal where Mr. Heaney is attending convention sessions of the Order of Railway Telegraphers.

"FAST WORKERS" AT WEST COAST TODAY

"Fast Workers," another new John Gilbert picture, comes to the Fox West Coast theater today for a two-day showing.

With a cast that includes Robert Armstrong and Mae Clark, the film's dialogue is said to be snappy, witty and packs many a punch. The picture is the play here through tomorrow night only.

Zane Grey's "Masked Raider" is an added feature to be shown and Arthur Tracy, the street singer, in a skit, a comedy and a news reel completes the program.

Dinner
1½ cups all-vegetable soup
½ boiled salt mackerel
Small baked potato
Large helping of beet greens
Green pepper-egg salad
Clear tea, no sugar
Calory total—550.
* * *
All-Vegetable Soup
Put a can of tomatoes, chopped, a shredded head of celery and one of lettuce, bunch of carrots, and one of green onion, shredded fine, small handful of parsley, minced, salt, pepper and 4 quarts of hot water. Simmer for an hour, then add a handful of pearl barley or rice and 1 tablespoon instant tapioca. Simmer for 2 hours more and add 2 tablespoons butter 15 minutes before the soup is served.
This soup is low in fat-making calories and extremely high in vitamins, those intangibles we must have to keep the home fires burning.
Green-Pepper-Egg Salad
Cut the top off a large green pepper, scoop out all seeds and strings and fill with deviled egg. Chill. Cut the pepper in thin slices, arrange three to a serving, each slice lapped over other. Dressing: French dressing, (mineral oil for diet, salad oil for family use).
This is Dinner 11, taken from the 21-DAY DIET. Those interested in this diet please clip and save. The leaflet is out of print and the diet is available only in this fashion and this publication.

Richard Dix Here In Prison Picture

Just as in the outer world there are all kinds of people, and various social strata, so are there men of many kinds in many types in prison. There are victims as well as villains.

No more dramatic treatment of life in a typical American prison camp has reached the screen than "Hell's Highway," stirring picture of a convict's struggle against persecution showing at Walker's State theater, with Richard Dix in the starring role.

Graduates In Nursing Given Complimentary Dinner Party

Thursday night's graduation of a class of 16 nurses from Orange County General hospital School of Nursing, has offered incentive for various gestures of friendly sociability on the part of different hospital and nursing groups, the most recent of which was the dinner given Friday night by the hospital alumnae.

For their hospitality the hostesses selected the Highway Tea Gardens where they complimented their guests by the adoption of a decorative effect in orchid and yellow, colors of the graduating class. Flowers, candles and favors were in this charming combination of hues.

An informal musical program following the 7:30 o'clock dinner featured a series of charming Spanish songs by Mrs. J. J. Farley with Miss Anita Shepardson as accompanist. Both artists were from Fullerton.

Honor guests were the Misses Louise Aiken, Margaret Bondley, Mary Elaine Brown, Elizabeth Lewis, Isabelle Esser, Jewel Wright, Grace Wootton, Olga Klaus, Ruth Garst, Velma Tertrou, Mary Healey, Lois Hershberger, Lois Shively, Velma Robinson, Lucille Mackinstosh and Ruth Meger.

Graduating exercises for this class are to be held in the Orange Women's clubhouse Thursday night at 8 o'clock, with Dr. Harry E. Zaiser, superintendent of the Orange County hospital, as program chairman.

Church Societies

Willing Workers Convene

Mrs. C. A. McGill played hostess to Willing Workers class members at an enjoyable all-day gathering Friday in her home at 275 North Tustin avenue, Orange. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. Grace Deck and Mrs. Euphemia Rails.

Following a business session conducted by the president, Mrs. Etta Huffman, hymns were sung and Mrs. McGill pleased with two vocal numbers, accompanied by Mrs. Mary Huffman of Whittier, a guest. Open discussion followed the Bible lesson, presented by Mrs. Leland Hall, and members then indulged in the game of Japanese baseball. A pot luck luncheon was enjoyed at noon. The club will meet May 19 with Mrs. Leland Hall, 317 West Eighth street.

In attendance Friday were Mesdames Etta Huffman, Sophia Lusk, Martha Stone, Dosia Kearns, Mercy Van Buren, Geneva Erickson, Rosalia Smith, Blanche Campbell, A. E. Barnett, Ray DeGroote, Charles Grove, Ada Miller, Annie Laurie, Mary Elliott, Leland Hall, Gladys McDonald, Edna McCollum, Lillian Wakeman, Florence Merriman, Freda Porter, Theo Erickson, Frances Allen and Margaret Smith, and several guests, Mrs. Mary Huffman and Miss Ruth Roberts of Whittier; Jackie Deck, Orange, and Lola Van Buren of this city.

United Presbyterian

In keeping with the program topic, "The Christian Home," Cameron Townsend gave an interesting talk Thursday afternoon following a luncheon meeting of the United Presbyterian Women's Missionary society, held in the church.

Mrs. E. C. Lukens, who gave devotionals, introduced Mr. Townsend. Mrs. M. M. Tidball was program chairman. Miss Minnie Cowan spoke on "Things Necessary for the Christian Home," after which Mrs. Anna Shields read a paper on "The Christian Home for Children."

Mrs. W. R. McBurney, president, spoke on "The Christian Home in the Church." Mrs. Tidball closed the program with "A General Survey of the Christian Home."

Reports of the Women's Presbyterial held recently in Los Angeles were given by Mrs. C. Renders and Mrs. C. E. Harris.

Women met in the morning for sewing. Hostesses for the luncheon served were Mrs. S. H. Finley, Mrs. Mary Adamson, Mrs. A. N. Cox, Mrs. C. Renders and Mrs. Opal Lumley.

First Presbyterian

Describing Hawaii as a land of work and worship, Mrs. S. A. Jones gave an interesting travel talk the past week at an afternoon session of the Northwest section of the First Presbyterian Ladies' Aid, held in the home of Mrs. Alex Brownridge, 1414 North Main street. Mrs. Jones displayed many curios and pictures of the islands.

Mrs. Emma Prettyman, assistant leader, assumed charge of the session in the absence of Mrs. J. W. Hancock, who has been ill.

Annonucement was made that plans are under way for a lawn party to be given on the grounds of Mrs. S. A. Jones' home, 2327 Benton way, the date of the affair to be made known later.

June 1 was announced as the date for a garden party to be given at the home of Mrs. J. R. Moore, 424 West Second street. Members of the Northeast and Northwest sections, winners in a membership contest concluded at a recent general Aid Society meeting, are to be guests.

Mrs. J. C. Kirby was chairman of the social committee for the day. Srs introduced Mrs. Jones and presided over the refreshment hour, when punch and wafers were served. Mrs. H. N. Brothers, Mrs. C. W. Druitt, Mrs. Alex Rez, Mrs. Nannie Judd, Mrs. Elma Leonard and Mrs. G. Grant assisted at this time.

Newlyweds Will Make Home In This City

Returning Monday to this city, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Oehlke had enjoyed a short honeymoon stay at Lake Arrowhead, where they went after the ceremony uniting them in marriage on Saturday morning, May 6.

Mrs. Oehlke was Miss Jennie Sackman of 613 West Eighth street, Santa Ana, the daughter of Mrs. J. S. Sackman of Riverside. Mr. Oehlke is the son of Mrs. Julia Oehlke, 406 West La Veta street, Orange. Their wedding was a quiet but charming ceremony held in St. Bernadine's church, San Bernardino, with the Rev. Father O'Connor officiating. The bride was quite charming in her gown of soft blue silk crepe, with which she wore camellias in delicate shell-pink.

Immediately after the nuptial rites, the new Mr. and Mrs. Oehlke were complimented at a wedding breakfast in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. R. B. Cole, 1151 Bellevue avenue, San Bernardino. Decorations were in Cecil Brunner roses, the dainty buds forming the floral centerpiece of the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Oehlke will make their home at 613 West Eighth street, and the former will continue ranching operations on his orange grove property near Orange.

Private Duty Nurses Entertain At Tea

Commemorating the birthday anniversary of Florence Nightingale, members of District 16, Private Duty section, State Nurses' association held an unusually pleasant tea late last week at the nurses' registry, 117 West Tenth street. The Misses Ruth Barnes and Anne Keaney were hostesses.

Increasing the interest in the meeting as a social affair was an animated discussion led along progressive lines in nursing developments by Miss Leona Wunderlich. One of the important points brought out was the new system of eight-hour duty for private nurses, which gives the hospital patient the service of three nurses in 24 hours for the same price that now commands two.

Present for the enjoyable afternoon were Mesdames Vida Snell, Hazel Flaherty, Edna Woods, Eva Roelands, Elizabeth Eisenbraum, Mabel Bement, Ellen Smith, Maud Miller, Jean Grandy and Olive King; the Misses Edith Leonard, Leona Wunderlich, Emma Steeve, Edna Hurlock, Mary Helen Anderson, Mary M. Gall, Lydia Nelmyer, Carrie Morse, Ruth Barnes, Anne Keaney, Sevilla S. Denninger, Anna Allen, Mabel Reid and Ann Stolpe.

Calumpit Auxiliary

Mrs. Laura Keyes, past department officer and past president of Long Beach, was welcomed as a special guest at the recent meeting of Calumpit Auxiliary, U. S. W. V., held in temporary headquarters at 615 East Washington avenue.

Mother's day was observed by readings given by the officers, and Manila day by a ceremony led by the historian, Mrs. Jean Tantlinger.

Plans were made for entertaining the national president, Anna C. Jasimer on Tuesday, May 16. Calumpit camp and auxiliary accepted an invitation from Fullerton camp to attend a covered dish dinner on Friday evening, May 12.

It was reported that a nice sum was realized from the cooked food sale held recently. Proceeds are to be used to defray drill team expenses in attending the convention at Stockton May 21.

Mrs. A. Randall reported that a flag standard has been taken to the National Military home and placed in the sun parlor which the local organization furnished.

Mrs. Charles Waffle is to entertain Calumpit Sewing Circle Wednesday, at 2424 Valencia street at 2 o'clock. The camp and auxiliary will attend memorial services at the United Brethren church on Sunday, May 28, it was decided.

Mrs. H. W. Helmer, telephone 5524, was named chairman of the committee for the covered dish dinner May 23.

Royal Neighbors

Mothers Are Feted

Announcement of a district convention of the Royal Neighbors to be held in Los Angeles May 25 was made Monday night at a meeting which the Santa Ana lodge dedicated to mothers of members. A second event planned is an open air initiation at Irvine park May 28 for all camps of the district supervised by Deputy Lenora Fletcher of Long Beach.

As the eldest mother present, Mrs. Kate Hendricks was presented with a basket of red roses at the close of a program which included a reading by Mrs. Lenora Farmer; songs by the Santa Ana high school octet, directed by Miss Esther Schwaiger, and piano duets by Mrs. Claude Adams and her daughter, Miss Arthena Adams, of Irvine.

The evening's gift was presented to Grover Bacon.

Two ceremonies performed earlier were the initiation of Mrs. Gladys Harmon and Miss Evelyn Johnston and the draping of the charter for the late Mrs. Luella Stewart.

Bidden to a dining room where tables were gay with May baskets, flowers and fernery, members and guests enjoyed a half hour given over to the serving of refreshments by a committee composed of Mesdames Noma Manderscheid, Margie Boyd and Betty Crawford.

Legion Auxiliary Dance Proceeds Will Aid Drill Team

The success of the dance presented Saturday night by the American Legion auxiliary drill team of this city was particularly gratifying to the members who will benefit directly from the entertainment. Proceeds will go toward new uniforms for the team personnel, it was pointed out today by Mrs. George H. Sullivan, general dance chairman. More than 200 dancers assembled in Ebell clubhouse for the affair.

Great baskets of vari-colored flowers were prominently placed about the ballroom and lent further color to a room brightened by the gowns of the feminine members of the ensemble.

Dancing progressed to the music of the five orchestral pieces composing McCall's Entertainers, with respite being afforded dancers at the punch bowl, over which various committee members presided by turns.

In another room card players pursued their enthusiasm, with the winner, Mrs. Elliott, receiving a prize from Mrs. A. J. Anderson, supervising this entertainment.

Legion auxiliary members and guests showered praise alike upon Mrs. Sullivan, general head; Mrs. Russell Hardcastle and Mrs. L. A. Post, decoration chairman, and Mrs. A. J. Anderson.

Student Recital

Miss Marchant

The H. R. Martin home, 1631 West Washington avenue, gay with spring flowers, was the scene of a Maytime play and program given Friday night by pupils of Miss Mildred Marchant.

The play brought out points of interest regarding the origin of Mayday celebrations in England and other countries. Besides piano, vocal and whistling solos, there was a whistling trio, a quartet of seven year old children and several selections by a chorus of the older pupils. Chorus numbers were: "Now is the Month of Maying," "When Spring With Magic Finger", "Come Follow Me, to the Greenwood Tree", "Lavenders Blue" and "Dawn of Maytime."

To climax the program, a May Queen was chosen. To Miss Barbara Jones of Compton, a former piano and voice student of Miss Marchant, was accorded this honor, and she was presented a flowery crown of sweet peas.

Mrs. Martin, assisted by her daughter, Bonnie Jean Wardman, and Mrs. Elva Russell, served rolled sandwiches, wafers and fruit punch to the 30 guests and pupils present.

Children taking part on the program were Elizabeth Campbell, Rebecca Archer, Paula Purvis, Lenora Marchant, Bonnie Jean Wardman, Donald Wardman, Roberta Nichols, Beverley Russell, Fern Francis, Vorleen Robertson, Billy Robertson, Ralph Winkler, Jimmie Alexander, Martha Jean Young, Lillian Tubbs, Donald Marchant, and the Misses Eloise Bradley, Lucille Crawford, and Ina Allen.

Homesteaders Lodge

Meeting recently in their new headquarters in Hoffman's hall, members of Santa Ana Lodge of the Homesteaders celebrated the birthday anniversary of Mrs. P. A. Trickey, wife of the district deputy of the order. Both Mr. and Mrs. Trickey have been active in promoting the welfare of the organization for a number of years.

Mrs. Trickey was presented with a beautiful set of glassware on behalf of the assembled group. Oscar Knox, president, made the presentation speech. Mr. Trickey served refreshments in observance of the event.

James Ryan had planned a program dedicated to Mrs. Trickey and to Mrs. Clayton, also a birthday celebrant. Genevieve Vardy played a violin solo; Betty Courtney gave songs and dances; Dooly Whitten sang, Velma Stroud sang and danced, Mamie Matthews gave readings, and a quartet composed of Maynard Zerlaut, Lee Ross, Tom Berneir and Richard Sterling, sang several numbers. Dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

The next meeting is to be held Friday evening, when Mr. Ryan will present a mystery program, it was announced.

White Shrine

A pleasant feature of a successful benefit card party given Saturday evening in Masonic temple lounge under the auspices of Damascus White Shrine, was the receipt of a telegram from the worthy high priestess, Mrs. Della Maude Ryan, who is attending supreme shrine in Grand Rapids, Mich.

A large group of members and friends took part in the occasion. Bridge prizes were won by Mrs. Maggie May Reed and Elon Roehm, high; Mrs. F. D. Hawkinson and W. W. Hyde, second high; Mrs. Nellie Young and Charles Ryan, low.

Refreshments of strawberry pie and coffee were served in the dining room, where doilies and spring flowers decked the tables.

The committee in charge included Mrs. Shaw, publicity; Mrs. Pearl Hyde, tickets; Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis, cards; Mrs. Eva McConnell, Mrs. Effie Nicholson, Mrs. Sue Henry, Mrs. Florence Wright and Mrs. Vada Berry, refreshments; Mrs. Winnie Dean and Mrs. Clara Seber, tables.

College Y. W. Elects New Officers

In addition to electing new officers, an Asilomar program was given at this week's meeting of the jaysee Y. W. C. A. in the Y hut. A song service was held following the usual covered dish supper and impressive devotions led by Miss Dorothy Ensign.

Miss Jean Rockwell was re-elected president; Miss Dorothy Ensign, vice president; Miss Evelyn Richardson, secretary, and Miss Beatrice Rankin, treasurer. These officers will appoint a cabinet Tuesday afternoon.

Introducing the program Miss Mary Nalle sang an Asilomar song accompanied by Miss Jeanette Lutes. Miss Marian Parsons told of her experiences at Asilomar as did Miss Evelyn Fairley and Miss Catherine Chapman.

Choral Club Program Promises Variety

Planning a varied program whose details will portray Indian and Gypsy life; scenes on southern plantations, and a spring scene, members of the First M. E. Dorcas Choral club anticipate a warm response on Friday night, from an audience gathered in the auditorium of the First Methodist church where the entertainment will be presented under the direction of Mrs. Harry N. Hayes with Mrs. John Clarkson as dramatic advisor.

Opening the program at 8 o'clock will be an instrumental trio with pipe organ accompaniment played by Mrs. W. B. Snow. The trio, Lenora Tompkins, piano; George Evans, violin, and Edward Burns, 'cello, will play "Romance" by Mathews, an appropriate introduction to the romantic scenes to follow.

The Indian scene will be the first one developed, as appropriately costumed members of the club dramatize different Indian melodies, "Pale Moon," (Logan); "By the Waters of Minnetonka" (Lieurance) and "Indian Dawn" by Zamecnik.

"Plantation Scene" will give equal opportunity for solo, duet, quartet and chorus numbers in "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny," (Bland); "De Sandman" by Prothore; "Negro Lullaby;" "Sunny South" a medley, and "Kentucky Babe" by Geibel. In the Gypsy scene, the gaily attired singers will present an operatic number, "Home to Our Mountains" from "Il Trovatore;" the "Gypsy Chorus" from "The Bohemian Girl;" Herbert's "Gypsy Love Song;" "Nightfall in Granada" and "Who'll Buy My Violets."

"May Morning" by Denza; "Old Fashioned Garden;" "O That We Two Were Maying;" "False Prophet" and "Greeting to Spring" by Strauss will interpret musically the "Spring Scene" with which the program will close.

Many of the songs will be accompanied by the instrumental trio although Miss Carrie Seaton is accompanist for the group. Vocal numbers throughout the program will be interspersed with violin and 'cello solos.

Church Societies

Willing Workers Convene

Mrs. C. A. McGill played hostess to Willing Workers class members at an enjoyable all-day gathering Friday in her home at 275 North Tustin avenue, Orange. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. Grace Deck and Mrs. Euphemia Rails.

Following a business session conducted by the president, Mrs. Etta Huffman, hymns were sung and Mrs. McGill pleased with two vocal numbers, accompanied by Mrs. Mary Huffman of Whittier, a guest. Open discussion followed the Bible lesson, presented by Mrs. Leland Hall, and members then indulged in the game of Japanese baseball. A pot luck luncheon was enjoyed at noon. The club will meet May 19 with Mrs. Leland Hall, 317 West Eighth street.

In attendance Friday were Mesdames Etta Huffman, Sophia Lusk, Martha Stone, Dosia Kearns, Mercy Van Buren, Geneva Erickson, Rosalia Smith, Blanche Campbell, A. E. Barnett, Ray DeGroote, Charles Grove, Ada Miller, Annie Laurie, Mary Elliott, Leland Hall, Gladys McDonald, Edna McCollum, Lillian Wakeman, Florence Merriman, Freda Porter, Theo Erickson, Frances Allen and Margaret Smith, and several guests, Mrs. Mary Huffman and Miss Ruth Roberts of Whittier; Jackie Deck, Orange, and Lola Van Buren of this city.

United Presbyterian

In keeping with the program topic, "The Christian Home," Cameron Townsend gave an interesting talk Thursday afternoon following a luncheon meeting of the United Presbyterian Women's Missionary society, held in the church.

Mrs. E. C. Lukens, who gave devotionals, introduced Mr. Townsend. Mrs. M. M. Tidball was program chairman. Miss Minnie Cowan spoke on "Things Necessary for the Christian Home," after which Mrs. Anna Shields read a paper on "The Christian Home for Children."

Mrs. W. R. McBurney, president, spoke on "The Christian Home in the Church." Mrs. Tidball closed the program with "A General Survey of the Christian Home."

Reports of the Women's Presbyterial held recently in Los Angeles were given by Mrs. C. Renders and Mrs. C. E. Harris.

Women met in the morning for sewing. Hostesses for the luncheon served were Mrs. S. H. Finley, Mrs. Mary Adamson, Mrs. A. N. Cox, Mrs. C. Renders and Mrs. Opal Lumley.

First Presbyterian

Describing Hawaii as a land of work and worship, Mrs. S. A. Jones gave an interesting travel talk the past week at an afternoon session of the Northwest section of the First Presbyterian Ladies' Aid, held in the home of Mrs. Alex Brownridge, 1414 North Main street. Mrs. Jones displayed many curios and pictures of the islands.

Mrs. Emma Prettyman, assistant leader, assumed charge of the session in the absence of Mrs. J. W. Hancock, who has been ill.

Announcement was made that plans are under way for a lawn party to be given on the grounds of Mrs. S. A. Jones' home, 2327 Benton way, the date of the affair to be made known later.

June 1 was announced as the date for a garden party to be given at the home of Mrs. J. R. Moore, 424 West Second street. Members of the Northeast and Northwest sections, winners in a membership contest concluded at a recent general Aid Society meeting, are to be guests.

Mrs. J. C. Kirby was chairman of the social committee for the day. Srs introduced Mrs. Jones and presided over the refreshment hour, when punch and wafers were served. Mrs. H. N. Brothers, Mrs. C. W. Druitt, Mrs. Alex Rez, Mrs. Nannie Judd, Mrs. Elma Leonard and Mrs. G. Grant assisted at this time.

Newlyweds Will Make Home In This City

Returning Monday to this city, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Oehlke had enjoyed a short honeymoon stay at Lake Arrowhead, where they went after the ceremony uniting them in marriage on Saturday morning, May 6.

Mrs. Oehlke was Miss Jennie Sackman of 613 West Eighth street, Santa Ana, the daughter of Mrs. J. S. Sackman of Riverside. Mr. Oehlke is the son of Mrs. Julia Oehlke, 406 West La Veta street, Orange. Their wedding was a quiet but charming ceremony held in St. Bernadine's church, San Bernardino, with the Rev. Father O'Connor officiating. The bride was quite charming in her gown of soft blue silk crepe, with which she wore camellias in delicate shell-pink.

Immediately after the nuptial rites, the new Mr. and Mrs. Oehlke were compliimented at a wedding breakfast in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. R. B. Cole, 1151 Bellevue avenue, San Bernardino. Decorations were in Cecil Brunner roses, the dainty buds forming the floral centerpiece of the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Oehlke will make their home at 613 West Eighth street, and the former will continue ranching operations on his orange grove property near Orange.

Private Duty Nurses Entertain At Tea

Commemorating the birthday anniversary of Florence Nightingale, members of District 16, Private Duty section, State Nurses' association held an unusually pleasant tea late last week at the nurses' registry, 117 West Tenth street. The Misses Ruth Barnes and Anne Keaney were hostesses.

Increasing the interest in the meeting as a social affair was an animated discussion led along progressive lines in nursing developments by Miss Leona Wunderlich. One of the important points brought out was the new system of eight-hour duty for private nurses, which gives the hospital patient the service of three nurses in 24 hours for the same price that now commands two.

Present for the enjoyable afternoon were Mesdames Vida Snell, Hazel Flaherty, Edna Woods, Eva Roelands, Elizabeth Eisenbraum, Mabel Bement, Ellen Smith, Maud Miller, Jean Grandy and Olive King; the Misses Edith Leonard, Leona Wunderlich, Emma Steeve, Edna Hurlock, Mary Helen Anderson, Mary M. Gall, Lydia Nelmyer, Carrie Morse, Ruth Barnes, Anne Keaney, Sevilla S. Denninger, Anna Allen, Mabel Reid and Ann Stolpe.

Calumpit Auxiliary

Mrs. Laura Keyes, past department officer and past president of Long Beach, was welcomed as a special guest at the recent meeting of Calumpit Auxiliary, U. S. W. V., held in temporary headquarters at 615 East Washington avenue.

Mother's day was observed by readings given by the officers, and Manila day by a ceremony led by the historian, Mrs. Jean Tantlinger.

Plans were made for entertaining the national president, Anna C. Jasimer on Tuesday, May 16. Calumpit camp and auxiliary accepted an invitation from Fullerton camp to attend a covered dish dinner on Friday evening, May 12.

It was reported that a nice sum was realized from the cooked food sale held recently. Proceeds are to be used to defray drill team expenses in attending the convention at Stockton May 21.

Mrs. A. Randall reported that a flag standard has been taken to the National Military home and placed in the sun parlor which the local organization furnished.

Mrs. Charles Waffle is to entertain Calumpit Sewing Circle Wednesday, at 2424 Valencia street at 2 o'clock. The camp and auxiliary will attend memorial services at the United Brethren church on Sunday, May 28, it was decided.

Mrs. H. W. Helmer, telephone 5524, was named chairman of the committee for the covered dish dinner May 23.

Royal Neighbors

Mothers Are Feted

Announcement of a district convention of the Royal Neighbors to be held in Los Angeles May 25 was made Monday night at a meeting which the Santa Ana lodge dedicated to mothers of members. A second event planned is an open air initiation at Irvine park May 28 for all camps of the district supervised by Deputy Lenora Fletcher of Long Beach.

As the eldest mother present, Mrs. Kate Hendricks was presented with a basket of red roses at the close of a program which included a reading by Mrs. Lenora Farmer; songs by the Santa Ana high school octet, directed by Miss Esther Schwaiger, and piano duets by Mrs. Claude Adams and her daughter, Miss Arthena Adams, of Irvine.

The evening's gift was presented to Grover Bacon.

Two ceremonies performed earlier were the initiation of Mrs. Gladys Harmon and Miss Evelyn Johnston and the draping of the charter for the late Mrs. Luella Stewart.

Bidden to a dining room where tables were gay with May baskets, flowers and fernery, members and guests enjoyed a half hour given over to the serving of refreshments by a committee composed of Mesdames Noma Manderscheid, Margie Boyd and Betty Crawford.

Legion Auxiliary Dance Proceeds Will Aid Drill Team

The success of the dance presented Saturday night by the American Legion auxiliary drill team of this city was particularly gratifying to the members who will benefit directly from the entertainment. Proceeds will go toward new uniforms for the team personnel, it was pointed out today by Mrs. George H. Sullivan, general dance chairman. More than 200 dancers assembled in Ebell clubhouse for the affair.

Great baskets of vari-colored flowers were prominently placed about the ballroom and lent further color to a room brightened by the gowns of the feminine members of the ensemble.

Dancing progressed to the music of the five orchestral pieces composing McCall's Entertainers, with respite being afforded dancers at the punch bowl, over which various committee members presided by turns.

In another room card players pursued their enthusiasm, with the winner, Mrs. Elliott, receiving a prize from Mrs. A. J. Anderson, supervising this entertainment.

Legion auxiliary members and guests showered praise alike upon Mrs. Sullivan, general head; Mrs. Russell Hardcastle and Mrs. L. A. Post, decoration chairman, and Mrs. A. J. Anderson.

Student Recital

Miss Marchant

The H. R. Martin home, 1631 West Washington avenue, gay with spring flowers, was the scene of a Maytime play and program given Friday night by pupils of Miss Mildred Marchant.

The play brought out points of interest regarding the origin of Mayday celebrations in England and other countries. Besides piano, vocal and whistling solos, there was a whistling trio, a quartet of seven year old children and several selections by a chorus of the older pupils. Chorus numbers were: "Now is the Month of Maying," "When Spring With Magic Finger", "Come Follow Me, to the Greenwood Tree", "Lavenders Blue" and "Dawn of Maytime."

To climax the program, a May Queen was chosen. To Miss Barbara Jones of Compton, a former piano and voice student of Miss Marchant, was accorded this honor, and she was presented a flowery crown of sweet peas.

Mrs. Martin, assisted by her daughter, Bonnie Jean Wardman, and Mrs. Elva Russell, served rolled sandwiches, wafers and fruit punch to the 30 guests and pupils present.

Children taking part on the program were Elizabeth Campbell, Rebecca Archer, Paula Purvis, Lenora Marchant, Bonnie Jean Wardman, Donald Wardman, Roberta Nichols, Beverley Russell, Fern Francis, Vorleen Robertson, Billy Robertson, Ralph Winkler, Jimmie Alexander, Martha Jean Young, Lillian Tubbs, Donald Marchant, and the Misses Eloise Bradley, Lucille Crawford, and Ina Allen.

Homesteaders Lodge

Meeting recently in their new headquarters in Hoffman's hall, members of Santa Ana Lodge of the Homesteaders celebrated the birthday anniversary of Mrs. P. A. Trickey, wife of the district deputy of the order. Both Mr. and Mrs. Trickey have been active in promoting the welfare of the organization for a number of years.

Mrs. Trickey was presented with a beautiful set of glassware on behalf of the assembled group. Oscar Knox, president, made the presentation speech. Mr. Trickey served refreshments in observance of the event.

James Ryan had planned a program dedicated to Mrs. Trickey and to Mrs. Clayton, also a birthday celebrant. Genevieve Vardy played a violin solo; Betty Courtney gave songs and dances; Dooly Whitten sang, Velma Stroud sang and danced, Mamie Matthews gave readings, and a quartet composed of Maynard Zerlaut, Lee Ross, Tom Berneir and Richard Sterling, sang several numbers. Dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

The next meeting is to be held Friday evening, when Mr. Ryan will present a mystery program, it was announced.

White Shrine

A pleasant feature of a successful benefit card party given Saturday evening in Masonic temple lounge under the auspices of Damascus White Shrine, was the receipt of a telegram from the worthy high priestess, Mrs. Della Maude Ryan, who is attending supreme shrine in Grand Rapids, Mich.

A large group of members and friends took part in the occasion. Bridge prizes were won by Mrs. Maggie May Reed and Elon Roehm, high; Mrs. F. D. Hawkinson and W. W. Hyde, second high; Mrs. Nellie Young and Charles Ryan, low.

Refreshments of strawberry pie and coffee were served in the dining room, where doilies and spring flowers decked the tables.

The committee in charge included Mrs. Shaw, publicity; Mrs. Pearl Hyde, tickets; Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis, cards; Mrs. Eva McConnell, Mrs. Effie Nicholson, Mrs. Sue Henry, Mrs. Florence Wright and Mrs. Vada Berry, refreshments; Mrs. Winnie Dean and Mrs. Clara Seber, tables.

College Y. W. Elects New Officers

In addition to electing new officers, an Asilomar program was given at this week's meeting of the jaysee Y. W. C. A. in the Y hut. A song service was held following the usual covered dish supper and impressive devotions led by Miss Dorothy Ensign.

Miss Jean Rockwell was re-elected president; Miss Dorothy Ensign, vice president; Miss Evelyn Richardson, secretary, and Miss Beatrice Rankin, treasurer. These officers will appoint a cabinet Tuesday afternoon.

Introducing the program Miss Mary Nalle sang an Asilomar song accompanied by Miss Jeanette Lutes. Miss Marian Parsons told of her experiences at Asilomar as did Miss Evelyn Fairley and Miss Catherine Chapman.

Choral Club Program Promises Variety

Planning a varied program whose details will portray Indian and Gypsy life; scenes on southern plantations, and a spring scene, members of the First M. E. Dorcas Choral club anticipate a warm response on Friday night, from an audience gathered in the auditorium of the First Methodist church where the entertainment will be presented under the direction of Mrs. Harry N. Hayes with Mrs. John Clarkson as dramatic advisor.

Opening the program at 8 o'clock will be an instrumental trio with pipe organ accompaniment played by Mrs. W. B. Snow. The trio, Lenora Tompkins, piano; George Evans, violin, and Edward Burns, 'cello, will play "Romance" by Mathews, an appropriate introduction to the romantic scenes to follow.

The Indian scene will be the first one developed, as appropriately costumed members of the club dramatize different Indian melodies, "Pale Moon," (Logan); "By the Waters of Minnetonka" (Lieurance) and "Indian Dawn" by Zamecnik.

"Plantation Scene" will give equal opportunity for solo, duet, quartet and chorus numbers in "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny," (Bland); "De Sandman" by Prothore; "Negro Lullaby;" "Sunny South" a medley, and "Kentucky Babe" by Geibel. In the Gypsy scene, the gaily attired singers will present an operatic number, "Home to Our Mountains" from "Il Trovatore;" the "Gypsy Chorus" from "The Bohemian Girl;" Herbert's "Gypsy Love Song;" "Nightfall in Granada" and "Who'll Buy My Violets."

"May Morning" by Denza; "Old Fashioned Garden;" "O That We Two Were Maying;" "False Prophet" and "Greeting to Spring" by Strauss will interpret musically the "Spring Scene" with which the program will close.

Many of the songs will be accompanied by the instrumental trio although Miss Carrie Seaton is accompanist for the group. Vocal numbers throughout the program will be interspersed with violin and 'cello solos.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

One of the little girls said, "Gee! You're just as kind as you can be. Of course we're scared of the old witch. We want to get away.

"She's told us she will make us work and spank us, if we try to shirk. If we do just as she says, we will have no time for play."

"That's something we already knew," said Scouty. "When she talked to you, I peeked right through the window and heard everything she said.

"That's why we came to set you free. The others will agree with me. We're wasting time, just talking. Come, let's run away, instead."

* * *

The bunch then heard wee Coppy say, "The witch is coming back this way. We must not lose a minute, or our plan will not succeed.

"So far the whole thing's worked out slick. Jump through the window, and be quick! I'll bet the witch will chase us. What we need is lots of speed!"

Two jumps, and both the girls were out. They were quite scared, without a doubt. "Where shall we head for?" Coppy asked, as they began to run.

"Right o'er the hill," one girl replied. "We know where we can get a ride. We'll pay you for your kindness, and 'twill be a lot of fun."

* * *

Just then they all were filled with fear. They heard the witch cry, "Come back here!" "She's after us," said Windy. "Oh, whatever can we do?"

One of the girls replied, "Don't fret! We'll fool that mean old woman yet. If you will look ahead you'll see a great, big wooden shoe.

"It is a flying shoe, you see, and it's as strong as it can be. 'Twill carry every one of us. We'll soon be safe and sound.

"Run faster, boys. We must get there, so we can sail up in the air. Unless the old witch catches us, we'll leave her on the ground."

Annual Banquet Held By High School Honor Group

FOUR STUDENTS GET LIFE PINS IN FEDERATION

ORANGE, May 10.—Four students of the Orange Union High school were presented with life membership pins in the California Scholastic federation at a banquet held at the American Legion clubhouse last night. The presentation was made by Miss Ethel V. Walker, dean of girls at the high school and the students so honored were Ursula Boehner, Esther Eckhoff, Eleanor Bowyer and Phillip Intorf. Ninety-six students are members.

Miss Marion Linnert, president of the Orange chapter of the federation, presided. George Stoner and Miss Nita Walton, faculty advisors, supervised arrangements for the affair. Miss Linnert arranged the program, Miss Evelyn Kogler the decorations, Miss Nancy Thompson was in charge of the menu and the place cards and seating arrangements were made under the supervision of Miss Dorothy Amling. Place cards were decorated with replicas of the National Honor society pins.

W. H. Lowry extended the address of welcome from the faculty and gave a history of the first college honor society.

Leo and Lloyd Robbins opened the musical program with a violin duet, Miss Dorothy Bernt sang "I Know a Lovely Garden" and "Answer," with Miss Alice Compton as her accompanist. Miss Compton also accompanied Nelson Kogler, who sang "Gypsy Love Song," by Victor Herbert. Louise Goble gave an amusing reading, with Miss Galene Goble as her accompanist.

Members of the school board and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Bortz, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Knuth, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Watson and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Crawford were guests of honor. Mixed spring flowers centered the tables and pastel-tinted candles were set in attractive gilded holders.

The speaker of the evening was the Rev. Harry Evan Owings, pastor of the Santa Ana Baptist church, who urged students to develop well rounded lives, to use their ability to help others and to make present honors a spur to higher attainments.

"Scholorship is splendid but character is supreme and scholarship divorced from character spells ruin and a combination of the two is life indede," said the speaker.

CARD PARTY HELD BY ALTAR SOCIETY

ORANGE, May 10.—Entertaining with the third of a series of four benefit card parties, members of the Altar society of the Holy Family church were hosts to a large group of guests Monday evening in the Guild hall on East Chapman avenue.

PROGRAM HELD BY MEMBERS OF ORANGE UNION

ORANGE, May 10. — Pertinent topics in variety were discussed by Mrs. Pearl Kendall Hess at yesterday afternoon's meeting of Orange W. C. T. U. held in First Presbyterian church.

Roll call talks covered a wide field, members responding with items of interest. It was brought out that many restaurant men throughout the United States report a decrease in food sales since the legalization of beer. Other articles urgeds precinct organization as a neffective means of getting the drys to the poles.

Mrs. F. B. Scharr, who led in group singing, with Mrs. Ida V. Putnam at the piano, gave a vocal solo, "Clean Hearts". In keeping with the day's topic, "Health," were devotionals conducted by Mrs. Flora Ralph.

Buttons bearing pictures of Ella Boole, national W. C. T. U. president, were distributed to those who had secured new members of the union in a membership contest.

Mrs. Hess' talk included a report of her recent trip to Spadra, where she visited the state narcotic hospital to interview Dr. Joyce, staff head. She stated that 90 per cent of the inmates have been sent there for cure by request of the law. Scientific treatment executed at the hospital has cured innumerable dope addicts in such a manner that not one death has resulted from the patient's unsatisfied craving for narcotics, she brought out.

Mrs. Minnie Neville, president, was in charge of the meeting, during which it was announced that W. C. T. U. prayer bands are held each Wednesday morning at 9:30 in the home of Mrs. W. H. Patrick, 135 South Cypress street.

SCHOOL BOY HELD

PROGRAM HELD BY MEMBERS OF ORANGE UNION

ORANGE, May 10. — Pertinent topics in variety were discussed by Mrs. Pearl Kendall Hess at yesterday afternoon's meeting of Orange W. C. T. U. held in First Presbyterian church.

Roll call talks covered a wide field, members responding with items of interest. It was brought out that many restaurant men throughout the United States report a decrease in food sales since the legalization of beer. Other articles urgeds precinct organization as a neffective means of getting the drys to the poles.

Mrs. F. B. Scharr, who led in group singing, with Mrs. Ida V. Putnam at the piano, gave a vocal solo, "Clean Hearts". In keeping with the day's topic, "Health," were devotionals conducted by Mrs. Flora Ralph.

Buttons bearing pictures of Ella Boole, national W. C. T. U. president, were distributed to those who had secured new members of the union in a membership contest.

Mrs. Hess' talk included a report of her recent trip to Spadra, where she visited the state narcotic hospital to interview Dr. Joyce, staff head. She stated that 90 per cent of the inmates have been sent there for cure by request of the law. Scientific treatment executed at the hospital has cured innumerable dope addicts in such a manner that not one death has resulted from the patient's unsatisfied craving for narcotics, she brought out.

Mrs. Minnie Neville, president, was in charge of the meeting, during which it was announced that W. C. T. U. prayer bands are held each Wednesday morning at 9:30 in the home of Mrs. W. H. Patrick, 135 South Cypress street.

RECIPE FOR MOTHER'S DAY

Take 1 ounce of thought
2 ounces of consideration
3 ounces of unselfishness.
4 ounces of love.

Mix these ingredients and serve to Mother on Mother's Day and as many other days as humanly possible.

—B-A—

BAND BOX GIFT SHOP, 116½ E. Fourth. MOTHER'S Day can be made memorable and happy by a timely visit to the "Band Box" by those who love her best. There are beautiful framed mottoes, $1.00 ea.; cards with appropriate messages 5, 10 and 15 cents, and a multitude of other small, and large, gifts.

—B-A—

TURNEY'S FLIKIL. Buy it at Grocery, Drug, Hardware stores, etc. MOTHER'S Day, and days to come may be made pleasant for mother, and free of worry about insects such as flies, ants, moths, mosquitoes, fleas, mites, etc., by the simple, effective method of Turney's famous FLIKIL, the super-powered insecticide that "Kills 'em Dead" once and for all time. There is no revival of insects that contact FLIKIL in a closed room. A quart can will slaughter a million of these pests. There is no substitute. Be not deceived by the similarly sounding trade names.

—B-A—

SWAP

ORANGE COUNTY CO-OPERATIVE EXCHANGE, 427 N. Sycamore. MOTHER'S DAY finds the "Exchange" moved into new, nicer and more spacious quarters in the center of the shopping district. Mother would get a real thrill out of a set of these old fashioned goblets now on hand at the "Exchange". Other interesting antiques such as very old books, glassware, china, etc. One of the nicest things you can do for Mother is to introduce her to the "Exchange" Service.

—B-A—

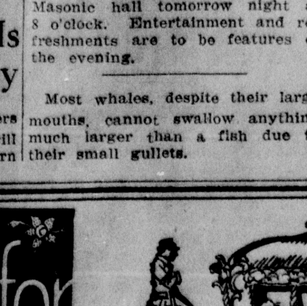

LAMBROS SHINING PARLOR, Opp. KRESS STORE, 108 E. Fourth. MOTHER'S Day suggests that perhaps Mother has a favorite ensemble to which the shoes, gloves, hand bag, etc., have become too soiled for further use. LAMBROS can remedy this inconvenience very quickly and satisfactorily with his specialized system of cleaning and spraying on the dye, so that there is no smear, and no future fear of staining delicate hosiery. Lambros has more than 100 shades from which to blend a perfect match for any costume. Lambros is a quiet, comfortable place to take Mother for a shoeshine by experts.

—B-A—

MARSHALL DRAPERY CO. Santora Bldg., Broadway at 2nd. RICHARD A. BRADFORD, owner of the Santa Ana Dr. Reed shoe store, will gladly give foot treatments to those in need of such adjustments, scientifically fitting every customer with the right shoe to insure health, happiness and usefulness. Walking becomes real pleasure when Dr. Reed shoes are worn.

—B-A—

UNCLE TOM'S PONY RIDE, Cor. So. Main and Dyer Road. MOTHER may not ride the ponies but she'll enjoy a trip out to see those little Shetland beauties, Firefly, Babe, Black Prince, et al. Your joy is her joy, so you ride—7 times for 50 cents, once for a dime; one cart ride a nickel.

—B-A—

TIERNAN TYPEWRITER CO., 401 E. Fourth. MOTHER'S Day is but four days away—If you want to do something handsome for HER on that big day; something that will pay for itself in a year's time in economy of time and effort and add pen money as well, buy Mother a SMITH-CORONA portable. You may pay for it in $7.00 a month installments. Sterling Model performs all typing requirements and will give pleasure and profit indefinitely.

—B-A—

SOL GONZALES DEPARTMENT STORE, 306 E. Fourth. MOTHER'S wish may be easily gratified in this resplendent new department store — Being Mother, she'll very likely get more fun out of a piece of money given her in advance of Her Day, and a trip downtown where she can spend it on some one else—SOL GONZALES offers her a wide range of selection for any member of the family, or for herself.

—B-A—

GREEN GABLES, 2115 N. Main. MOTHER appreciates fine, sheer hosiery 'same as you and I'—"Your Fashion Shop" keeps abreast of the ever changing styles in women's fine hosiery. Although the trend just now is to lighter tones, naturally, yet we note that Chukker, a new dark tone, spurts into the lead, with taupe mist and smoketone, emphasizing the popularity of the darker shades as well. It is wise to drop in at GREEN GABLES at least once a week, to make sure of not "missing anything."

—B-A—

QUALITY GROCERIES AT LOW PRICES

NATIONAL AIR RACE PROGRAM KREG FEATURE

On behalf of the national air races scheduled for Los Angeles during the first four days of July, an interesting program of musical favorites will be presented over KREG at 8 o'clock this evening. This will be the first of a series of programs calling attention to the project, according to arrangements made by J. Howard Johnson and Roy Kellogg of Los Angeles, radio directors for the races.

One of the most thrilling events of 1933 is anticipated when the national air races get under way July 1. Southern California will witness the greatest and most spectacular events in aviation history, if the ambitious plans for the four-day event are a criterion.

Thousands of visitors from all over the country are expected to be attracted to Los Angeles. Flyers from all parts of the globe will participate and many new speed records are expected to be established. Tonight's program will present a number of interesting facts with regard to the scheduled event. Further broadcasts in behalf of the national air races will be made from time to time from the local station.

"HILLS, VALLEYS" PROGRAM OF SONGS

Another and different program entitled "Song of the Hills and Valleys" will be heard tonight at 6:15 on KREG, the first of this week's presentations by Bob Murphy's garage in Santa Ana.

The voices of the Carson-Robinson trio, Cal Chester's Mountaineers and Vernon Dalhart will be heard singing "My Pretty Quadroon," "'Neath the Silvery Moon," "Mobile-Alabam" and "The Runaway Train," favorite selections with a countless number of listeners who enjoy this type of music. All of these artists are foremost among radio entertainers and their popularity is an accepted fact.

Bob Murphy's garage offers a feature radio program each Wednesday and Saturday on KREG at 6:15 p. m.

BRICK AND GENE POPULAR ARTISTS

If requests and compliments received over the telephone are any indication. Brick and Gene, ambassadors of song and melody, over KREG are big favorites with radio listeners.

These two boys are staging daily programs at 6 p.m. under sponsorship of the Santa Ana hotel and the Charcoal Broiler. These programs are presented at 6 o'clock every evening except Tuesday when the program starts at 6:15. Popular hits, ballads and piano specialties are featured.

KREG NOTES

Information concerning the forest camps in California will be broadcast tonight at 7:45 o'clock under auspices of the California region U. S. forest service. The program alsowill include information on the fishing season which opened last week and suggestions on where to spend the summer vacation will be given.

Brick English and his Valencia Ballroom orchestra will be on the air tonight at 7 o'clock for 30 minutes with a program of dance music and vocal numbers. The program will also announce another "Battle of Bands" to be waged tomorrow night with Gordon Carper and his New Yorkers as challengers.

FARM CENTER MEETING HELD LAST EVENING

ANAHEIM, May 10.—Explaining that in the past reductions in school expenditures were principally in capital output and that in the future it must be in current expenses, Felton Browning addressed the Farm Center last night and explained a school costs study that has recently been made by the Orange County Farm Bureau.

In turn he was answered by M. A. Gauer, superintendent of the elementary schools, and J. A. Clayes, principal of the Anaheim Union high school, each explaining the costs of the past few years and the estimated expenditures for 1933-34. The meeting was held at the high school and presided over by Alfred Bonney, president.

In 1931-32 there was a reduction of 89 per cent in capital expenditures and only 9 per cent in current expenses, Mr. Browning pointed out. The assessed valuation dropped 15 per cent (an estimate) last year and entering into this is a tax delinquency of 10 per cent that might increase 25 per cent next year.

The cost charts showed that San Juan Capistrano, Brea Olinda and Tustin were in the high costs group; Huntington Beach, Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton in the medium costs group and Newport Beach, Garden Grove and Santa Ana in the low costs group.

In Anaheim the 1932-33 budget cost per average daily attendance was $218, with the average daily assessed valuation $23.82 and the average daily attendance total cost $236. The average teachers salary was $138 with 17.2 teachers in daily attendance.

Curtailment for next year in the Anaheim high school district will include $1000 in transportation, $1000 in equipment, $2500 in department expense, $1000 in cost of books, $4000 in plant operation, $2900 in maintenance and $10,000 in capital outlay, J. A. Clayes explained in revealing plans for the budget next year.

This will be approximately a 20 per cent cut, a 5 per cent cut having been made in 1931 and a 15 per cent cut last year. This year the cost per pupil was $236 and next year it will not exceed $218 per pupil. The bond of indebtedness has been reduced $75,000 or .009 of the amount available.

The estimated evaluation for the Anaheim district next year is $16,837,347 or a reduction of 12½ per cent. The capital expenditures will be reduced 50 per cent next year and adult education will be put on a self sustaining basis or done away with. Teachers contracts will not be given until after the budget has been submitted, it was decided.

Advocating that the state support an entire program of education, M. A. Gauer declared that an adequate cost per child should be found and then established over the state and that there should be a single salary schedule, all things being equal. He declared that the Anaheim elementary school budget could not be greatly reduced over last year as Anaheim already has one of the lowest salary schedules in the state with relation of size and wealth of other cities and yet that the schools are efficiently run.

Anaheim Police Notes

ANAHEIM, May 10.—Thrown from his bicycle Alfonso Palomares of Olive was taken to the Anaheim Sanitarium last night with a fractured skull following an accident that occurred at Bush and Broadway streets when he collided with a Ford sedan driven by Albert Toussau of Anaheim.

W. McCarter was sentenced to the county jail for 25 days yesterday by Judge Henry Kuchel who found him guilty of petty theft.

ANAHEIM PERSONALS

ANAHEIM, May 10.—A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ted Payne of Anaheim last night in the Anaheim Sanitarium.

APPLICATIONS FOR BEER SALE PERMITS FILED

ANAHEIM, May 10.—Applications to sell or manufacture 3.2 per cent beer were submitted to the city council last night by 12 persons desiring to retail or wholesale licenses. Following a recess for investigation the licenses were granted.

Those granted class "A" licenses were John E. Schwartz, T. Meri and Maud Meisenheimer; class "B" licenses, W. G. Rumfelt, L. L. Hall, W. A. Williams and Jacob Rosenwein and class "C" licenses, Spencer E. Sully, Martin Del Giorgio, Leslie B. Harrison, C. A. Musch and the General Bottling and Distributing Works.

Besides the sumbitting of monthly reports by heads of departments two resolutions were adopted by the board of trustees, one calling for all weeds and rank growth to be eradicated as a fire preventative measure and the other asking for bids on job printing and legal advertising to be in on or before June 13. The notice will be published in the Anaheim Gazette.

Alva E. Hargrave submitted at $2500 renewal policy on the city.

The monthly reports showed a balance of all city funds to be $158,394.02, the public service department bringing in a total collection of $16,801.31, business license permits, $1584.40, $84.55 in fees for building permits, $14.60 in fees collected by the electrician department, $265 collected as fines in the police court.

The total amount of taxes collected for April were $14,389.56 bringing the amount for the second installment to $82,268.79.

The water level on May 1 was 130 feet and 5 inches. During April the deep well turbine ran a total of 458 hours and 50 minutes and pumped 37,091,500 gallons of water.

Chief of Police James S. Bouldin reported 23 arrests made in April and of this number there were 10 drunk, four for other departments, two drunk driving, two petty thefts, one possession of liquor and four warrants, section 154, C. V. A.

Judge Frank Tausch reported 14 violators paid their fines and were released, two committed to the county jail, four given suspended sentences, four remanded to the juvenile court and one operator's license revoked.

Aid was given to 44 families or 179 individuals, according to Mrs. Mona Price, head of the welfare department at an average of $3.13 per day. There was $94.08 spent on staple groceries and clothing and a total amount of 12,740 pounds of government flour distributed.

THREE INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE WRECK

ANAHEIM, May 10.—In an automobile crash at Five Points intersection early yesterday afternoon three persons were injured who were in the car driving with H. P. Frahm of Pine Knot, Calif. The injured were Mrs. H. P. Frahm, Donald Frahm, age three, and Mrs. H. Smith, all with cuts and bruises.

Frahm's car collided with the Ford coupe driven by William Wish of Route 1, Box 380. According to a report filed with police Wish was traveling on Lincoln avenue and the other car was coming off West street when it was struck in the rear end.

B. & P. W. CLUB TO MEET ON THURSDAY

ANAHEIM, May 10.—J. S. Arnold, faculty member at the Fullerton junior college and member of the social science department, will address the Business and Professional Women's club tomorrow night at 6:30 o'clock in the Marigold cafe. The speaker will talk on "The New Deal in International Affairs."

Mrs. E. Kate McCullah will present the Spinsters in a tap dance. This group includes Marjorie Hasler, Katherine McCullah, Margaret Collins and Jewell Cawthorn.

New officers will preside for the first time when Vincenta Carelton in the chair.

SHEFFER FUNERAL TO BE ON THURSDAY

ANAHEIM, May 10.—Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock for William T. Sheffer of Anaheim who passed away yesterday at his home. The services will be conducted from the chapel of Hilgenfeld funeral parlors with the Rev. Arthur F. Ritchey of the Church of Christ officiating.

Interment will be in the Melrose Abbey mausoleum.

The Parthenon in Athens has a color scheme which includes red, blue and gold.

MAKE ARREST FOR THEFT OF FACTORY FLOOR

James Fite, 33, 2011 South Halliday street, was lodged in the county jail this morning, charged with the investigation of a felony charge, which involved the theft of hardwood flooring valued at $275 and plumbing fixtures.

Fite is charged with removing about 75 by 75 square feet of hardwood flooring from the old gum factory on Evergeen street. The flooring was carefully removed from the factory and loaded in a truck, according to reports at the cheriff's office.

Fite is also charged with stealing plumbing fixtures from three vacant houses on Evergreen street. Officers said he has admitted the theft of the flooring but denies the theft of the plumbing fixtures.

Neighbors are reported to have seen him with a load of lumber on his truck and to have seen him load a wash tub on the truck from one of the vacant houses.

The arrest was made by Deputy Sheriff L. H. Nicholson.

ASSEMBLY MAY MAKE CHANGE IN WATER ACT

Word has been received here that the Orange county water bill is being amended today in the assembly so that any city that is in the district and at some future time would import water through any agency other than the district itself would be released of any future tax on water importation up to the percentage of the total amount of water used which is secured from this outside source.

That is, if the city secured 50 per cent of its future water from this outside agency and the district had a 10 cent tax for importation of water the city would pay only five cents.

It is said that the amendment was made at the request of Newport Beach and is in line with the offer that was made to Metropolitan cities early in the negotiations for the measure.

Need for stabilization of Orange county's water supply was stressed yesterday by LeRoy Lyon, supervisor from the third district. He said that after 20 years in this county he knews the need for stabilization of the supply and recognizes the need for some agency to protect water rights and direct flood control.

He said: "I have been asked many times to express my opinion of the proposed Orange county water district as outlined in Senate bill No. 1201 now before the state assembly. I have not had the time to make a close study of the measure since it has not been before the board of supervisors. Because I have not studied the bill thoroughly I do not feel that I am in a position to say directly as to whether or not it will accomplish the purpose for which it is intended.

"However, anyone who has lived in Orange county for the past 20 years, as I have, knows the need for stabilizing our water supply and I recognize the necessity for some agency through which we can protect water rights, and import water, as well as control floods.

"The people who are supporting the water district will have been working on the whole problem for many years, and the fact that they have brought together so many interests that formerly were fighting each other, indicates that we can and will get together in a constructive solution of our water problems in the Santa Ana basin in Orange county."

PLUMBING FIXTURES TAKEN FROM HOMES

Sheriff's officers today were investigating the activities of new type of burglar who has, apparently, a "yen" for bathroom and other plumbing fixtures.

According to a report filed at the sheriff's office by J. H. Farrell, real estate broker, three empty houses on Evergreen street have been burglarized, and in each case plumbing fixtures were stolen.

A complete toilet, wash tub faucets, witchen and outside faucets were taken from 2038 Evergreen street; outside faucets and kitchen faucets from 2036 Evergreen, and kitchen faucets, a wash tub and fixtures from 2050 Evergreen street.

KOLBERG FUNERAL IS SET FOR THURSDAY

Funeral services for Otto Kolberg, 48, well known Santa Ana automobile man, who committed suicide Monday night by inhaling gas, as he lay in the bathtub at his home at 307 West Chestnut street, will be held at 3 p. m. Thursday from the Harrell and Brown funeral parlors, it was announced today.

Interment will be made in Fairhaven cemetery.

Coroner Earl Abbey, who made an investigation of the death announced today there would be no inquest, in view of the fact that Kolberg left a suicide note, in which he stated that he was tired of living.

BOYS ARRESTED FOR SERIES OF THEFTS

A number of burglaries in Silverado canyon which have been perplexing officers for several months, were cleared up today with the arrest of four "baby bandits."

All four of the boys were around 12 and 13 years of age. They have been turned over to juvenile authorities.

Burglaries in Silverado canyon during the past several months included the theft of various articles from cabins, garages, a store and a schoolhouse. Fruit, candy, cigarettes, a little money, tools and other articles were taken.

The thefts were cleared up through the efforts of Deputy Sheriffs E. E. Perry, Art Eells and Herman Zabel.

Safety Officer Shows Pictures To 20-30 Club

George Peterkin, California Highway patrol officer, in charge of safety to school children in the county, was the principal speaker before the regular meeting of the Santa Ana 20-30 club, held yesterday.

Showing several reels of motion pictures, Peterkin's talk was instructive as well as interesting, showing the chief causes of accidents in school zones, which included running out into the street, leaving and boarding school busses and careless bicycle riding.

The meeting yesterday was in charge of Glenn Rathbun. One new member, Heber Fowler, was initiated into the club and Harry Wilde was appointed scoutmaster for the troop which is to be sponsored by the club.

Ferris Scott, scoutmaster for the Sea Scouts troop told plans for the Orange County Sea Scout Ragatta to be held May 27. Birthday talks were made by Paul Dale and Hume West.

NATIONAL AIR RACE PROGRAM KREG FEATURE

On behalf of the national air races scheduled for Los Angeles during the first four days of July, an interesting program of musical favorites will be presented over KREG at 8 o'clock this evening. This will be the first of a series of programs calling attention to the project, according to arrangements made by J. Howard Johnson and Roy Kellogg of Los Angeles, radio directors for the races.

One of the most thrilling events of 1933 is anticipated when the national air races get under way July 1. Southern California will witness the greatest and most spectacular events in aviation history, if the ambitious plans for the four-day event are a criterion.

Thousands of visitors from all over the country are expected to be attracted to Los Angeles. Flyers from all parts of the globe will participate and many new speed records are expected to be established. Tonight's program will present a number of interesting facts with regard to the scheduled event. Further broadcasts in behalf of the national air races will be made from time to time from the local station.

"HILLS, VALLEYS" PROGRAM OF SONGS

Another and different program entitled "Song of the Hills and Valleys" will be heard tonight at 6:15 on KREG, the first of this week's presentations by Bob Murphy's garage in Santa Ana.

The voices of the Carson-Robinson trio, Cal Chester's Mountaineers and Vernon Dalhart will be heard singing "My Pretty Quadroon," "'Neath the Silvery Moon," "Mobile-Alabam" and "The Runaway Train," favorite selections with a countless number of listeners who enjoy this type of music. All of these artists are foremost among radio entertainers and their popularity is an accepted fact.

Bob Murphy's garage offers a feature radio program each Wednesday and Saturday on KREG at 6:15 p. m.

BRICK AND GENE POPULAR ARTISTS

If requests and compliments received over the telephone are any indication. Brick and Gene, ambassadors of song and melody, over KREG are big favorites with radio listeners.

These two boys are staging daily programs at 6 p. m. under sponsorship of the Santa Ana hotel and the Charcoal Broiler. These programs are presented at 6 o'clock every evening except Tuesday when the program starts at 6:15. Popular hits, ballads and piano specialties are featured.

KREG NOTES

Information concerning the forest camps in California will be broadcast tonight at 7:45 o'clock under auspices of the California region U. S. forest service. The program alsowill include information on the fishing season which opened last week and suggestions on where to spend the summer vacation will be given.

Brick English and his Valencia Ballroom orchestra will be on the air tonight at 7 o'clock for 30 minutes with a program of dance music and vocal numbers. The program will also announce another "Battle of Bands" to be waged tomorrow night with Gordon Carper and his New Yorkers as challengers.

"Chimes of Normandy," Planquette's romantic comedy operetta, will be concluded by Channon Collinge and the cast of Light Opera Gems during the broadcast over the Columbia network including KHJ from 6:45 to 7:15 o'clock tonight. The first act of the operetta was presented in the previous broadcast, and the second and third acts will be performed tonight.

* * *

Greeting listeners with his "Song of Happiness," Eddie Peabody offers a half-hour program of popular melodies, including several requested numbers, over an NBC network including KFI at 7:30 tonight. One of the favorites in Peabody's repertoire of violin solos, "Listen to the Mocking Bird," will be heard again. The best-known composition by Nevin, "The Rosary," will be a guitar solo. Peabody will make a brief excursion into the realm of semi-classical music as he plays Von Suppe's descriptive "Poet and Peasant Overture." "Indian Love Call" from Friml's "Rose Marie," a banjoline number, and the old but still popular "St. Louis Blues," a banjo offering, are other programmed selections.

* * *

Famous paintings in the art galleries of the world will be described in tone and verbal pictures by Emil Polak and his orchestra over NBC station KPO from 10 to 10:30 tonight. "The Swing," by Fragonard, a Frenchman, and "The Fiddler," by Vonostrade, both of which are on exhibition in the Metropolitan Museum in New York, are to have the spotlight focused on them during the broadcast.

FARM CENTER MEETING HELD LAST EVENING

ANAHEIM, May 10.—Explaining that in the past reductions in school expenditures were principally in capital output and that in the future it must be in current expenses, Felton Browning addressed the Farm Center last night and explained a school costs study that has recently been made by the Orange County Farm Bureau.

In turn he was answered by M. A. Gauer, superintendent of the elementary schools, and J. A. Clayes, principal of the Anaheim Union high school, each explaining the costs of the past few years and the estimated expenditures for 1933-34. The meeting was held at the high school and presided over by Alfred Bonney, president.

In 1931-32 there was a reduction of 89 per cent in capital expenditures and only 9 per cent in current expenses, Mr. Browning pointed out. The assessed valuation dropped 15 per cent (an estimate) last year and entering into this is a tax delinquency of 10 per cent that might increase 25 per cent next year.

The cost charts showed that San Juan Capistrano, Brea Olinda and Tustin were in the high costs group; Huntington Beach, Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton in the medium costs group and Newport Beach, Garden Grove and Santa Ana in the low costs group.

In Anaheim the 1932-33 budget cost per average daily attendance was $218, with the average daily assessed valuation $23.82 and the average daily attendance total cost $236. The average teachers salary was $138 with 17.2 teachers in daily attendance.

Curtailment for next year in the Anaheim high school district will include $1000 in transportation, $1000 in equipment, $2500 in department expense, $1000 in cost of books, $4000 in plant operation, $2000 in maintenance and $10,000 in capital outlay, J. A. Clayes explained in revealing plans for the budget next year.

This will be approximately a 20 per cent cut, a 5 per cent cut having been made in 1931 and a 15 per cent cut last year. This year the cost per pupil was $236 and next year it will not exceed $218 per pupil. The bond of indebtedness has been reduced $75,000 or .009 of the amount available.

The estimated evaluation for the Anaheim district next year is $16,837,347 or a reduction of 12¼ per cent. The capital expenditures will be reduced 50 per cent next year and adult education will be put on a self sustaining basis or done away with. Teachers contracts will not be given until after the budget has been submitted, it was decided.

Advocating that the state support an entire program of education, M. A. Gauer declared that an adequate cost per child should be found and then established over the state and that there should be a single salary schedule, all things being equal. He declared that the Anaheim elementary school budget could not be greatly reduced over last year as Anaheim already has one of the lowest salary schedules in the state with relation of size and wealth of other cities and yet that the schools are efficiently run.

Anaheim Police Notes

ANAHEIM, May 10.—Thrown from his bicycle Alfonso Palomares of Olive was taken to the Anaheim Sanitarium last night with a fractured skull following an accident that occurred at Bush and Broadway streets when he collided with a Ford sedan driven by Albert Toussau of Anaheim.

W. McCarter was sentenced to the county jail for 25 days yesterday by Judge Henry Kuchel who found him guilty of petty theft.

ANAHEIM PERSONALS

ANAHEIM, May 10.—A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ted Payne of Anaheim last night in the Anaheim Sanitarium.

APPLICATIONS FOR BEER SALE PERMITS FILED

ANAHEIM, May 10.—Applications to sell or manufacture 3.2 per cent beer were submitted to the city council last night by 12 persons desiring to retail or wholesale licenses. Following a recess for investigation the licenses were granted.

Those granted class "A" licenses were John E. Schwartz, T. Meri and Maud Meisenheimer; class "B" licenses, W. G. Rumfelt, L. L. Hall, W. A. Williams and Jacob Rosenwein and class "C" licenses, Spencer E. Sully, Martin Del Giorgio, Leslie B. Harrison, C. A. Musch and the General Bottling and Distributing Works.

Besides the sumbitting of monthly reports by heads of departments two resolutions were adopted by the board of trustees, one calling for all weeds and rank growth to be eradicated as a fire preventative measure and the other asking for bids on job printing and legal advertising to be in on or before June 13. The notice will be published in the Anaheim Gazette.

Alva E. Hargrave submitted at $2500 renewal policy on the city.

The monthly reports showed a balance of all city funds to be $158,394.02, the public service department bringing in a total collection of $16,801.31, business license permits, $1584.40, $84.55 in fees for building permits, $14.60 in fees collected by the electrician department, $265 collected as fines in the police court.

The total amount of taxes collected for April were $14,389.56 bringing the amount for the second installment to $82,268.79.

The water level on May 1 was 130 feet and 5 inches. During April the deep well turbine ran a total of 458 hours and 50 minutes and pumped 37,091,500 gallons of water.

Chief of Police James S. Boulding reported 23 arrests made in April and of this number there were 10 drunk, four for other departments, two drunk driving, two petty thefts, one possession of liquor and four warrants, section 154, C. V. A.

Judge Frank Tausch reported 14 violators paid their fines and were released, two committed to the county jail, four given suspended sentences, four remanded to the juvenile court and one operator's license revoked.

Aid was given to 44 families or 179 individuals, according to Mrs. Mona Price, head of the welfare department at an average of $3.13 per day. There was $94.08 spent on staple groceries and clothing and a total amount of 12,740 pounds of government flour distributed.

THREE INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE WRECK

ANAHEIM, May 10.—In an automobile crash at Five Points intersection early yesterday afternoon three persons were injured who were in the car driving with H. P. Frahm of Pine Knot, Calif. The injured were Mrs. H. P. Frahm, Donald Frahm, age three, and Mrs. H. Smith, all with cuts and bruises.

Frahm's car collided with the Ford coupe driven by William Wish of Route 1, Box 380. According to a report filed with police Wish was traveling on Lincoln avenue and the other car was coming off West street when it was struck in the rear end.

B. & P. W. CLUB TO MEET ON THURSDAY

ANAHEIM, May 10.—J. S. Arnold, faculty member at the Fullerton junior college and member of the social science department, will address the Business and Professional Women's club tomorrow night at 6:30 o'clock in the Marigold cafe. The speaker will talk on "The New Deal in International Affairs."

Mrs. E. Kate McCullah will present the Spinsters in a tap dance. This group includes Marjorie Haster, Katherine McCullah, Margaret Collins and Jewell Cawthorn.

New officers will preside for the first time when Vincenta Carelton in the chair.

SHEFFER FUNERAL TO BE ON THURSDAY

ANAHEIM, May 10.—Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock for William T. Sheffer of Anaheim who passed away yesterday at his home. The services will be conducted from the chapel of Hilgenfeld funeral parlors with the Rev. Arthur F. Ritchey of the Church of Christ officiating.

Interment will be in the Melrose Abbey mausoleum.

The Parthenon in Athens has a color scheme which includes red, blue and gold.

MAKE ARREST FOR THEFT OF FACTORY FLOOR

James Fite, 33, 2011 South Halliday street, was lodged in the county jail this morning, charged with the investigation of a felony charge, which involved the theft of hardwood flooring valued at $275 and plumbing fixtures.

Fite is charged with removing about 75 by 75 square feet of hardwood flooring from the old gum factory on Evergeen street. The flooring was carefully removed from the factory and loaded in a truck, according to reports at the cheriff's office.

Fite is also charged with stealing plumbing fixtures from three vacant houses on Evergreen street. Officers said he has admitted the theft of the flooring but denies the theft of the plumbing fixtures.

Neighbors are reported to have seen him with a load of lumber on his truck and to have seen him load a wash tub on the truck from one of the vacant houses.

The arrest was made by Deputy Sheriff L. H. Nicholson.

ASSEMBLY MAY MAKE CHANGE IN WATER ACT

Word has been received here that the Orange county water bill is being amended today in the assembly so that any city that is in the district and at some future time would import water through any agency other than the district itself would be released of any future tax on water importation up to the percentage of the total amount of water used which is secured from this outside source.

That is, if the city secured 50 per cent of its future water from this outside agency and the district had a 10 cent tax for importation of water the city would pay only five cents.

It is said that the amendment was made at the request of Newport Beach and is in line with the offer that was made to Metropolitan cities early in the negotiations for the measure.

Need for stabilization of Orange county's water supply was stressed yesterday by LeRoy Lyon, supervisor from the third district. He said that after 20 years in this county he knews the need for stabilization of the supply and recognizes the need for some agency to protect water rights and direct flood control.

He said: "I have been asked many times to express my opinion of the proposed Orange county water district as outlined in Senate bill No. 1201 now before the state assembly. I have not had the time to make a close study of the measure since it has not been before the board of supervisors. Because I have not studied the bill thoroughly I do not feel that I am in a position to say directly as to whether or not it will accomplish the purpose for which it is intended.

"However, anyone who has lived in Orange county for the past 20 years, as I have, knows the need for stabilizing our water supply and I recognize the necessity for some agency through which we can protect water rights, and import water, as well as control floods.

"The people who are supporting the water district will have been working on the whole problem for many years, and the fact that they have brought together so many interests that formerly were fighting each other, indicates that we can and will get together in a constructive solution of our water problems in the Santa Ana basin in Orange county."

PLUMBING FIXTURES TAKEN FROM HOMES

Sheriff's officers today were investigating the activities of new type of burglar who has, apparently, a "yen" for bathroom and other plumbing fixtures.

According to a report filed at the sheriff's office by J. H. Farrell, real estate broker, three empty houses on Evergreen street have been burglarized, and in each case plumbing fixtures were stolen.

A complete toilet, wash tub faucets, witchen and outside faucets were taken from 2038 Evergreen street; outside faucets and kitchen faucets from 2036 Evergreen, and kitchen faucets, a wash tub and fixtures from 2050 Evergreen street.

KOLBERG FUNERAL IS SET FOR THURSDAY

Funeral services for Otto Kolberg, 48, well known Santa Ana automobile man, who committed suicide Monday night by inhaling gas, as he lay in the bathtub at his home at 307 West Chestnut street, will be held at 3 p. m. Thursday from the Harrell and Brown funeral parlors, it was announced today.

Interment will be made in Fairhaven cemetery.

Coroner Earl Abbey, who made an investigation of the death announced today there would be no inquest, in view of the fact that Kolberg left a suicide note, in which he stated that he was tired of living.

BOYS ARRESTED FOR SERIES OF THEFTS

A number of burglaries in Silverado canyon which have been perplexing officers for several months, were cleared up today with the arrest of four "baby bandits."

All four of the boys were around 12 and 13 years of age. They have been turned over to juvenile authorities.

Burglaries in Silverado canyon during the past several months included the theft of various articles from cabins, garages, a store and a schoolhouse. Fruit, candy, cigarettes, a little money, tools and other articles were taken.

The thefts were cleared up through the efforts of Deputy Sheriffs E. E. Perry, Art Eells and Herman Zabel.

Safety Officer Shows Pictures To 20-30 Club

George Peterkin, California Highway patrol officer, in charge of safety to school children in the county, was the principal speaker before the regular meeting of the Santa Ana 20-30 club, held yesterday.

Showing several reels of motion pictures, Peterkin's talk was instructive as well as interesting, showing the chief causes of accidents in school zones, which included running out into the street, leaving and boarding school busses and careless bicycle riding.

The meeting yesterday was in charge of Glenn Rathbun. One new member, Heber Fowler, was initiated into the club and Harry Wilde was appointed scoutmaster for the troop which is to be sponsored by the club.

Ferris Scott, scoutmaster for the Sea Scouts troop told plans for the Orange County Sea Scout Regatta to be held May 27. Birthday talks were made by Paul Dale and Hume West.

RAISE CHICKENS

Raise chickens, sell your eggs, meat and other produce right from your front door. It can be done on this 3-acre ranch located on the highway right where the public goes for such supplies. There's a good house, plenty of high-class equipment, some oranges, and lots of room for expansion. At the price this can be had for, it should not easily be passed up.

Editorial Features

AN INVENTOR DIES

Dr. Alphonso Rockwell, the inventor of the electric chair, died the other day with few people realizing this distinguishment. At the time he invented the electric chair it was devised as a reform, a more humane method of taking life than the gallows being desired. Dr. Rockwell worked with two other physicians and Thomas A. Edison on the task of inventing the electric chair. The first time it was used was in 1890.

Dr. Rockwell was opposed to capital punishment. The people are now getting ready to do away with capital punishment altogether. There is today so much abhorrence of the idea of killing a man in atonement for a crime, that it is actually difficult to get convictions where the penalty will be death, whether by means of the gallows, the electric chair, or the gas chamber.

Mankind today knows too much about the circumstances of birth and environment and chance, and their effect upon the individual, to bring themselves to vote, when on a jury, in such a way as to cause the death of any individual. Rather than do that jurymen and women welcome delays and whatever way out is offered. It is more than human nature can stand, to pass a judgment upon another, which will take from him his life. No other choice being offered a criminal will be acquitted. Were the alternative not so terrible the murderer would not find his way so easy. Even an individual who professes to believe in capital punishment, when on a jury and confronted with the task of condemning another human being to death, will err on the side of giving him the benefit of whatever shadow of a doubt there may be regarding his guilt.

Warden Lawes is of the opinion that fewer murderers would be at large if there were not capital punishment.

Hollywood chorus girls, though beautiful, are not dumb, reports a California professor of psychology who tested 54 of them. Perhaps the girls did best in the tests where figures were involved.

SPRING ENSEMBLE FOR HITCH-HIKERS

Erik Magnussen, internationally noted silversmith hitch-hiked from Chicago to Los Angeles, arriving at the latter place yesterday. "Hitch-hiking is easy," he said in an interview yesterday, "if you are sartorially correct and nonchalant in your approach." For his journey he dressed in his Sunday best, dark suit, beret, spats, a silver-headed cane, and a diamond stickpin. It took him three months to make the journey and so in order to maintain the perfection of detail of his traveling ensemble he must have replenished some of his outfit along the way—or else possibly had his wardrobe trunk forwarded from place to place. Anyhow his experience seems to have convinced him that it is all in the way you dress. It reminds one of Mrs. Atherton's advice to women in her book of memoirs that whether they can afford to or not they should dress well.

Both these people would probably tell anyone who asked them how they were to dress well when they are out of a job and need food more than clothes that where there is a will, there is a way—even to hitch-hiking in spats carrying a silver-headed cane and wearing a diamond stick-pin.

Probably Mr. Magnussen hasn't heard of the hitch-hiker story which is going the rounds here. A good Samaritan picked up a thumbing individual along the road. After a short distance the motorist missed his watch. At once he demanded that the hitch-hiker give him "that watch." Soon after he let the hiker out and sometime later when he got home he found his own watch on his dresser and the stranger's watch in his right hand pocket where he had demanded that he put it.

"We would have better government if fewer people voted," says Prof. Raymond Moley. Certain Republican congressmen buried in November's Democratic landslide probably will agree.

ROCKEFELLERS DISMISS RIVERA

During the last few months Diego Rivera has lost caste with some of his original following in the United States, who apparently have felt that he has lost the social consciousness which permeated his early work. The success that he has met with in the United States, these people maintained, had a tendency to commercialize his work which formerly had been more spiritual. The action of Rockefeller center in dismissing him yesterday should reinstate him, for the charges seem to be that the tone of his murals were too radical, though a sketch of the murals was shown to the Rockefeller family before the contract was entered into. The three murals upon which he has been working depict "human intelligence in control of the forces of nature." Three months ago the artist finished murals at the Detroit Institute of Art which have been accorded acclaim and attention.

We will hear more of the details of the dismissal of Rivera yesterday, for he will have his say, and the Rockefeller family will have theirs.

Some months ago the magazine "Creative Art" carried illustrations of some of the art pieces that had been rejected in Radio City, comparing them with those that had been accepted. It was apparent that there was a pronounced difference of opinion regarding the relative worth of the things that had been rejected and those that had been accepted, with the artists adversely critical of the taste displayed at certain points in Radio City. We may expect to hear from the artistic element regarding this dismissal of Diego Rivera.

THEN AND NOW

The Financial and Commercial Chronicle is the organ of the financial interests of the country. It is a bulky weekly journal packed with highly valuable reading matter and statistics pertaining to our commercial and financial affairs. It must be a very expensive business enterprise, costly in its management and editorial staff, and very costly in printing and paper bills.

What is of interest to us today as we run over its pages week by week is not only the scarcity of its advertisements, but the changed character of those the weekly now carries. In 1928 and 1929, there were dozens of pages of advertisements of investment propositions. New stocks, new bonds, both corporation and foreign national securities of every kind were offered to the buying public. Beside, there were the announcements of dividends declared by numerous corporations, advertisements of brokerage and banking concerns. From the standpoint of advertising those must have been very fat years.

All this is absent today. Instead, there are announcements of protective committees of bondholders calling for the deposit of bonds which have defaulted, or corporations announcing liquidation plans, and a very few dividend announcements. All of which is comprehended within two or three pages. Surely, the financial world, the promoting gentry of that world, have fallen upon dry and unprofitable times.

GERMAN TRADE GOES TO LONDON

Those people inclined to "see red" at the anti-Semitic program of the Nazis will be consoled with the news from London that Germany has lost more than fifteen million dollars in fur trade to England. The London Daily Herald reported last week that Jewish dealers from France, Belgium, Holland, Italy, Poland, and the Balkans were arriving in London for last Monday's fur auction. Except for the Nazi anti-Semitic program the trade would be divided equally between London and Leipzig. Furthermore the London Daily Herald estimates that trade amounting to more than $27,000,000 has been diverted from Leipzig to London. The Leipzig fur market being practically bankrupt.

There are forces as powerful and effectual as war which, without concerted effort, apparently, are brought to bear on nations which violate the sense of justice and righteousness held by the people of the world. And they are forces which cannot be escaped. They are nothing more subtle than the natural reactions of mankind to those things which violate his senses.

Germans Themselves Told The Propaganda

San Francisco Chronicle

Americans with friends or contacts in Germany are still receiving government-inspired letters, all to the same effect. They deny the supposed "atrocity tales," which they attribute to "Jewish propaganda," and they explain that the anti-Semitic movement is directed, not at the German Jews, but at the postwar influx of Polish and Russian Jews, who are not German in culture or loyalty, and some of whom are communists.

All of which only shows how little the Germans are permitted to know of the real state of opinion abroad. Very few "atrocity tales" were published in America even in the beginning, and there have been none since. It is conceded in Germany that some of these stories were true, and it is agred in America that none of them were important. They are not what excites America. And the indignant protests have come mostly from Christians, not from Jewish sources.

The real protest is not against irresponsible tales, but against the things officially announced by the government itself. It was not "Jewish propaganda," but Bernard Rust, Prussian Minister of Education, who announced his official act in dismissing thirty professors from Berlin and Cologne universities. And Ferdinand Blumenthal and Franz Friedmann, cancer and tuberculosis specialists; Eugene Mittwoch, Orientalist; Walter Norden, philologist; Issar Schur, mathematician, and Julius Poworny, Celtic linguist, are not postwar Polish immigrant Jews. They are German scholars of already recognized standing. Nobody has spread any "lies" that their ears or noses were cut off. But the world—not the Jewish, but the Christian world—regards it as a reversion to barbarism to expel them from the ranks of German scholarship. The authority for the statement that they have been so expelled is the Minister of Education, who did it.

One sweet use of adversity is that it compels people to learn to change their minds. There is less hide-bound conservatism in this country, and there is less wild-eyed radicalism, than there was a few years ago.

Today's radicals are by no means sure that they want to see capital and the profit system wiped off the face of the earth. Today's conservatives are beginning to learn that economic injustice is loaded with dynamite. And some very eminent representatives of each faction are displaying an open-mindedness that would have been impossible to either, a few years ago.

It is easy for us to believe that the country is "going radical"—but that is not the case at all. The country is going realistic.

What we are witnessing is a trend toward the adoption of socialistic methods to accomplish capitalistic purposes—which is another way of saying that the class-conscious distinction between the two terms has less meaning than it has ever had before.

State socialism has all the theoretical perfection of a systematic philosophy, but the people of this country have not been grappling with theories. They have been confronted with practical, everyday realities. They have found by experience that they want to preserve certain of the practical realities that socialism would outlaw. They have found that they must destroy some of the tragic flaws of a capitalistic laissez-faire. They are making choices—and the distinctions they draw are not theoretical ones.

The most hopeful thing in our country today, is the fact that a great many Americans have stopped crusading for isms, have stopped viewing with alarm, and have begun searching, testing, thinking.

THE SHOW-OFF

I used to brave belated snow
And don my old galoshes,
Convinced each year that I would grow
Beans, peas, and corn and squashes.
Moreover, I was sure that my
Hard, unremitting labors
Would be observed and envied by
My next door neighbors.

And so they were for quite a spell;
The pumpkins blossomed early,
The lettuce, in a sunny dell,
Grew green and crisp and curly.
The worms, though why, I had no guess,
Few cabbages devoured,
The beans, wtihin a month or less
Superbly flowered.

But just with victory in sight,
When prospects all seemed cheery,
I found I could not sleep at night;
My legs and arms were weary.
And so I had to look around
Through many a nearby village
Until a hireling I had found
To do my tillage.

But now, although my garden thrives
The while I wander through it,
I find my neighbors and their wives
Decline to come to view it.
No longer by the shaded wall
Do I observe them lurking—
I'm sure they only came at all
To watch me working.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

PROFITS IN PROPHETS

Mr. Roosevelt is playing rather freely away from the bag at the base.

He seems willing to risk plays on the assumptions of the prophets.

This is something new in officialdom.

Officialdom is notoriously conservative.

Officialdom has always liked to play safe.

Officialdom has always stuck close to the routineer and has, at best, but flirted with the radical, the innovator, the pioneer, the prophet.

"Mankind has honored its destroyers and persecuted its benefactors," says Dean Inge, "building palaces for living brigands, and tombs for long-dead prophets."

Mr. Roosevelt has at least suggested by some of his moves that he might be willing to give a trial to the living prophets and bring to trial the living brigands.

This, I repeat, is something new under the sun in American political life.

I write a bit under what seems to me to be the half-baked philosophy of the farm bill.

I am not at all convinced that monetary inflation would have been at all necessary if we had seen earlier the suicidal nature of the pell-mell deflation to which we committed ourselves.

I think the forestry brigades smack of the artificial and the inadequate.

I think the idea of shoving more folk out of the city back onto the farm is just another factor producing rather than preventing a peasantry.

There are many aspects of the Roosevelt program to which I must bring hearty dissent.

But, for all my dissent on details, I am enormously cheered by the seeming willingness of the President to try out ideas.

We Americans like to brag of our pioneer tradition.

"There is no greater disloyalty to the great pioneers of human progress," it has been said, "than to refuse to budge an inch from where they stood."

I am all for the man who dares to try new ideas.

Our Children

EVERYDAY SERVICE

"Maybe he is a very nice boy. The trouble with him is that he is too good for everyday use."

"Now don't say that, Isabelle. He's a perfectly fine boy, head of the class, leader in the Sunday school class, and all that. Everybody speaks highly of him and I wish you would cultivate his acquaintance instead of making up to that Roger's boy who is so rude and plain and crude. That's the word, crude."

"Maybe he is crude. I guess he is at that. But you can have some fun with him and he never says or does a thing out of the way. He isn't head of the class but he is among the first five and that's near enough, believe me. When the teachers want anything done they call on Roger's not St. Michael. And they get it done."

"Wouldn't Michael do it if they asked him?"

"If he could, he would, but how can he do anything when nobody will go along with him? That's what I'm telling you, mother. He is too good for everyday use. Last week when we were making out a plan for getting the advertising for the school paper he was in the chair. One of the boys said, "Gosh, stop all this gassing and get down to the job. All we have to do is divide the job among us, each take his share of the list and get to it. Put some backbone into it and less gab, I say."

"Michael called him to order and talked about his poor taste, bad manners, worse English until he left the room and the rest of us followed him. He's a pain in the neck."

There are young people who live in an ideal world where rough talk, hard labor, the smells and the noises and the close contacts with the workaday world are not allowed to intrude. Too good for everyday service usually ends in being no good for any sort of service. It is all very fine to be gentle and clean and learned but what profit is there in it if the goodness is negative in its results? Goodness that is healthy ends in action, in service and is rewarded with applause and affection.

Goodness is an unusual trait but the praise of it by mistaken onlookers is not as uncommon as it ought to be. The healthy young person has no dread of work, nor of personal contacts with workers, in any level of society. They enjoy activity, wholesome speech and sturdy manners. Vitality is attractive to them and achievement wins their hearty applause and support. They withdraw from the one who stands aloof on his pedestal keeping his hands clean and his hair neatly parted.

The essential cleanliness is the mental one. The sort that holds back from an unfair, unjust, mean action. A wholesome mind goes out in warmth to welcome wholesome activities and everyday contacts that result in getting something done, in pushing an idea forward.

Adolescent boys and girls who withdraw from their companions in critical disapproval, who stop to remove every gnat that floats into their mental view are not as healthy in mind and body as they might be. Instead of applauding their priggishness it would be better to talk to them about things of the earth that are earthy like people and their concerns. Instead of approving their chaste withdrawal it would be better to summon them to service even if it meant greasy overalls.

AN INVENTOR DIES

Dr. Alphonso Rockwell, the inventor of the electric chair, died the other day with few people realizing this distinguishment. At the time he invented the electric chair it was devised as a reform, a more humane method of taking life than the gallows being desired. Dr. Rockwell worked with two other physicians and Thomas A. Edison on the task of inventing the electric chair. The first time it was used was in 1890.

Dr. Rockwell was opposed to capital punishment. The people are now getting ready to do away with capital punishment altogether. There is today so much abhorrence of the idea of killing a man in atonement for a crime, that it is actually difficult to get convictions where the penalty will be death, whether by means of the gallows, the electric chair, or the gas chamber.

Mankind today knows too much about the circumstances of birth and environment and chance, and their effect upon the individual, to bring themselves to vote, when on a jury, in such a way as to cause the death of any individual. Rather than do that jurymen and women welcome delays and whatever way out is offered. It is more than human nature can stand, to pass a judgment upon another, which will take from him his life. No other choice being offered a criminal will be acquitted. Were the alternative not so terrible the murderer would not find his way so easy. Even an individual who professes to believe in capital punishment, when on a jury and confronted with the task of condemning another human being to death, will err on the side of giving him the benefit of whatever shadow of a doubt there may be regarding his guilt.

Warden Lawes is of the opinion that fewer murderers would be at large if there were not capital punishment.

Hollywood chorus girls, though beautiful, are not dumb, reports a California professor of psychology who tested 54 of them. Perhaps the girls did best in the tests where figures were involved.

SPRING ENSEMBLE FOR HITCH-HIKERS

Erik Magnussen, internationally noted silversmith hitch-hiked from Chicago to Los Angeles, arriving at the latter place yesterday. "Hitchhiking is easy," he said in an interview yesterday, "if you are sartorially correct and nonchalant in your approach." For his journey he dressed in his Sunday best, dark suit, beret, spats, a silver-headed cane, and a diamond stickpin. It took him three months to make the journey and so in order to maintain the perfection of detail of his traveling ensemble he must have replenished some of his outfit along the way—or else possibly had his wardrobe trunk forwarded from place to place. Anyhow his experience seems to have convinced him that it is all in the way you dress. It reminds one of Mrs. Atherton's advice to women in her book of memoirs that whether they can afford to or not they should dress well.

Both these people would probably tell anyone who asked them how they were to dress well when they are out of a job and need food more than clothes that where there is a will, there is a way—even to hitch-hiking in spats carrying a silver-headed cane and wearing a diamond stick-pin.

Probably Mr. Magnussen hasn't heard of the hitch-hiker story which is going the rounds here. A good Samaritan picked up a thumbing individual along the road. After a short distance the motorist missed his watch. At once he demanded that the hitch-hiker give him "that watch." Soon after he let the hiker out and sometime later when he got home he found his own watch on his dresser and the stranger's watch in his right hand pocket where he had demanded that he put it.

"We would have better government if fewer people voted," says Prof. Raymond Moley. Certain Republican congressmen buried in November's Democratic landslide probably will agree.

ROCKEFELLERS DISMISS RIVERA

During the last few months Diego Rivera has lost caste with some of his original following in the United States, who apparently have felt that he has lost the social consciousness which permeated his early work. The success that he has met with in the United States, these people maintained, had a tendency to commercialize his work which formerly had been more spiritual. The action of Rockefeller center in dismissing him yesterday should reinstate him, for the charges seem to be that the tone of his murals were too radical, though a sketch of the murals was shown to the Rockefeller family before the contract was entered into. The three murals upon which he has been working depict "human intelligence in control of the forces of nature." Three months ago the artist finished murals at the Detroit Institute of Art which have been accorded acclaim and attention.

We will hear more of the details of the dismissal of Rivera yesterday, for he will have his say, and the Rockefeller family will have theirs.

Some months ago the magazine "Creative Art" carried illustrations of some of the art pieces that had been rejected in Radio City, comparing them with those that had been accepted. It was apparent that there was a pronounced difference of opinion regarding the relative worth of the things that had been rejected and those that had been accepted, with the artists adversely critical of the taste displayed at certain points in Radio City. We may expect to hear from the artistic element regarding this dismissal of Diego Rivera.

THEN AND NOW

The Financial and Commercial Chronicle is the organ of the financial interests of the country. It is a bulky weekly journal packed with highly valuable reading matter and statistics pertaining to our commercial and financial affairs. It must be a very expensive business enterprise, costly in its management and editorial staff, and very costly in printing and paper bills.

What is of interest to us today as we run over its pages week by week is not only the scarcity of its advertisements, but the changed character of those the weekly now carries. In 1928 and 1929, there were dozens of pages of advertisements of investment propositions. New stocks, new bonds, both corporation and foreign national securities of every kind were offered to the buying public. Beside, there were the announcements of dividends declared by numerous corporations, advertisements of brokerage and banking concerns. From the standpoint of advertising those must have been very fat years.

All this is absent today. Instead, there are announcements of protective committees of bondholders calling for the deposit of bonds which have defaulted, or corporations announcing liquidation plans, and a very few dividend announcements. All of which is comprehended within two or three pages. Surely, the financial world, the promoting gentry of that world, have fallen upon dry and unprofitable times.

GERMAN TRADE GOES TO LONDON

Those people inclined to "see red" at the anti-Semitic program of the Nazis will be consoled with the news from London that Germany has lost more than fifteen million dollars in fur trade to England. The London Daily Herald reported last week that Jewish dealers from France, Belgium, Holland, Italy, Poland, and the Balkans were arriving in London for last Monday's fur auction. Except for the Nazi anti-Semitic program the trade would be divided equally between London and Leipzig. Furthermore the London Daily Herald estimates that trade amounting to more than $27,000,000 has been diverted from Leipzig to London. The Leipzig fur market being practically bankrupt.

There are forces as powerful and effectual as war which, without concerted effort, apparently, are brought to bear on nations which violate the sense of justice and righteousness held by the people of the world. And they are forces which cannot be escaped. They are nothing more subtle than the natural reactions of mankind to those things which violate his senses.

Germans Themselves Told The Propaganda

San Francisco Chronicle

Americans with friends or contacts in Germany are still receiving government-inspired letters, all to the same effect. The sale in question was that of the northeast corner with 25 feet frontage, owned by John Leck, and sold to L. J. Carden and C. G. Seaman. The new owners planned to raze the old buildings and erect a modern structure, probably of small store rooms one story in height.

Orange packing was well under way in the Yorba Linda Citrus association packing house, and four cars already had been sent to the eastern markets.

Thoughts On Modern Life

PROFITS IN PROPHETS

Mr. Roosevelt is playing rather freely away from the bag at the base.

He seems willing to risk plays on the assumptions of the prophets.

This is something new in officialdom.

Officialdom is notoriously conservative.

Officialdom has always liked to play safe.

Officialdom has always stuck close to the routineer and has, at best, but flirted with the radical, the innovator, the pioneer, the prophet.

"Mankind has honored its destroyers and persecuted its benefactors," says Dean Inge, "building palaces for living brigands, and tombs for long-dead prophets."

Mr. Roosevelt has at least suggested by some of his moves that he might be willing to give a trial to the living prophets and bring to trial the living brigands.

This, I repeat, is something new under the sun in American political life.

I write a bit under what seems to me to be the half-baked philosophy of the farm bill.

I am not at all convinced that monetary inflation would have been at all necessary if we had seen earlier the suicidal nature of the pell-mell deflation to which we committed ourselves.

I think the forestry brigades smack of the artificial and the inadequate.

I think the idea of shoving more folk out of the city back onto the farm is just another factor producing rather than preventing a peasantry.

There are many aspects of the Roosevelt program to which I must bring hearty dissent.

But, for all my dissent on details, I am enormously cheered by the seeming willingness of the President to try out ideas.

We Americans like to brag of our pioneer tradition.

"There is no greater disloyalty to the great pioneers of human progress," it has been said, "than to refuse to budge an inch from where they stood."

I am all for the man who dares to try new ideas.

Our Children

EVERYDAY SERVICE

"Maybe he is a very nice boy. The trouble with him is that he is too good for everyday use."

"Now don't say that, Isabelle. He's a perfectly fine boy, head of the class, leader in the Sunday school class, and all that. Everybody speaks highly of him and I wish you would cultivate his acquaintance instead of making up to that Roger's boy who is so rude and plain and crude. That's the word, crude."

"Maybe he is crude. I guess he is at that. But you can have some fun with him and he never says or does a thing out of the way. He isn't head of the class but he is among the first five and that's near enough, believe me. When the teachers want anything done they call on Roger's not St. Michael. And they get it done."

"Wouldn't Michael do it if they asked him?"

"If he could, he would, but how can he do anything when nobody will go along with him? That's what I'm telling you, mother. He is too good for everyday use. Last week when we were making out a plan for getting the advertising for the school paper he was in the chair. One of the boys said, "Gosh, stop all this gassing and get down to the job. All we have to do is divide the job among us, each take his share of the list and get to it. Put some backbone into it and less gab, I say."

"Michael called him to order and talked about his poor taste, bad manners, worse English until he left the room and the rest of us followed him. He's a pain in the neck."

There are young people who live in an ideal world where rough talk, hard labor, the smells and the noises and the close contacts with the workaday world are not allowed to intrude. Too good for everyday service usually ends in being no good for any sort of service. It is all very fine to be gentle and clean and learned but what profit is there in it if the goodness is negative in its results? Goodness that is healthy ends in action, in service and is rewarded with applause and affection.

Goodness is an unusual trait but the praise of it by mistaken onlookers is not as uncommon as it ought to be. The healthy young person has no dread of work, nor of personal contacts with workers, in any level of society. They enjoy activity, wholesome speech and sturdy manners. Vitality is attractive to them and achievement wins their hearty applause and support. They withdraw from the one who stands aloof on his pedestal keeping his hands clean and his hair neatly parted.

The essential cleanliness is the mental one. The sort that holds back from an unfair, unjust, mean action. A wholesome mind goes out in warmth to welcome wholesome activities and everyday contacts that result in getting something done, in pushing an idea forward.

Adolescent boys and girls who withdraw from their companions in critical disapproval, who stop to remove every gnat that floats into their mental view are not as healthy in mind and body as they might be. Instead of applauding their priggishness it would be better to talk to them about things of the earth that are earthy like people and their concerns. Instead of approving their chaste withdrawal it would be better to summon them to service even if it meant greasy overalls.
